

History Club Organized At Its First Meeting

Officers Are Elected and Interesting Plans Are Made For the Future

The following officers were elected at the first meeting of the History Club, Monday afternoon: Daisy Litz, President; Connie Jones, Vice-President; Carrye Braxton, Secretary and Treasurer; and Daisy Lee Carson, Chairman of the Program Committee.

New plans were discussed for a picnic, to be held sometime in the near future, at Guilford Court House, which embodies a great deal of historic interest. The members of the Club, and any other students who desire to go, will leave the College in cars, and after a brief survey of Guilford College, they will drive to the battleground where a picnic supper will be spread.

A most successful and interesting year is planned, by the Club, and the members have already entered into the new plans with enthusiasm.

McDOWELL CLUB PLANS INTERESTING PROGRAM FOR ENJOYING YEAR

The McDowell Club, under the direction of Miss Fuller, the President, has arranged a program for this year which promises to be varied and unusually entertaining. The program consists of clever different presentations which will be given at various times throughout the year. The dates for the entertainments are as follows:

- October 1—Style Show, sponsored by Sosnik's.
- November 1.—Inter-Class Stunt Contest. The four College classes and the academy will enter this contest.
- November 15.—Pierrette Players.
- December 6.—Picture Show.
- January 17.—Picture Show.
- February 7.—Entertainment by High School Dramatic Club.
- February 28.—Picture Show.
- March 21.—Salem Grand Opera Company.
- April 18.—Pierrette Players.
- May 16.—Picture Show.

ALUMNAE NOTES

Carolyn Binkley is teaching in the Home Economics department of the High School in Aulander, N. C.

Elizabeth Strowd and Laila Wright, Class of '30, are members of the Mount Airy High School faculty.

Josephine Cummings is teaching in the Moravian Female Seminary in Bethlehem, Pa.

Athens Campourakis is a member of the high school faculty of Martinsville, Va.

Lilly Taylor is teaching in one of the Grammar Schools of Johnson City, Tenn.

Mary Brewer, Class of '30, is now teaching at Old Town.

Helen Johnson, Class of '30, and Frances Jarratt, Class of '27, will study music this winter in New York City. Miss Jarratt has been connected with the Salem School of music for the past three years.

SERVICE

"I always eat in this restaurant you know, in lots of restaurants the waiters grab the plates away from you before you have finished."
"And they don't do that here?"
"Oh, yes they do, but here you don't mind it so much."

Willie was being measured for his first made-to-order suit of clothes. "Do you want the shoulders padded, my little man?" inquired the tailor.

"Naw," said Willie, "pad the pants."

First Y. W. Association Meeting Held

A Delightful Musical Program Given for a Large Audience

On Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock, September 23, the Y. W. C. A. Association had its first general meeting in the recreation room of the Louisa Bitting Building. Elizabeth Marx, president of the Association, presided. She gave a cordial welcome to all the new girls and introduced the officers and the chairmen of the various Y. W. C. A. committees and the members of the Advisory Board.

The meeting was then turned over to Mary B. Williams, chairman of the Social Committee, who presented a thoroughly delightful musical program. Miss Ruth Pfohl, an alumna of Salem College, played three charming harp solos: "Happy Memories" by Hahn, "The Volga Boatman," and as an encore, "A Dream." Millicent Ward then sang "The Beaming Eyes," "A Little Yellow Dog," which was especially good, and "Silver Moon." Dorothy Thompson concluded the program with a gay "Waltz" by Levinsky. After this, delicious sandwiches and punch were served. The first Association meeting was indeed a success!

BETA BETA PHI SORORITY ENTERTAINS ITS PLEDGES AT LUNCHEON

On Thursday, September 25, the members of the Beta Beta Phi sorority entertained at a luncheon at the Reynolds' Grill in honor of their pledges. The table was decorated with a beautiful centerpiece of red and white dahlias, and at each pledge's place there was a shoulder corsage of red roses. A four course luncheon was served to the pledges: Margaret Johnson, Ida Baker Williamson, and Nina Hoffman, and to the members of the sorority: Bete Hyde, Edith Leske, Minnie Hicks, Eleanor Idol, Mary Virginia Pendergraph, Sarah Graves, Katherine Lyerly, Mary Norris, Anna Preston, Winifred Fisher, Eleanor Williamson, an alumna of Salem, and Miss Josephine Shaffner, chaperone.

The idea of going hatless was originated by a Scotchman. He didn't want to pay the price they asked for hooch, and he found that by standing bareheaded in the sun he could get a headache just the same.

Parent—"What are you drawing, Jim?"

Young Jim—"Why, a dog."

"But where's its tail?"

"Oh, that's still in the ink-bottle."

The trouble with playing football is that you're apt to get athlete's foot on the neck.

VILLAGE VERNACULAR

Town pump—a shoe worn in American cities.

Post office—a swell game which carries the stamp of our approval.

General store—commander over major sequence, corporal punishment and private office. (Bang! Bang! You're dead.)

Farmer's market—vegetarian's paradise.

Main street—the avenue that the water pipes run down.

Weekly paper—a periodical published every week which makes one seven days. Pardon, reverse that clause.

Mayor—a lady horse.

Hitching post—Cockney dialect for a place to scratch your back.

Water tower—the small town's own skyline.

Corner store—the corner runs this on week days.

Horse trough—a nice place to park the gelding when you leave town for the week-end.

Pool room—hangout of sinners and salesmen, if there is any distinction.

Hotel—scene of chieftain matches. Every town has its inns and bouts. (Please, mister, think of my wife and kiddies.)

The fast express—due at 12:57 and stops, but not at this town.

Board of trade—a swell phrase meaning "tired of commerce."

Courthouse—place where Uncle Hiram did his courting, or spooning, as this younger generation calls it.

Town bully—we could write a snooty definition of this one but it would be censored anyway.

Tourist park—plot of ground too rocky for farming and too choppy for a golf course.

Constable—the only man in town who doesn't keep his good blue suit for Sunday only.

Village gossip—outdoes Pathe News in that she sees all, knows all—and tells all.

Blacksmith shop—forerunner of the garage, the main difference being that blacksmiths were honest.

The band—has more brass than either William Haines or the Great Shires.

—Notre Dame Juggler.

Lavinia McLean, Business graduate of 1930 is now private secretary to the President of Durham College of Commerce, and also teaches in the same college.

Miss Marion Bloor, class of '29, is now teaching in the Junior High School of Trenton, N. J.
