

THE JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM PROVED A DECIDED SUCCESS

Brilliant Affair Climax of Season—
Guests From All Points of South
Attend Annual Function.

On Saturday evening, May 6th, the annual Junior-Senior Prom was given by the Juniors in honor of Salem's Seniors. The affair took place on the campus, lovely in its rose decorations, and with its winding paths and natural foliage. The guests began to arrive at eight-thirty and were welcomed in Main Hall by Dr. and Mrs. Howard E. Rondthaler, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Heath, Miss Lula May Stipe, Miss Margaret Albright of the faculty; Miss Ruth Crowell, president of the Junior class, Dr. Guy M. Masten, Miss Elizabeth Gillespie, president of the Senior class, and Mr. William Wright.

The promenade began at eight-forty-five and consisted of twelve ten-minute dates. The handsome date books were of blue suede tooled with the Salem College coat-of-arms. The campus surpassed all previous records in beauty. The upper court was never more attractive, with its fountain, surrounded by a wealth of shrubbery, its natural foliage and rose-shaded lights. The pergola, under which punch was served throughout the evening, was covered with roses. The entire campus was a veritable garden. Miss Ruth Rogers, disguised as a fortune-teller, foretold the fates of the promenaders.

Supper was served at ten-thirty o'clock under a canopy done in pastel shades and festooned with roses. The tables were arranged like the petals of a flower, the center of which was formed by a large basket of roses. The supper consisted of a salad course, an ice course, and coffee. Miss Ruth Crowell, of the Junior class, welcomed all the guests most graciously. Miss Elizabeth Gillespie, of the Senior class and Mr. Linville K. Martin, representing the men, responded with very attractive speeches. Dr. Rondthaler, speaking as guest and host at the same time, addressed those present in his usual charming and entertaining way. Eight couples, dressed in colonial costumes, danced the minuett, and Miss Virginia Dunklee did a most graceful and charming solo dance on a grass covered stage furnished by a natural incline. At the conclusion of supper confetti was distributed, and mirth reigned supreme.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the Robert E. Lee Orchestra.

ATHLETIC MEET AT SALEM

Series of Games and Contests Were Carried Out Last Week.

Salem College, following the belief of all A-1 colleges, attributes part of its success to the fact that it gives its students well rounded development along mental, moral and physical lines. Under the head of physical up-building, great strides have been made in athletics this year, considered one of the most successful in the history of the college. The girls have entered enthusiastically into the following sports: tennis singles, walking, basketball, hockey, tennis doubles, volleyball, baseball and track.

The entire College and Academy celebrated last Monday afternoon in honor of the third great athletic event of the year, the playing of the volleyball and baseball games and the track meet. Volleyball was played first on the upper campus, and aided by the always necessary rooters, the Junior-Freshman team versus the Senior-Sophomore players earned a hard-fought battle, for at the end of the first game, the score stood 15-4, and at the close of the second, 15-3. The outstanding stars of the Junior-Freshman team were Rulfs, who did splendid work at the net, Schaffner and Jenkins. The Senior-Sophs fought bravely in spite of the odds against them and aided by Turlington and Herndon kept their opponent's score down. Line-up, Senior-Sopomore team, M. H. Turlington, H. Stephenson, G. Barger, L. Howell, E. Hunt, S. Herndon, E. Tyler. Line-up Junior Freshman team: J. Hairston, R. Dawson, E. Hanes, A. Rulfs, J. Schaffner, M. Jenkins, R. Jordan.

A small but enthusiastic track team made an enviable record. Bessie Chandler came within seven inches of the record held by the Woman's National Athletic College meet, and sur-

WELCOME, FRIENDS AND ALUMNAE.

We're glad you are here, and extend to you a most cordial welcome. You are an important—even a vital—part of this occasion, the most significant of all the year. We want you with us to review the accomplishments of the past year, and to make plans for a better and greater future.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Miss Ledgeworth Visits Salem.

Miss Legworth has been a recent visitor to our college and Young Woman's Christian Association. Miss Ledgeworth is a student volunteer secretary, and a last year's graduate of North-Western College. The several Salem students who attended the Student Volunteer Meeting in Greensboro several weeks ago, met and greatly admired her. She was the speaker at the evening Vespers held last Sunday in the library. All those who met her, and those who attended the service, know what an inspiring and enthusiastic worker she is. We feel quite fortunate in having had Miss Ledgeworth visit us.

Blue Ridge.

Don't you want to go to Blue Ridge?

STUDENT GOVERNMENT INSTALLATION; NEW OFFICERS TAKE UP DUTIES.

On Monday evening, May 1, 1922, at 6:30 o'clock, the service for installation of officers of Student Government Association was held in Memorial Hall. At this time the officers and council for the current year gave up their duties and the newly elected president and council took up the work.

The old and new councils marched in from opposite sides of the stage singing the Alma Mater. Miss Sara Boren, the retiring president, presided and after expressing great hopes for the association for 1922-23, heard Miss Elizabeth Zachary take the oath of office. The cap and gown were transferred to the new president, who heard the oath of office from the other officers and the council.

Miss Zachary spoke of her appreciation of this great honor, and of the true meaning of Student Self Government. Appointments were made by the president of Miss Rosa James as head of the Point System, Miss Marjorie Hunt as head of the Call-down System, and Miss Estelle Hooks to take charge of the Register. In turn, Dr. Rondthaler, Mrs. Rondthaler, and Miss Stipe responded to Miss Zachary's requests for short talks. These again emphasized the need of individual honor in Student Self Government.

The president asked for amendments to the constitution for next year and after receiving these adjourned the meeting.
