JOKES

Four-year-old Mary and her friend were taking a walk. As she went gaily lippity-hopping down First Street a big dog, evidently attracted by her exuberance of spirits, ran out from a yard and began to frolic about her.

Followed Instructions Boss—Don't you know that this is a private office? How much did you pay the office boy to let you in?

Lulu on the telephone: "Is this you, Honey?" "Yes, this is Honey, Lulu."

The old lady came out of a half-loose as the train approached a station.

tion. "Where are we, Bobby?" she asked. "I don't know, grandma," replied the little fellow.

John: "Look how high that ship is floating out of the water." Louise: "Oh, didn't you know, her it's low tide just now."

How much do you earn, dear? "About $1,500 a year." "But we can't live on that!" "Oh, but I get paid $7,000!"

Sounds Reasonable Freshman: "How did the cliff dwellers keep warm in the winter time?" Soph: "Why, I guess they used the mountain ranges. Now don't ask any more foolish questions."

"Too bad Shakespeare wasn't born in London." "Why so?" "I said he was on that exam."

"Bring me another sandwich please." "Will there be anything else?" "Yes, a paper weight. That last sandwich blew away."

A proposal is like a telephone—ring at the end of the line!

Escape. "You have been a good boy. Papa's going to buy you a nice violin." "Goodie! Now I won't have to get my hair cut."

Business. Mr. Jacobs—I sell you dot coat at a grand sacrifice. Customer—But you say that of all your goods. How do you make a living?

Doctor—What! Your dyspepsia is no better? Did you follow my advice and drink hot water one hour before breakfast? Patient—I did my best, but I couldn't keep it up more than ten minutes.

The Last Payment. "My dear," said the old man tenderly, "today is our diamond wedding, and I have a little surprise for you." "Yes," said the silver-haired wife.

Italy Is Safe. Mussolini's whitehouse spokesman gives forth as follows: "The rest of Europe may be going to the dogs, but Italy is now safely beyond that danger."

Sold. Flo—A penny for your thoughts, Freddie. Fred—I was thinking that I should like to kiss you. Flo (Promptly)—Here's a dime. Never mind the change.

The Retor Terrific. A spinster living in a London suburb was shocked at the language used by two men repairing telegraph wires close to her home.

Miss Minnie Smith Addresses History Club (Continued from Page One.) a contrast to the neat, tidy and tiny farms of Switzerland. Italy is not a very progressive nation and this is due to the militaristic government which puts the best men in the army and also to the great influence of the church which is non-progressive.

Student Tours In Europe

The present college generation is finding the world stage the important one for its study and education, and is more than ever turning to realities to supplement text-book abstractions.

The National Student Federation, as the central organization of American students, recently has been concentrating more of its attention and direction on this significant phase of student activity. Through its American travel organization, The Open Road, it has given new inspiration to travel, so that undirected touring has become purposeful exploration.

Exploring Russia

Under N. S. F. A.—Open Road auspices, in cooperation with Russian organizations, will be carried out the only student tours to Soviet Russia this year. Several itineraries covering from three to six weeks in Russia, have been arranged, and student groups are being organized in various parts of the country.

in making it possible for American students to clarify their numerous impressions of that much-discussed country by personal observation.
