

Happy

The Salemite

New Year

VOL IX.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., SATURDAY, JANUARY 12, 1929.

Number 12.

Rev. H. B. Johnson In Expanded Chapel

Gives Interesting Account of Scandinaviania, Its Language and Peoples

On Wednesday, January 9, at the expanded chapel service a very interesting and unusual address was delivered by the Reverend H. B. Johnson, pastor of the Fries Memorial Church of Winston-Salem. The subject was "Contributions of the Scandinavian Languages." Mr. Johnson is of Norwegian ancestry. His father was born in Norway and came to America, settling in Wisconsin, where Mr. Herbert Johnson was born.

The speaker discussed Scandinavia, including the three countries which comprise it, the Scandinavian people, and the Scandinavian language, which is really composed of three languages—those of Norway, Sweden, and Denmark. Mr. Johnson said that the people of Norway were the most progressive, in a way so that their exact position was perfectly clear to the audience. He explained that the climate of Wisconsin was found, much to his father's surprise, to be much more rigorous than that of Norway whose climate is made rather mild by the gulf stream which flows along the coast and the Arctic Ocean. Scandinavia is a very mountainous country, and for this reason its people must seek other lands for farming purposes.

The Scandinavian people—the Norwegians, the Swedes, and the Danes—are decided extremists. They are inclined to be religious. A great chieftain in the south of Norway once heard the gospel preached by Christians. He became converted and later became an evangelist. He was not as great a preacher as he was a soldier. He went from one harbor to another telling the people to choose between Christianity and death. Naturally the people followed him and he saved many lives. In this way a tremendous number of converts was reported to the missionaries who had converted the chieftain. The church of Norway, Sweden and Denmark is the Lutheran. The Lutheran denomination controls not only the churches, but the schools, from the lowest grades to the high school and universities. Mr. Johnson, a pleasure, spent time with those people who know their catechism and Bible history above everything else. They are great lovers of peace. On June 7, 1905, Norway which was, formerly, a dependency of Sweden, declared its independence. The call to arms was given. Norway and Sweden were to engage in war. The people of both nations so loved peace that those who were to go to war refused to go. The Swedes decided that Norway might be free before the blood of her people should be shed in a struggle for independence. The Norwegians wished to be freed but they did not consider the tenance of their country. The sacrifice of the lives of people of Sweden. In this way Norway was made a free country without bloodshed.

Since the dawn of history, the Norwegians have been a nation of seafaring people who, at the same time have been lovers of land and of the land. The people brought of obtaining cheap fur lands brought skilled sailors from Norway to America. It is quite evident that Scandinavian names, such as Peter-son, Roberson, Anderson and Nelson, abound in Scotland. We find that many Norwegians drawn by the same love of land, settled in Scotland. This same desire led Mr. Robert Johnson, Elizabeth Rogers, and others to sail westward across the country to discover Greenland and Iceland. Among some of the famous people of Scandinavia

"Forward" Subject of Y. W. Vesper Service

Mr. May Gives Interesting Talk Relating to the New Year.

The first Vesper service of the year was unusually interesting and appropriate. The main feature of the program was an address, "Forward," by Mr. Charles May of the city Y. M. C. A.

"This season," said Mr. May, "is a particularly busy and interesting one. We are all looking over the past year, checking our actions, thinking of the opportunities offered us, and the progress we have made. As we prepare to close the old year we check over the set of books, our life books. We put the batteries of our voluntary aids into gear, shake off new ones and begin to let down those we are planning and hoping to do in the new year. Will we find that the new set balances with the old when we reach the end of the year that is before us? If it does not it will be hard for us, for there will be no revising, no turning back. There is a new opportunity, bright and shining hope written on every page. An old person's eyes may be dimmed to the golden achievements that the year holds in store, but he should remember that old age is often the richest, fullest time of life. Vigorous youth should always bear in mind that the doing and the accomplishment of the past pave the way for the years to come. As we look ahead we must not forget today. Tomorrow is a beautiful day, when all dreams come true, while today we face grim reality. But are not dreams based on reality?

This is an occasion of choosing the path we are to follow, of making resolutions, new plans for each new day. We all make resolutions every new year. We do not all keep them. If we live up to our resolutions we will succeed. If we have Christ in our hearts throughout the year, if we arise each new day with prayer to Him on our lips we will raise our lives much richer than we would otherwise. If we have Him as our pilot we will not be dross-trodden by the storms we must face, for we are always going forward in an unknown future probably filled with rugged cliffs, valves of tears and laughter.

"Always look ahead, always search for new opportunities and some day, as your reward, you will reach the glorious end of this rough road you are traveling."

Other interesting parts of the program were a solo, "Thanks Be to God," by Millieent Ward, and a reading, "The Missionaries." The service was concluded with the Y. W. Watchword.

Y.W. Sponsors Another Phase of Social Work

Cabinet to Help With Music At Clemmons Moravian Church

Another field of social service work has been opened to the Salem Y. W. C. A. This time they have been asked to assist with the music each Sunday morning at the Moravian Church in Clemmons. Mr. Theodore Rundholter, who is in charge of the music, expressed his delight in having several of the girls help each Sunday and to arrange for special selections. Those in charge are Elizabeth Rogers, Robert Johnson, Elizabeth Andrews and Wilhelmina Wohlford. This year the Y. W. C. A. is sponsoring a varied and extensive program of social service work which is being made possible through the hearty co-operation of many members of the association.

President Secures "A" Rating For College

N.C. State Receives Recognition Throughout the Country

North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering at Raleigh, through the untiring efforts of its president, Dr. E. C. Brooks, has been admitted to the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, giving the institution a recognized standing throughout the United States as an "A" standard technological college.

The nation is divided into regions in which there is an accrediting agency for determining standards of secondary schools, normal schools, state vocational schools, colleges of liberal arts, universities, and technological institutions. The Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States is the accrediting agency for states south of the Potomac and Ohio rivers, including Texas, also.

The rating of State College is accepted by the nation as a whole. The acceptance of State College into the association means that the college's standards of instruction, faculty, and equipment gives it a recognized standing.

President Brooks has done much to raise the standards of North Carolina's technological institutes. State graduates are now accepted at other colleges and universities and by leading business firms.

Science Club Members Enjoy Delightful Trip

Visit X-Ray and Radium Laboratory of Dr. Rousseau

In place of the regular meetings of the Science Club on Friday night, Jan. 11, the members enjoyed a trip to the X-Ray and Radium Laboratory of Dr. J. P. Rousseau, a prominent physician of this city. Dr. Rousseau explained all the apparatus in the laboratory, especially the X-Ray machine. He also gave an interesting account of radium, its origin and properties, and its beneficial to the members of the club, and each one expressed her delight in having the opportunity to visit such an interesting place.

Interesting Meetings Of Fellowship Groups

Next Meeting to Be Held Wednesday Morning, January 16.

There is a group of girls on the campus which meets every two weeks for an hour of fellowship, prayer and study. They are interested in life service of Christian work and missions, and they study "The Student Volunteer Manual" and other things on this subject. Those interested in this work are to come and meet with this group. It is an opportunity for real fellowship with each other and with God who has promised to meet with those who gather together in His name. The next meeting is Wednesday morning, January 16, at eight o'clock in the "Y" cabinet room.

"I heard Him call; Come follow; that's all. My gold grew dim, My soul went after Him. I rose and followed, that was all. Who would not follow if He heard His call?"

"The Bat" Presented By MacDowell Club

Mystery Picture Shown Before Appreciative Audience

Last Saturday night Salem students were given the opportunity of seeing the famous picture "The Bat." The audience came well prepared for mystery and excitement ran high all through the performance.

The story centers around a series of baffling murders and robberies committed by a mysterious person who calls himself "The Bat." The picture opens with the robbery of a bank done by the President of the bank himself who has it redone to get rid of the evidence. The Bat uses his rob his own bank, and follows him to his old home where he hides the money. At this point the plot becomes more complicated, and the rest of the story is centered around a detective who has come to the house to clear up the mystery. In conclusion, we find this energetic detective fully equipped—in truth he is the Bat in person, and is finally trapped by the detective whom he has impersonated.

Arkansas Travelers Pay Visit to U. N. C.

Governor and Party on Brief Tour Through Southern States

Chapel Hill and the University of North Carolina were hosts Tuesday afternoon to the Governor of Arkansas and party from Arkansas of about 128 people who are on tour of the Southern states studying education and industry with a view towards progressive legislation in their home state.

The visitors arrived in Chapel Hill about 8:30 o'clock in the afternoon from Durham. They were greeted in Gerrard Hall by the entertainment committee which was composed of Prof. D. C. Carroll, William N. Walker, E. C. Conroy, Oscar Coffin, R. D. W. Connay and E. F. Bradshaw. A tour of inspection of the University campus followed.

The visit was brief, the Arkansas party being pressed for time. From Chapel Hill they visited Winston-Salem, High Point and Charlotte. Other cities to be visited in the South include Greenville, S. C. and Atlanta, Ga. The party spent Saturday in Raleigh viewing the state institutions and talking with state officials.

20 OUT OF 275 CO-EDS AT NORTHWEST SAY SMOKES NECESSITIES

Evanson, III.—IP—Cigarettes are considered a necessity by 20 out of 275 coeds at Northwest. University students answered a questionnaire sent out by the college Y. W. C. A. to 500 women on the campus for the purpose of discovering the importance of particular expenditures in their budgets.

Fifty-two were doubtful whether "smokes" should be considered a necessity, and the other 208 were certain that they should be classed as a luxury.

Sport clothes are considered a necessity by 251 of the women students. Fur coats, in the opinion of 115, are a necessity, while 160 place them in the luxury class. Practically all believe that books, fountain pens, and wrist watches are absolute necessities. Out of 275 of the 275 are of the same opinion with respect to typewriters.

Many New Books Added to Library

Includes Varied Selections By Some of the Foremost Authors

Many new books have been added to the collection already in the library. Among them are some of the latest works by the most prominent authors—books of fiction as well as music, history, politics and the like. There are also a great many books which will prove very helpful to those persons who have been doing practice teaching. The following list includes some of the more important works:

Seton, Watson—Europe in the Melting Pot.

Holderness, T. W.—Peoples and Problems of India.

Dumas, A.—The Black Tulip.

Phillips, W. A.—Poland.

Scholes, P. A.—The Listener's Guide to Music.

Bromfield, L.—Possession.

Bromfield, L.—A Good Woman.

Barnes, H. E.—The Genesis of the World War.

Bromfield, L.—The Green Bay Tree Minor, R. R.—Principles of Teaching Practically Applied.

Klapper, P.—The Teaching of Arithmetic.

Snedden, D. S.—Problems of Secondary Education.

Scholes, P. A.—The Listener's History of Music.

Scholes, P. A.—The Complete Book of Great Musicians.

Cather, W.—My Antonia.

Tuell, H. E.—The Study of Nations.

Sharp, R. A.—Teaching English in High Schools.

Gehrken, K. W.—An Introduction to School Music Teaching.

Hartwell, E. C.—The teaching of History.

Gibbons, H. A.—Europe Since 1919.

Funnell, R. C.—Mendelism.

Hines, H. C.—Finding the Right Teaching Position.

Autenreith, W.—Laboratory Manual for Junior High School Students.

Haight, A. E.—The Attic Theatre.

Watson, J. B.—Behaviorism.

Shields, T. E.—Philosophy of Education.

Thomas, C. S.—The Teaching of English in Secondary Schools.

Friedenwald, G.—Diabetics for Nurses.

Webster, E. H.—Teaching English in Junior High School.

Drum, W. N.—A Review of Teaching.

Klapper, P. E.—Teaching of History.

Walpole, H.—The Duchess of North Wales.

Crook, C. R.—Manual of Vegetable Garden Insects.

Dumas, A.—Twenty Years After.

Wharton, E.—A Son at the Front.

Evans, E.—The Margin of Music.

Hill, M.—The Teaching of Civics.

Allen, E.—Mechanical Devices in the Home.

Grattan, J. H. G.—Our Living Languages.

Foster, F. M.—The Divisions of the Plays of Plautus and Terence.

O'Neill, E.—Play: Anna Christie, and Others.

Reed, H. B.—Psychology of Elementary School Subjects.

Cross, W. L.—The Modern English Novel.

Butler, R.—The New Eastern Europe.

Pierce, B. L.—Public Opinion and the Teaching of History in the U. S.

Husley, A.—Those Barren Leaves.

Cabell, J. B.—The High Places.