Union events calendar filling up

LUKE PARRIS
 staff writer

Guilford's Student Union has planned many activities for this semester. In fact, there are already over fifty events planned, including concerts, dances, recreational activities and a lecture.

Andy Swanson, the Student Union president, wants to have enough going on so that there is "no excuse for having nothing to do."

This year the Student Union is co-sponsoring, with Tri Beta Biology Club, its first-ever lecture. Gerry Ellis will be presenting his lecture, "Great Apes," on September 13.

The Student Union is also going to be sponsoring several regular events. Coffeeshouses will be held on Thursday nights, while every other Tuesday night they will host a planned recreational event such as roller skating, bowling, pool, putt-putt golf, etc. Also,

Union members playing Twister at their recent Open House

Sunday matinees will be shown in the Underground.

The Union is planning to sponsor dances, comedians, and one or two concerts. A disco dance is already planned for September 16.

Printed calendars of the planned events will be available for every student.

During the organizational fair, the Student Union got the names of over fifty people interested in getting involved. If you are still interested in the Student Union, they meet Tuesday nights at 9:00.

CAMPUS SAFETY REPORT

AUGUST 21-30

Larceny • August 22 • 3:00pm
 A Student reported her CD player missing from her car. The car was unlocked for a 15 minute period only, while she was unloading it. She was advised to file a report with the Greensboro Police Department in addition to one with campus security. The value of the equipment lost was approximately $300.

Harassing Phone Calls • Aug. 22
 A report was filed with the security department by a female student claiming she had received numerous hang-up calls during the night. The situation is currently under investigation with the assistance of the telecommunications manager.

Sexual Assault • August 30 • 1:00pm

A female student reported that she was assaulted by an unknown individual on the 2nd floor of the Hege library. The student was on a couch asleep when she awoke to a man standing over her. The individual was a light skinned African-American male, 6'4", very muscular, bald and clean shaven, between 24 and 27 years of age. He was wearing black running pants and a gray tank top.

UNION PRESENTS . . .

GERRY ELLIS

PHOTOGRAPHER/LECTURER

Firsthand experiences with endangered creatures in their wild homes are what photographer, conservationist and lecturer Gerry Ellis brings to his audiences. His lectures combine stories of adventures in the wilds with a creative multi-image slide program backed by original music and sound effects.
