

Happy New Year

The Sunnrite

To You All

VOL. X.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., SATURDAY, JANUARY 11, 1930.

Number 13.

Salem Girl Becomes Bride During Holiday

Miss Julia Slack Weds Mr. Frederick Huling at "Holston Hall" on January 2nd; Will Be at Home in Asheville

"Bristol, Tenn., Jan. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Mansey Slack announce the marriage of their daughter, Julia Hinton, to Mr. Frederick Irwin Huling, Thursday, January the second, nineteen hundred and thirty, Bristol, Tennessee.

The ceremony took place at one-thirty o'clock Thursday afternoon at Holston Hall, the Colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. Slack in Fairmount. The marriage came as a pleasant surprise to a wide circle of friends. The arrangements for the service were marked by elegant simplicity and the ceremony was attended only by the immediate families.

Dr. John Stewart French, pastor of State Street Methodist Church, was the officiant and used the beautifully impressive ring service.

The marriage vows were taken in the drawing room before an altar of mammoth white lilies, tropical palms and ferns and burning white tapers in seven grouped brass candlesticks. The bride was given into the keeping of the bridegroom by her father, Mr. Jack Huling served his brother as best man. There were no other attendants.

The bride, who is a striking brunette, was lovely in a modish costume of chocolate fat crepe in silhouette design with hat of sunburst solid and Panama and matching accessories. Her shoulder coverings were Fernat roses, sunburst sweaters and gypsophilia. For traveling she wore an ensemble of lavender and purple crepe with coat of tued furred in grey wolf and hat of lavender French felt.

Mrs. Huling is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Slack and is a young woman of unusually charming personality and graciousness. She is one of the most popular members of Bristol's younger set. She is a graduate of Tennessee High School, attended Virginia Intermont College and has just completed a year and a half at Salem College, Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Mr. Huling also attended Tennessee High School and is a graduate of Randolph Macon Military Academy, Bedford, Virginia. He is associated in business with the Black & White Company in Bristol, Va., and Mrs. Huling are spending their honeymoon in North Carolina. —The Johnston City Staff News.

Mrs. Huling visited Salem for a few hours last Sunday evening, having stopped over-night in the city. Everyone who saw her says she is better-looking and more attractive than ever before, and that she professes to be "blissfully happy." Julia's perpetual good humor and amusing wit will be missed by her school friends. On Monday she and Mr. Huling resumed their wedding trip, at the consummation of which they will be at home in Asheville, N. C.

College to Attempt Former Salem May Queen Is Married This Month

All Students Urged to Contribute. News to Various City Papers

Miss Bessie Clark Is Now Mrs. Samuel Philip Ray; Wedding Solemnized Last Week.

Practically every college in the state with the exception of Salem has some systematic method of distributing the college news to newspapers throughout the city and state. As a result, this is carried on by means of a news bureau, such an organization is of much value to a school, since it keeps the work and activities of the institution continually before the public.

To start a news bureau is much harder than it sounds. It might easily take one person's entire time to send the sending of news items at fairly regular intervals to several hundred "home town" papers. Of course, at Salem, there is no regular reporter and hereafter, the most outstanding events of interest have reached the papers through members of the faculty. However, with the consent of Dr. Rondthaler and under the plan of Mr. Higgins, the Order of the Scorpion is attempting to start a news bureau on a small scale, beginning with the Winston-Salem papers and gradually branching out to papers in the state. In order to make a success of the undertaking the co-operation of the student body is necessary. Mary Myers Faulkner, of Hillsdale, Wright have been elected head reporters and Leaksville, Jan. 5.—Characterized by beautiful dignity, the wedding of Miss Bessie Clark and Dr. Samuel Philip Ray was solemnized Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Leaksville Methodist Church. The vows were spoken before Rev. M. B. Woolsey, the ring service being used.

The church was beautiful in decoration, the nuptial colors, green and white, being emphasized by a background of palms and ferns, which was interspersed with five baskets of mammoth white chrysanthemums, tall cathedral tapers softly lighting the altar. Prior to the ceremony, a lovely musical program was rendered, with Dean Charles G. Vardell, Jr., of Salem College, at the organ. Mrs. Ava A. Scott sang "I Love Thee, My Greig," and "Love Always." Randolph Salmons, of Roanoke, Va., sang "Because," and "Oh, Sweet Mystery of Life." The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was used as a professional and Mendelssohn's Wedding March as a recessional.

The ushers, James Chandler, Lindsay Reid, Joseph Ray, and Dr. J. B. Mohrson, of High Point, entered the bridesmaids and bridegroom in the following order: Miss Hattie King Ray, sister of the groom, and Miss Henrietta Reid; Charles Stone, of Stoneville, and Henry Fessue, of High Point; Miss Anice Trent, of Reidsville, and Miss Marion Neely, of Van Wert, Ohio; A. B. J. Martin, Jr., of Greensboro and James Fagge, of Miss Florence Hobbs and Miss Mary Marshall; Dr. William Abernethy, of West Chester, Pa., and Richard H. Tuttle. Next entered the date of honor, Mrs. G. H. Clark, Jr. Miss Margaret Hartsell, of Concord, maid of honor, was next to enter.

Following the maid of honor were the lovely little flower girls, Betsy Casteen and Nancy King, who were daintily gowned in pink tulle and carried baskets of pink rose buds. Preceding the bride, came the ring-bearer, Joseph King, who was attended in green sating. The beautiful bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She was met at the altar by the bride-groom, who was attended by his brother, W. H. Ray.

Mrs. Ray is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Clark. She was reared in Leaksville where she is generally admired for her many lovely traits of character. She received her Bachelor of Science degree at piano at Salem College, and during her senior year was voted Salem's most beautiful girl and was chosen May Queen.

Following a short bridal trip the couple will make their home at West Chester, Pa.

Dr. Lilly Addresses Students in Expanded Chapel

Speaker Gives Interesting Discussion on Importance of Woman's Place in Life

Dr. D. Clay Lilly of Reynolds delivered an address on "Woman at the Helm" at the expanded chapel Hour Wednesday morning. He discussed in detail the importance of woman's place in life.

In beginning his remarks Dr. Lilly stated that a man's education continued a long time, and that it took him a long time to learn that the centers of life are dominated by a woman. She directs the ship of life, stands at the helm, while man controls thrusters. One of the centers of life, and perhaps the most powerful, is the home. For woman, a child is under the care of women either his mother, his nurse, or both. He is trained by them, his education is begun by them. The important part of five years of a child's life are watched over by a woman.

Another center of power is the Sunday School, and with it, the church. The child receives attention from women from its entrance into the church. There are no men in the beginner's department or in the primary. A woman starts the child on his Sunday School life. A girl is taught always by women. The primary facts of the spiritual life of all children are cared for by women. There is also a dominance of women in the church. The larger part of the congregation is made up of women, as is the larger part of the church roll. Evertime a pastor or officer is elected, a building enterprise undertaken, or a budget formed, woman's vote has the most important place.

The day or public school is another center of power. A child of six goes to school and is placed under the care of women, none of men. The majority of teachers even in high school are women. The school is where character is formed and mental discipline developed. It is the woman who shapes and makes the lives of boys and girls.

Woman is at the head of social life. There are a great many more women than men in society. She also at the head of or prominent in the commercial world as most of the spending is done by women.

Dr. Lilly then summarized his remarks by stating the particular needs which each center of power has of women.

The home needs the correction of discipline, the training and controlling of children. It needs stability, reliability. There is a need also of restoration of religion. Homes are not safe without a great deal of religion.

The church needs woman also. (Continued on Page Two.)

New Year's Program At Y.W.C.A. Vespers

Violin Selection By Miss Read In Program

Charlotte Grimes, President of the Y. W. C. A., presided at the first program of the year at Sunday night vespers, January 5. Lilly Taylor opened the program, which was held in the Alice Clewell Campus Living Room, with a reading from the Scriptures.

A reading from "The Girls' Year Book" bearing on the beginning of the new year was read by Mary Elizabeth Meeks. The two musical selections of the program were—a solo by Millicent Ward, and "Schubert's Serenade," a violin selection by Miss Hazel Read.

After a closing hymn was sung, the meeting closed with the Y. W. Watchword.

U. S. C. S. EXAM FOR HOME EC. STUDENTS

The United States Civil Service Commission announces the following open competitive examination:

Junior Home Economic Specialist (Food and Nutrition)

Applications for junior home economics specialist (food and nutrition) must be on file with the Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C., not later than February 1, 1930. The examination is to fill vacancies in the Bureau of Home Economics, Department of Agriculture, for duty in Washington, D. C., or in the field.

The entrance salaries range from $2,000 to $2,500 a year. Higher-salaried positions are filled through promotion.

The duties are, under the immediate supervision of the specialist in charge, to carry out the laboratory work necessary in studying preparation, preservation and use of foods in the household. This involves practical and scientific knowledge of cooking, knowledge of food values and dietetics essential in combining these foods, and sufficient knowledge of basic sciences to enable the applicant to use them in these tests. The applicant should be able to work on his or her own initiative in the absence of the person in charge, plan specific tests, record and interpret same; and should be experienced in laboratory technique and method of keeping records.

Candidates will be rated on practical questions relative to the duties of the position and on a thesis to be handed to the examiner on the day of the examination. Full information may be obtained from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C., or from the Secretary of the United States Civil Service Board of Examiners at the post office or customhouse in any city.

Debaters Argue About Progress of Women

Interesting Debates Given at Monthly Meeting of Sigma Omicron Alpha

Sigma Omicron Alpha held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, January 7th, in the campus living room.

After the minutes of the last meeting had been read by the secretary, Elizabeth Marx, the meeting was turned over to the program chairman. The subject for debate was: "Resolved that women in the past decade have made more progress than in the preceding decade." On the affirmative side were Elizabeth Ward and Doris Kimmel, while Daisy Ellis, and Alma McRae Caldwell held the negative side of the question.

The main points presented by the affirmative speakers were: that in the past women's activities only touched the domestic sphere, and did not affect the world as a whole; that in the past ten years women have entered more occupations and professions and have broadened their intellectual scope more than in the decade of 1910-20; that women have become equal with men in the athletic world (examples were Amelia Earhart, Gloria Collett, Gertrude Ederle, Helen Wilns, and Lady Heath) that women now work together and for the first time have won woman gained her political equality in 1920, and as a noted man has said, "The modern woman grows so fast that philosophers get dizzy as she passes by."

The main points upheld by the opposition were: that the women of 1910-20 were the first to break down the old traditions and barriers of convention, and that the modern woman is only reaping the profit of woman's great awakening during the World War; that in that decade she was a first protection of professional and working women, that

Bunch Bowl Sponsors Girl's Number

Girls From Everywhere Are Requested to Contribute; Prizes Awarded

Salemite readers may be interested in the following excerpt from the Punch Bowl, humorous magazine published by students at the University of Pennsylvania.

"Every five years the Brewers of Yale Bowl for one month surrender their golden ladders and stand aside to let the fair sippers of the Brew try their hands at distillation. This February the girls will have an opportunity to bring out their own number of the Punch Bowl. The magazine, from cover to cover, will be feminine. We extend a cordial invitation to every reader of female persuasion to submit drawings and humorous material of every sort, and to compete for the prizes offered by the Brewers. The following rules must be observed:

1. The competition is open to all girl readers of the Punch Bowl, whether such readers attend colleges or preparatory schools or not.
2. All material submitted must be strictly original.
3. The closing date for material is Tuesday, January 28, 1930.
4. Editorial material may be submitted as follows: (a) Jokes. (b) Humorous verses. (c) Short satirical essays or comments. (d) Humorous stories or sketches. (e) Humorous plays, dialogues or monologues. (f) Suggestions for drawings.
5. All editorial material must be typewritten, double-spaced. One side only of the paper may be used.
6. Jokes may be of any description suitable for publication in the Punch Bowl.
7. Verses must not exceed forty lines. Parodies of familiar poems and songs will be accepted.
8. Short satirical comments or essays must not exceed 250 words in length. The number of words must be noted on the sheet. Subjects

(Continued on Page Two.)

(Continued on Page Four.)