

SOCIETY

Dr. and Mrs. Rondthaler entertained Wednesday evening at a delightful dinner. Dr. Gordon, who spent several days at Salem this week, was the honor guest. Fritz Firey, Josephine Cummings, Ross Walker, Mary Gwynn Hickerson, Anna Preston, Frances McNeil, Araminta Sawyer and Eva Hickney were present at the delightful occasion.

PERSONALS

Irene McAnally will be the week-end guest of her parents in High Point.

Lucille Dunn will spend Sunday in High Point.

Mary Frances Peden will be the guest of her aunt, Miss Ogburn of this city, on Sunday.

Eleanor Jones, a former student of Salem, is planning to go to Greenville very soon to take up preliminary work.

Nancy Cox, Anna Preston, Katherine Lyerly and Beatrice Hyde spent last week end at Davidson.

NATIONAL ORATORICAL CONTEST IS PLANNED

Los Angeles. The entries close March 25 and each college or university should have selected its orator by April 15. Information concerning the details of the contest may be obtained from P. Caspar Harvey, Contest Director, Liberty, Mo.

Founders Day Requests Read to the Trustees

the day students living beside it and the Juniors living over it suggested that it be moved elsewhere.

The home economics students sent in a plea for furniture for the second floor bedrooms of the new practice house and electric stoves and other equipment needed in the department.

Apparently the music students are tired of muddy shoes for they are anxious to have a cement walk from the book store. The music department is also in need of an Orthophonic Victrola and records for use in History of Music and Music Appreciation courses.

Athletic girls are anxious for more tennis courts, for golf links on lower campus, and a drinking fountain on the athletic field.

Telephones are still in demand. A system of house phones connecting the buildings on the campus has been suggested, also a telephone in Society or Lehman Hall and a non-pay phone for local calls.

Again the suggestion of a $80,000 expenditure comes up in the form of requests for a new gymnasium, a new dining hall and a new music building.

Dr. Rondthaler suggests that girls who have these ideas drop in a little contribution along with their suggestions.

Terrible

A poet writes in and tells us he gets up in the middle of the night when he can't sleep and writes his poetry. We have always contended that insomnia is an awful thing.

LOVE'S LABOR LOST

Her eyes are bright
Her cheeks are rose,
She hugs me tight
And kisses my nose.

Her face is fair
And her figure neat
She rumples my hair,
She calls me "Sweet."

SET FREE

A mystic in those strange clairvoyant eyes
The shadows of the unseen world seen clear,
Tells me that 'e'en in fairest Paradise
You are not happy. Dear, my very Dear,
Because my sorrow and my anguish cries

Re-echo through the miles 'twixt Heaven and here.

If what the seer says indeed be true
And in that blessed land of pain's relief
Your soul is fettered yet to earth
Care's cruel throng.

My weeping—then such selfish tears must cease.
See? I am smiling as I used to do!
Be free henceforth, Beloved, and at peace!

NEW SPRING STYLES ARE SHOWN AT SALEM

The silks and the sweater styles were also shown to be in good taste. Mary Gwynn Hickerson in orange and Charlotte Duffy in green and white showed the use of the silks. Elizabeth Allen, wearing a blue knit suit, showed the good taste of sweater combinations. Lydia Wambledorj was very attractive in a tan and black riding habit. The new hats—a great many of them were bonnets and the light shoes were attractively worn with the various suits. The afternoon frocks in colors of black, tan, blue, red, chiffon and crepe were modish. The long line and flared and uneven hemline were the prevailing styles. Evening dresses of satin, chiffon, lace and tulle in red, blue, peach and combination two-tone were exhibited. The decided and extremely high waistline, the silhouette and low neck line were the chief styles shown here.

This show was really unique and was attended by a large and enthusiastically appreciative audience. Van Dyke's has always been one of the chief shopping centers for Salem girls, and the kindness shown in the past and in the negotiations for this show is deeply appreciated by the Salem girl patrons.

INTERCLASS DEBATES START ON TUESDAY

Preliminary inter-class debates have been scheduled for Tuesday evening, February 18, at seven o'clock in the Campus Living Room. The question is "Resolved that this audience is agreed that the emergence of woman from the home is a regrettable feature of modern life." The first debate will be between Seniors and Juniors. Mary Ayres Payne and Elizabeth Marx will uphold the affirmative for the Juniors, and Athena Campourakis and Lucille Hassall will uphold the negative for the Seniors. The second debate will begin promptly at 7:45 between Freshmen and Sophomores. Corinne Jones and Beulah May Zachary will uphold the affirmative for the Sophomores, and Leonard Schwarze and Lucy Woolwine will uphold the negative for the Freshmen. The winners will meet in a final debate in Y. P. M. March 5.

Poor Puss

Our cat was not hygienic,
So we kicked it off the place,
Because he spat upon his feet
And wiped them on his face.

At The Theatres

AT THE CAROLINA

For the first three days of next week, John Barrymore's first all-talking picture will be presented. It is "General Crack," the dashing, spirited story of a mad officer of Napoleon's army. The popular star is ably supported by Marion Nixon as his leading lady. The colorful story is aided by the magnificent scenery, and martial music. Barrymore's first sound picture has been eagerly awaited by thousands of fans every where, and his triple role in the production "General Crack," fulfills every expectation.

"College Humor, March issue, calls "General Crack" a real picture. From the enthusiastic review in this popular publication, the theater-goers are in for a treat.

"The Killbuck's" something different, something new will be the presentation on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Harry Green, who played the title role successfully on the stage is seen again in the screen. Mary Brian and Nell Hamilton play second leads. "The Kibitzer" is the first all-talking dialect picture, and promises to be a "wow."

DR. GORDON SPEAKS AT EXPANDED CHAPEL

ally fit. People became interested in studying those individuals who had the ability to accomplish something but didn't.

Dr. Gordon declared that mental problems are not inherited. Emotional difficulties and personality have been acquired and they have generally appeared early in life. The relation to the family group has been a large factor in the life of each person. There seems to be an idea that an only child is always selfish and spoiled. This is not necessarily true. An only child does have the disadvantage of a lack of competition and she is also apt to have too much introspection. She is inclined to think a great deal about her own thoughts and motives.

One thing is encouraging—one may have many problems, but each individual has problems which are alike. That the youngest child is always superior in every way is not true. There are, as a rule, better economic possibilities for the youngest child. Thus, too, she is the least in the family, and so she uses a great deal of effort to try to assert herself and to prove she can accomplish something.

Families may be entirely too solicitous towards their children. They may refuse to see that their children are growing up and can think for themselves. Parents may be trying to make of their children the outlet for a pent-up, unfulfilled desire for an accomplishment of some sort. Perhaps they wish to make them an emotional outlet, too. It is such agents as these which result in emotional conflicts and complexes.

In closing Dr. Gordon showed how mental hygiene can be of much help because if a person knows what is the matter with her she can trace it to its source, and that is going a long way toward a cure.

SENIOR CABARET

Babe Silverstein, charming figure-shoulder-enthusiast, will sing a group of songs. Operatic jazz is Miss Silverstein's line and her warblings are quite as well, whole-hearted, at least as Helen's own boogie-woogie.

Delicious refreshments will be served, (on requests accompanied by certain specific fees). A reminiscent thought about last fall, and a happier one that many Seniors have already done time in Practice House will convince one of the advisability of hipping along a little change. After dancing to the tune of a lively, dasky orchestra, that food is going to be too tempting even to the strongest will, to be resisted. Everybody on the campus and the female population of the city are cordially invited to make a bucketful of whoopee with the Seniors.
