

WISHING YOU A
MERRY CHRISTMAS
 AND A
HAPPY NEW YEAR

World News

New York—After a six-year absence abroad Anna Pavlova is coming back to dance before American audiences. Her manager, George Engles, received a cablegram from London yesterday completing arrangements for a tour through 75 American cities opening in New York in October.

Berlin—Esperanto, the auxiliary language was offered in the Berlin public schools this fall and so many pupils elected the course that there was a lack of qualified teachers.

Thomas Alva Edison, irreligious inventor, has been awarded a gold medal by Pope Pius XI for his "Contributions to the world through invention," and particularly for giving his Holiness a gold and ivory dictating machine.

INTERESTING ORIGIN OF CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION

(Continued From Page One)
 The puts and "Christmas cakes," are a part of Salem's Christmas. Some of the white ones will have been made by the veteran "star-maker," a genuine artist, now in his nineties, living in a house that looks as if it had been taken from the front of a lovely Christmas card. Others were brought to Salem from faraway Herrnhut, in Saxony, the home of many of the German Moravians. The shining, many-pointed star is rich in symbolism. So, too, are the small candles that are given to each person at the Moravian Christmas Love-feasts. These little bees-wax tapers, fragrant and gay in their red paper fringes, are made deep in one of the high-vaulted, stone-paved kitchen-ecclers of Salem. They come from the same old molds that "Christmas Candles" have come for generations; they are made with the same ingredients, in the same way.

At the Theatres

CAROLINA

Jean Crawford's most recent picture will be the chief attraction at the Carolina during the first three days of next week. It is "Paid," adapted from the stage play "Within the Law." Miss Crawford is ably supported by the fascinating and popular Robert Montgomery whose role in "War Nurse" will not be quickly forgotten. It is enough advertisement for the picture to say that these two young stars will play the leading roles.

On Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Richard Arlen, Mary Brian and Leon Errol will appear in a new picture called "Only Saps Work." This picture will be accompanied by a Hal Roach our gang comedy called "Showing Shakespeare."

STATE

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, the State Theatre will present "Follow the Leader." This is a peppy, up-to-the-minute presentation which features Ed. Wynne, musical comedy star, Ginger Rogers, the wide-awake, full-of-life little star of "Young Man of Manhattan," Stanley Smith, Popular young leading man, and an unusually able cast.

During the latter half of the week, the feature picture will be "Man of the Hour." The title of the picture speaks for it, and the only addition we can make is that Gilbert Roland, long to be remembered for his part in "Camille" and Barbara Leonard, a newcomer yet to prove her worth, are to take the leading roles. The feature picture will be accompanied by unusually clever short skits, by brand new comedies, and the usual news reels.

"I hear you lost your temper yesterday."
 "Yes, but she'll be back tomorrow."

SOCIETY

The following girls are spending Sunday in Greensboro at N. C. C. W.: Mary Wall James, Dot Taylor, Grace Brown, Grace Pollock, Robin Fraley, Frances Mauney and Elizabeth Leake.

Those girls who will spend the day at home are Adele Hicks, High Point; Irene McAnally, High Point; Emma Kapp, Bethania; and Rachel Bray, Mt. Airy.

Mary Clark is spending Sunday at Duke with Helen White.

Pat Holderness will be in Chapel Hill and Greensboro with her brother, Sunday.

The girls spending the week-end in Winston-Salem are as follows: Alice Caldwell with Frances Fletcher, Louise Stevenson with Marjorie Siewers, and Amanda Tucker.

Anna Preston, Isabelle Pollock, and Bebe Hyde are spending the week-end at Davidson.

Agnes Pollock and Ruth Maier will be in Thomasville for this week-end.

Leila Bloor is the week-end guest of Mary Celeste Frontis at her home in Mooresville.

Paul—Are you going to kiss me good night?

Eve—Mercy, no! That's the last thing I'll do.

Paul—All right, then what'll we do first?

James: "I'm the happiest man alive. I've got the finest wife in the country."
 John: "Yes, that does make a man happy, having his wife in the country."

The Reynolds' Grill

For the very best in food
We cater to Banquets and Dinner Parties

Elie Sheetz MATHA WASHINGTON CANDIES

Made fresh in our kitchen here
 We specialize in Mints, Candies, Favors and Tallies for Parties.
Funny boxes for all occasions
 315 West Fourth St.
 WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

JACKSON'S Walk-Over Boot Shop

120 West Fourth Street Winston-Salem, N. C.
 We have a complete line of new fall Shoes, Hosiery and Hand Bags
The Logical Place to Buy Shoes

NOVELTY BRACELETS

Unusual Attractive Novelty Bracelets
 Plain white gold links or enamel colors, with heart shape lock.
 Easy To Fasten
VOGLER'S, Jeweler.
 Fourth and Cherry

Week of December 15

MON. ED WYNN
 TUES. IN
 WED. "FOLLOW THE LEADER"

"FOLLOW THE LEADER"

WITH
 Ginger Rogers
 Stanley Smith
 There have been the 4 MARX BROTHERS and EDDIE CANTOR — Now we have Ed Wynn who is considered the goofiest one on Broadway.

THUR—FRI—SAT

"MEN OF THE NORTH"

WITH
 Gilbert Roland
 Barbara Leonard

