

POETRY

In thinking of modern poetry, one's mind is immediately turned toward the works of Edna St. Vincent Millay. Renaissance, a most astounding performance of this generation, was written when Miss Mil-lay was nineteen years old. It begins like a child's sinless verse or a counting out rhyme.

All I could see from where I stood Was three long mountains and a
wood;
I turned and looked another way
And saw three islands in a bay.
So with my eyes I traced the line
Of the horizon, thin and fine,
Straight around until I was come Back to where I'd started from;
And I saw from where I stood
Was three long mountains and a
wood.

—Edna St. Vincent Millay.

In the poem by Stephen Phillips is painted in words a picture of one of the many fall scenes around us now.

AN OCTOBER DAY

Through dry and hurrying leaves
Golden our way;
Sound of the wind, south west
From the field, south!

Wild all thy loosened hair,
Blown in my eyes;
Till thou doth seem a part
Of autumn skies.

Wild from the setting sun
Rushes the rain;
Ah, he it true or false,
Thy kiss again!

—Stephen Phillips.

KAPPA DINNER

The pledges of Alpha Phi Kappa sorority were entertained on October second in the recreation room of Louisa Bitting Building with a lovely banquet, given by the members of this sorority—Tiny corsages were at each guest's place. During the evening, aside from the main feature, which was eating, the guests danced between courses and were entertained further by singing, and passing around the famous Micky
"Mouse," much to the discomfort of Wanna Mary Huggins.

The sorority colors were carried out in the banquet, itself, in the flowers, decoration, and pledge ribbons.

Pledges of the sorority are:

Jane Williams, Frances Adams, Cokey Preston, Virginia Nall, Martha Neal, Marietta Way, Mary Penn, Rachel Carroll, Claudia Foy, Mary Drew Dalton Elizabeth Gray, Mary Louise Fuller, Dorothy Moore, Betty Tuttle, Georgia Huntington.

The Beta Beta Phi pledges were entertained Saturday, October first, with a pledge supper given in their honor. The supper was served buffet style from a table where the sorорity colors, black and red predominated in the decorations. The pledges were given lovely corsages of red roses and were pinned with the Beta pledge buttons.

Those present were:

Mary Catherine Siewers, Mary
Katherine Thorp, Margaret Johnson,

SIGMAS PLEDGE NEW MEMBERS

Tuesday night, October 11, the Delta Sigma Delta Sorority entertained at a dinner given in the Recreation Room of the Louisa Wilson Bitting Building, in honor of the pledges. The room was attractively decorated in lavender and white dahlia, carrying out the sorority colors. Before the four course dinner was served the pledges were presented with corsages and pledge pins.

Those present were the pledges:
Annie Zue Maye, Margaret Ward, Margaret Wall, and Marion Hulley.
And the old members: Natilia
Mann, Nina Way Credle, Mary

Lasater, and Ann McKinnon.
