

Wake Forest Has Belated Election

W. Scott Buck is New Student Vice-President

W. Scott Buck was elected vice president of the Wake Forest Student Body in an election held September 26. Mr. Buck is a Senior in Law from Ayden, N. C. He was elected by a vote of 117 to 82.

Mr. Buck is a prominent figure in college life at Wake Forest. He has been a member of the Southern Championship Debating Team for the past two seasons. He is President of the Palmettesian Literary Society. For the past year he has been president of the Pi Kappa Delta, Forensic Fraternity.

In addition to being a member of the Law Department at Wake Forest Mr. Buck is a full fledged lawyer, having recently passed the State Bar examination.

Although it seems that Mr. Buck is very well fitted for the office to which he has been elected. One reason for the comparatively light vote cast is that no new man was allowed to vote, since this was a part of last year's election.

Dean Vardell To Continue Series of Opera Talks

"Die Valkyrie" to Be Presented This Afternoon

Thursday afternoon, at 4 o'clock in Memorial Hall, Dean Vardell will continue his series of talks on Wagner's "Ring of the Nibelungen". This week, he will talk on the second opera of the group, which is "Die Valkyrie". Again, he will illustrate his talk by playing excerpts from the opera.

"Some people are so painfully good that they would rather be right than be pleasant."—L. C. Ball.

Davidsonian To Have Rotogravure Section

Students Are to Receive Collegiate Digest

Beginning with the October fourth issue, "The Davidsonian", weekly newspaper of Davidson College will present a rotogravure section called the Collegiate Digest.

This will give a pictorial review of events that happen in the college world. It will be exactly like rotogravure sections in large newspapers, except that all the pictures will concern college life throughout the United States.

It will give the students an opportunity to watch what students in other institutions are doing and will give them educational and scientific developments throughout the world.

Collegiate Digest will tell volumes of stories to its readers each week, for as the old newspaper slogan states: "one picture is worth ten thousand words."

Collegiate Digest will include eight pages of pictures and it is issued at no extra cost.

"THE MYSTERY OF MARSHAL NEY" IS PRESENTED IN CHAPEL

Many of these testimonies, however, are denied in France and by various authorities. Some think that Peter Stuart Ney was Marshal Ney; others find his mind was demoted; and still others think he was a self-declared man deciding to pose as Ney, after he had been thought to resemble him.

"The cynic is one who knows the price of everything and the value of nothing."—Oscar Wilde.

"Snobbery is the pride of those who are not sure of their position."—Berton Bracey.

SENIORS HAVE DINNER FOR MRS. REYNOLDS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE) For most of our diners you'll need a clue. Believe it or not, we aren't from the sun. Look grand at times—we really do. The top of the evening, Mrs. Reynolds, to you!

Our birthday wishes now are two. That you're always happy, never blue. We wish you more, we really do. The top of the evening, Mrs. Reynolds, to you!

The song is to the tune of Georgia Tiel's marching song. We're here tonight to celebrate The birthday of our friend, A friend that's true, a friend that's dear.

Whose loyalty won't end. You cannot find one better. The you look both far and wide, And when she comes to visit us, We almost burst with pride.

So here's to you, Mrs. Reynolds, We think you're mighty nice, And if it was your wedding, We'd throw a lot of rice.

But since it is your birthday, Imagine three big cheers, We hope your luck and happiness Will last throughout the years.

"It may make a difference to all eternity whether we do right or wrong today."—James Freeman Clarke.
