A Keep the Kampus Klean Campaign has been started by the Safety League, and Salem is in for a spring house-cleaning. An attitude of approval and a spirit of co-operation on the part of the student body are absolutely necessary to the success of the movement. We have no criminally inclined student who go around, scattering boxes, wrappings, and peelings merely for the pleasure of marring the campus, but we do have a large number of well-intentioned but thoughtless individuals who, when they stroll in spring, allow their minds to dwell on such lofty things, such as "What shall I get to wear?", and "Does blue really become me?", and "You know she said—", and "Threads and ripples, in two more weeks—", that they really can't be concerned with such a low and to-be-taken-for-granted subject as the lawn upon which they tread, and down goes an ugly brown wrapping upon the fresh green grass.

Let's keep our surroundings in harmony with the freshness, and sweetness, and newness of springtime nature, and this inspiring season will be worth more to us. It is impossible to be happy and orderly mentally and spiritually in disorder and confusion. Patronize the garbage cans placed for your convenience in the halls and on the campus.

KEEP THE KAMPUS KLEAN!

The seventh convention of the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs was held in this city, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The Thursday Morning Music Club of Winston-Salem acted as hostess to the visitors who came from all parts of the State, there being twenty-five senior and eighteen junior clubs represented in all.

The North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs has been rendering the people of the state an inestimable service since its organization. It is the clearing house for plans and projects for the advancement of music in the state. It is a medium through which women of culture who are enthused with the spirit of service may direct their energies toward the accomplishment of worth-while things. Much progress has been made in the state in developing interest in music as an enterprise of culture and entertainment, and this has been due in great measure to the hard work of the music clubs of the State and the State Federation.

THE SPRING ATHLETIC PROGRAM OFFERS VARIETY OF SPORTS.

The second landmark in our athletic year has been reached. Hockey and basket-ball for 1922-23 are things of the past and we must begin to prepare for our last great athletic event—field day. This week the baseball practises began and they will continue on every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoon at 4:30 on the hill. We hope that class and college spirit will bring out not only those who have not yet made their seven points for the year but also many of those who have received their letters on sweaters. The practice for those entering track will be held at the same time as the baseball practise. The golf practise will continue according to the schedule for the past weeks. The golf machine will also be ready for use by those who have free time from 9 to 12 on Monday morning.

Every Wednesday afternoon from 3:30-4:30 Miss Jackson will conduct a beginning class in tennis on the court back of the gym. The tennis doubles are also to begin next week. Instead of the usual plan of having each class select players for the spring tournament, a new one has been adopted. Any two girls desiring to enter may do so by handing their names to Adelaide Armfield. The tournament is to be played off just as the singles were last fall. Points will be given for tennis doubles but no cup is offered.

These sports, with swimming, which will begin later, constitute the athletic program for the spring months. When the balmy days come, the outdoors will begin to call us from our work. We all realize the necessity of organizing our play-time as well as our work-time. There is no better way to do this than to enter some organized sport. In so doing we help not only ourselves and our class but also we render a service to our college by raising that thermometer by the Post-office from 70%, where it now stands, all the way to the 100 notch.

FINAL HOCKEY GAME

college dining hall on Monday night, after the final contests of the afternoon. An orchestra composed of Salem music students under the direction of Miss Agnes Pfohl, played as the teams entered and found their places, marked by attractive place-cards at the long table in the center of the room.

Miss Edith Hunt, head of Hockey, introduced Dr. Rondthaler, who, after commenting on the score which gave the Freshmen the victory, told something of the origin of the game and of his delight in the splendid sportsmanship displayed in the contests. He presented the Senior and the Sophomore teams with miniature loving cups, which were accepted by the captains of the teams, Miss Juanita Sprinkle and Miss Katie Holshouser, after which Miss Elizabeth Griffin, president of the Athletic Association, said a few words concerning the success of athletics in the school this year, and the plans for sports for the coming months.

Mr. Edwin J. Heath, the next speaker, was introduced by Miss Hunt, and after his talk the orchestra gave several selections. Other speakers of the evening were Mr. Higgins and Mr. Ingle of the faculty, and Misses Juanita Sprinkle, Louise Young, Katie Holshouser, and Ella B. Jones, captains of the four teams.

Miss Charlotta Jackson, physical director of the College and Academy, to whom much of the success of the day was due, next told of the plans for out-of-door sports for the spring, and announced the Varsity as follows:

Sweaters were presented to the following girls who have made seven points for three consecutive years: Eliza Moore, Ruth Reeves, Edith Hanes, Margaret Russell, and Margaret Smith.

Every class showed its sportsmanship in the class and team songs which were sung during the delightful banquet, and that indefinable Salem Spirit entered into every toast and speech which was given. Good fellowship reigned supreme, and the singing of the "Alma Mater" marked a fitting close for the evening.

DR. AND MRS. RONDTHALER ENTERTAIN

At the end of the last course the great cake was cut and each senior was given one of the thirty-seven slices. Much fun was enjoyed over the finding of the ring, thimble, boot, dime, etc. The Seniors sang a toast to Salem and two songs written especially for the evening set to familiar tunes. After the Alma Mater the guests regretfully said good-bye after proclaiming Dr. and Mrs. Rondthaler a perfect host and hostess.

In addition to the guests of honor the following were present:

Bishop and Mrs. Edward Rondthaler, Rev. and Mrs. J. K. Pfohl, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Pfohl, Mrs. Frank Shaffner, Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Heath, Mr. Higgins, Mr. Ingle, Misses Albright, deBarritt, Leftwich, Frances Jackson, Charlotta Jackson, Smith, Duncan, Webb, Messrs. Herring, Mann, Edward Shepherd, Arthur Spaugh, J. K. Norfleet, Jr., Will Maslin, Taylor Simpson.

AND STILL SOME MORE.

All during the year we have been boosting athletics, and this boosting has accomplished something. Athletically, as in many other ways, this has been an unusually good year. Has been? Is being, rather. At no time has there been a slump of interest—hiking, basket-ball, volley ball, hockey, and golf respectively have claimed the attention of the student body, and row comes track, baseball, tennis, more golf and more hiking for the spring months. Go and study the poster by the postoffice showing the athletic percentage, and then see if you can't be instrumental in raising that of your class by entering some of the spring sports.

The spirit exhibited throughout the year has been something to be proud of. Always there has been a friendly, whole-hearted rivalry between the teams, with defeat taken with a good grace, and victory well borne.

There is little in life but labor,
 Tomorrow may prove but a dream;
 Success is the bride of Endeavor,
 And luck but a meteor's gleam.
