 The National Student Federation is an organization including over one hundred and fifty colleges and universities in the United States. One of its important features is sponsoring student tours to Europe with reduced rates. It gives opportunities to meet other students in foreign schools, who are, incidentally, the guides in the tour. There are moonlight rides in a gondola in Venice, canoe trips down the Danube and scores of other delightful and adventurous things impossible in an ordinary tour. This year the federation is sponsoring a visit to Russia to study the political and economic machinery of the United States of Soviet Russia. Eating in private homes, travelling with Russian students as guides, and swimming in the Volga are all included in the tour. A twenty-five-day visit to Russia on a student tour costs only $370.

This year also twenty South African students are touring America with their expenses paid, and next year twenty American students will visit South Africa.
 Weekly the federation sends to the editor of the campus publication a news release including items of inter-collegiate and inter-national interest to be printed. It sponsors international debating. Twice a month over the Columbia Broadcasting System, it presents programs featuring the men and women who are in the public eye. Last year Gandhi, Grandi, and Bertram Russell spoke for the federation. It distributes information on student problems as self-help, honor systems, and political systems, and publishes monthly the World's Student Mirror. The culmination of its work comes in the Annual Student Congress. The eighth congress will meet this year in New Orleans, Louisiana.
 Salem College is not yet a member of the Federation, but because the Federation is undoubtedly a worthwhile organization and Salem College is a progressing institution, it is not difficult to prophesy that Salem will soon be a member.

SALEMITES TALK ON 1932 DEPRESSION

 in the living rooms after 8 P. M. Makes things a bit cheirier, doesn't it?
 Miss Alice Stough nonchalantly puffed her last clown and stated that as long as she could have orange juice, jelly, and crackers three times a day, she would let bygones be bygones and would face the new year with a hopeful countenance and with all the "Y" Store money which she could collect.
 Miss Mary B. Williams is positive that 1931 took with it all of her worries and doctor bills. She approaches exam week, a fair representative of 1932, with a free arm, a free conscience, and a tree tube of Colgate's 125th anniversary tooth paste.
 Miss Pat Holderness has one hope—that there will be enough money somewhere to buy a few diplomas next June. She decided to strike out d, e, and i, and to press on.
 For the benefit of Freshmen d, e, press i, on.

Miss Beulah May Zachary is truly economical—she wouldn't even give her opinions.
 The postmaster wishes to announce that all mail formerly coming to Box 113, Salem Station, will now be had at General Delivery. The reason is unpaid box rent.

THE NEW YEAR

I am the New Year, and I come to you pure and unstained,
 Fresh from the hand of God.
 Each day, a precious pearl, to you is given
 That you must string upon the silver thread of Life.
 Once strung can never be unthreaded, but stays
 An undying record of your faith and skill.
 Each golden minute link you then must weld into the chain of hours
 That is no stronger than its weakest link.
 Into your hands is given all the wealth and power
 To make your life just what you will.
 I give to you, free and unstinted, twelve glorious months
 Of soothing rain and sunshine golden.
 The days for work and rest, the nights for peaceful slumber.
 All that I have given with love unspoken.
 All that I ask—you keep the faith unbroken!
 —J. D. Templeton.
