

Every day gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender people are silenced.

What can you do to end the silence?

Youth across North America are assembling to conduct the largest GLBT youth event of 1999.

Last year, GLBT students and their allies at over 200 colleges and high schools were silent from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in protest of the silence forced upon GLBT people. The Day of Silence Project is a day to show the world how silent our world would really be without the input of GLBT people and their allies.

For more information about participating in the Day of Silence Project, contact Rose White at x3225.

Graduation, cont'd from page 1

people will be able to engage with whatever I end up saying."

Richard Morton, a recently retired Guilford English professor, will be the main speaker for the ceremony.

Graduating senior Allie Randall said, "I'm excited to graduate. I think we've all grown a lot at Guilford — through classes, activities, or related traumas — and now we have the chance to explore the "real world" and do something meaningful with our lives."

As for life after graduation, that is completely up to the senior. Guilford College can only take them so far.

"I've got the chance to create something — a life — completely on my own, which is as exciting as it is terrifying. But the next couple years will definitely be interesting... I guess that's all I can ask, really," said Bickerstaffe.

The information desk in Founders has a detailed brochure of the events taking place. If there are any questions about plans for the ceremony, please

Security Briefs

Larceny

March 16th, 8:00 a.m.

A student reported to a Security Officer that her bike was presumed stolen. The bike had been left unsecured outside King when the owner was in class. The bike is described as green with a white seat and handles; estimated value is $5. Case is currently open.

Endangering safety of others

March 18th, 1:04 a.m.

Security officers were at Bryan when they heard the sound of breaking glass. Officers observed two additional bottles being hurled from a 2nd floor suite into the quad area. A resident of the suite from which the bottles came took responsibility for the action. The responsible party cleaned up the mess and the case has been referred to the campus judicial system.

Affray

March 18th, 2:02am

Security Control received a call reporting a possible affray in Bryan Hall. Responding officers spoke with participants of the affray and all parties were requested to return to their residences. Subsequently, officers responded to another report of an affray in Milner Hall involving the same individuals. All parties have been referred to the campus judicial process.

Larceny

March 18th, 3:30 p.m.

A student reported to Control that her bicycle was presumed stolen. Responding Officer noted in a report that the bike is a blue "Free Spirit" women's style with a wide padded seat. The bike was last seen in the Apartments area. Case is currently open.

Medical assist

March 20th, 6:54 p.m.

Security Control received a call from a student at Milner Hall reporting that another student had fallen. Responding Officers found a student who had fallen on the front steps of Milner. EMS was contacted and student was then transported to Moses Cone for observation. Student was later released, case closed.

Vandalism to auto

March 21st, 5:00 p.m.

A student reported to a Security officer that his vehicle had been vandalized. The complainant reported discovering a dent and scratches at the rear of the vehicle after having left it over-night at Founders. There were no witnesses and the case remains open.

Corrections

In an article profiling radio deejays last week, the Guilford radio station's call letters were incorrect. The call letters are WQFS and stand for Quaker Friend School. We apologize for the error.
