

CONFERENCE ON CURRENT PROBLEMS IS TO BE HELD

can Minister to Denmark, will address the Conference on "The Place of Women in the Present Crisis," speaking from London over an international radio hook-up and the network of the National Broadcasting Company; Signora Marchionni Sarfatti, Italian feminist and owner of two important Italian newspapers will broadcast from London directly to "Women Under Fascist Rule." Among the other speakers at the conference will be Governor John G. Winant of New Hampshire; William Hard, political correspondent, who will describe "Changed Viewpoints in International Relations"; and Dr. Neil Carothers, well known economist.

The second session will be devoted to "World Youth Movements." At this session, Dr. Harold Rugg of Teachers College, who is an authority on youth movements in America, Europe and the Orient, will give a general survey; Isabel Macdonald will broadcast from London directly to the Conference on "Young England"; Mrs. Nicholas F. Brady, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Girl Scouts of America, will discuss in a broadcast, "New Importance of Old Youth Movements"; Mrs. John O. Pratt, president of the Junior League of America, will present "Youth's Obligations in the Present Crisis," and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will talk on "Young America."

The third session, on "The Crisis in Education," will be opened by Dr. Henry W. Chase, Chancellor of New York University. Among the other speakers will be Dr. J. M. Edman, professor of Philosophy at Columbia University; Dr. Samuel S. Bray, Rector of St. Paul's School; Dr. Virginia Gildersleeve, Dean of Barnard College; Dr. T. N. Carver, professor of Political Economy at Harvard University and Dr. John K. Norton, Professor of Education, Columbia University and Chairman of the Joint Commission on the Emergency in Education of the National Education Association.

The theme of the concluding session will be "Peace." The first speaker, Preceding President Roosevelt's address, Dr. James T. Shotwell, professor of History, Columbia University and co-author of the Kellogg Pact, will discuss "The Outlook for Peace" and William R. Castle, former Under-Secretary of State, "The Outlook for War." Dr. Mary E. Woolley, president of Mount Holyoke College and delegate to the Geneva Conference, will talk on "Educating for Peace." Dr. Hamilton Fish Armstrong, editor of "Foreign Affairs," will present "Foreign Peace." The Hon. Charles C. Conner, editor of the Herald Tribune Sunday Magazine and chairman of the Conference, has recently returned from an eight week's stay in England, France, Italy and Germany, where he went to talk to the educational and political leaders of European governments about the social crisis through which most of the world is now passing.

"Previous crises in history," said Mrs. Meloney, such as those which came shortly after 1776, 1851, and 1870, brought changes in forms of government and standards of living to certain groups of countries. This present one, however, spreads over almost the entire earth, and will without question change the destinies of millions of people. It does not seem too much to say that whether civilization, such as we have known it, advances or is destroyed will depend on how well the Hitlerite masses are prepared to meet the new order of things which lies before us. What we most need today is mental and spiritual preparedness for the changes which are about to occur.

"Economic maladjustments, the exploitation of the discontented, the sudden fanning of military flames, the disintegration of old educational systems and the birth and growth of organized youth movements, all of which are problems we are facing today, will be factors in the conference discussion.

"The youth movements of the world will be one of the important subjects of the Conference. We have now in the United States several national youth organizations which are claiming national attention.

"Until what is known as the 'Oxford Oath' against war was taken, many of the political leaders in England were unaware of the importance and wide influence of the youth movements which have developed in Great Britain since the war. Germany's youth movement has become one of Hitler's instruments and also one of his problems. Mussolini has handed the organized youth movement more closely than have the leaders of other European nations. The most recent phase of the revolution in Cuba, which was engineered by students and younger army men, has brought this youth problem very close to our own doors."

"These annual women's conferences organized by the Herald Tribune form the basis for thousands of club programs and forum discussions throughout the United States, and representatives from organizations of major importance are being invited.

The programs will be broadcast over national hook-up.

MY STAR

All that I know
Of a certain star
Is, it can throw
(Like the angled spar)
Now a dart of red,
Now a dart of blue;
Now a dart of blue;
Till my friends have said,
They would faint see too,
My star that darts the red and the blue!
Then it stops like a bird, like a flower,
hangs furled;
They must solace themselves with the Saturn above it.
What matter to me if the star is a world?
Mine has opened its soul to me,
therefore I love it.
Robert Browning.
