JOKES

Miss deBarritt: "Just why does Wordsworth use this meter?"
Nettie Allen Thomas (brightly)—
To put yo uto sleep."

Gushing Lady: "I think Rev. Taylor is wonderful. He brings home to you things you never saw before."

Practical Man: "He hasn't a thing on that laundry up at college."—
Davidsonian.

A Magazine Romance.

Mr. "McCall", just an "American Boy", grown tall, called on the "Modern Priscilla", the "Elite" of the "Cosmopolitan" village. He hitched his horse to the "Saturday Evening Post", and sat down by his "Youth's Companion".

They went over a "Review of Reviews" of the "Standards" of a "Woman's Home Companion", and the "Outlook" ended in a "Literary Digest" of the "National Republican".

Mr. "Harper's Weekly" visit brought a "Geographical" change, and the "Beauty" was left to "Judge" for herself, which of the "Country Gentlemen" was better for a "Near East Relief".

Julia Bethea (reading Kipling): "This certainly does give one food for thought."

E. Hooks: "Huh! I've got indigestion then."

First Girl: "I love Garber-Davis."
S. G.: "Give me Weidermeyer every time."

Country Cousin: "We've always got the best service from Sears-Roebuck. They're so prompt."—Boll Weevil.

The Railway representatives will be in the office adjoining that of Miss Perryman on Monday afternoon from twelve to two-thirty o'clock to take orders for tickets, abggage checks, and reservations. These will be delivered on the following Monday.
