

SALEM WEEKLY NEWS N. C. F. S. WEEKLIES

Seniors Have Impressive Ivy Planting at Salem

Ivy Planted at Lizora Hanes Practice House

Miss Alice Stough, President of Seniors, Leads Ceremony

Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock, the senior class left its first memorial in the ivy which it planted by the side of Lizora Hanes Practice House.

After a short announcement of the program in Memorial Hall, the seniors, led by Miss Cokey Preston, choral marshal, and followed by other marshals, student body and faculty, adjourned to the front of the Practice House.

Miss Kathleen Adams, class poet, then read the Ivy Day poem:
I VY DAY POEM
Come, join with us today.

Then the Ivy Day Oration was given by the class president. The oration, in part, follows:
I VY DAY ORATION
When ivy is planted at the base of a building, and as it grows, it clings to the walls of that building by means of aerial roots or clasps.

Then the Ivy Day Oration was given by the class president. The oration, in part, follows:
I VY DAY ORATION
When ivy is planted at the base of a building, and as it grows, it clings to the walls of that building by means of aerial roots or clasps.

When ivy is planted at the base of a building, and as it grows, it clings to the walls of that building by means of aerial roots or clasps. The plant receives its nourishment from the soil where its main roots find the foundation, but the bulk of the vine finds its support by clinging to the walls of the building.

When ivy is planted at the base of a building, and as it grows, it clings to the walls of that building by means of aerial roots or clasps. The plant receives its nourishment from the soil where its main roots find the foundation, but the bulk of the vine finds its support by clinging to the walls of the building.

When ivy is planted at the base of a building, and as it grows, it clings to the walls of that building by means of aerial roots or clasps. The plant receives its nourishment from the soil where its main roots find the foundation, but the bulk of the vine finds its support by clinging to the walls of the building.

Miss Zina Vologodsky Is Entertained At Tea

Mrs James A. Gray Is Charming Hostess

One of Winston's loveliest social events of this week was the tea given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. James A. Gray in honor of Miss Zina Vologodsky, President of Salem's Y. W. C. A.

Miss Zina Vologodsky, President of Salem's Y. W. C. A. The entire lower floor of the room home on Cherry street was beautifully decorated with flowers, tulips, narcissi, and roses.

Richard Crooks Appears Before Greensboro Civic Music Association

Frank LaForge Accompanies

Thursday evening, April 19, the Civic Music Association of Greensboro, presented Richard Crooks, a tenor, in one of the most brilliant recitals of the season. He was accompanied by Frank La Forge, a noted pianist-composer.

Thursday evening, April 19, the Civic Music Association of Greensboro, presented Richard Crooks, a tenor, in one of the most brilliant recitals of the season.

Thursday evening, April 19, the Civic Music Association of Greensboro, presented Richard Crooks, a tenor, in one of the most brilliant recitals of the season.

Thursday evening, April 19, the Civic Music Association of Greensboro, presented Richard Crooks, a tenor, in one of the most brilliant recitals of the season.

Margaret Johnson Presents Brilliant Piano Concert

Miss Mary Mills Assists

Monday evening at eight-fifteen in Memorial Hall, Miss Margaret Louise Johnson continued the series of evening recitals by presenting a program of piano music, with voice numbers by Miss Mary Mills, contralto.

Monday evening at eight-fifteen in Memorial Hall, Miss Margaret Louise Johnson continued the series of evening recitals by presenting a program of piano music, with voice numbers by Miss Mary Mills, contralto.

Monday evening at eight-fifteen in Memorial Hall, Miss Margaret Louise Johnson continued the series of evening recitals by presenting a program of piano music, with voice numbers by Miss Mary Mills, contralto.

Monday evening at eight-fifteen in Memorial Hall, Miss Margaret Louise Johnson continued the series of evening recitals by presenting a program of piano music, with voice numbers by Miss Mary Mills, contralto.

Monday evening at eight-fifteen in Memorial Hall, Miss Margaret Louise Johnson continued the series of evening recitals by presenting a program of piano music, with voice numbers by Miss Mary Mills, contralto.

Monday evening at eight-fifteen in Memorial Hall, Miss Margaret Louise Johnson continued the series of evening recitals by presenting a program of piano music, with voice numbers by Miss Mary Mills, contralto.

Monday evening at eight-fifteen in Memorial Hall, Miss Margaret Louise Johnson continued the series of evening recitals by presenting a program of piano music, with voice numbers by Miss Mary Mills, contralto.

Monday evening at eight-fifteen in Memorial Hall, Miss Margaret Louise Johnson continued the series of evening recitals by presenting a program of piano music, with voice numbers by Miss Mary Mills, contralto.

Monday evening at eight-fifteen in Memorial Hall, Miss Margaret Louise Johnson continued the series of evening recitals by presenting a program of piano music, with voice numbers by Miss Mary Mills, contralto.

Monday evening at eight-fifteen in Memorial Hall, Miss Margaret Louise Johnson continued the series of evening recitals by presenting a program of piano music, with voice numbers by Miss Mary Mills, contralto.

Monday evening at eight-fifteen in Memorial Hall, Miss Margaret Louise Johnson continued the series of evening recitals by presenting a program of piano music, with voice numbers by Miss Mary Mills, contralto.

Monday evening at eight-fifteen in Memorial Hall, Miss Margaret Louise Johnson continued the series of evening recitals by presenting a program of piano music, with voice numbers by Miss Mary Mills, contralto.

Monday evening at eight-fifteen in Memorial Hall, Miss Margaret Louise Johnson continued the series of evening recitals by presenting a program of piano music, with voice numbers by Miss Mary Mills, contralto.

N. C. F. S. To Meet At Salem April 27-28

Delegates To Hold Fifth Annual Convention Here

Salem College will take great pleasure in welcoming the fifth annual congress of the North Carolina Federation of Students which will hold session here on Friday and Saturday, April 27th and 28th.

Salem College will take great pleasure in welcoming the fifth annual congress of the North Carolina Federation of Students which will hold session here on Friday and Saturday, April 27th and 28th.

Salem College will take great pleasure in welcoming the fifth annual congress of the North Carolina Federation of Students which will hold session here on Friday and Saturday, April 27th and 28th.

Salem College will take great pleasure in welcoming the fifth annual congress of the North Carolina Federation of Students which will hold session here on Friday and Saturday, April 27th and 28th.

Salem College will take great pleasure in welcoming the fifth annual congress of the North Carolina Federation of Students which will hold session here on Friday and Saturday, April 27th and 28th.

Salem College will take great pleasure in welcoming the fifth annual congress of the North Carolina Federation of Students which will hold session here on Friday and Saturday, April 27th and 28th.

"SALEMITE" TO BE IN NEW HANDS

This morning in chapel Miss Susan Calder officially gave up her duties as editor. In a very impressive short ceremony, she gave to Miss Cokey Preston, ink and pen, wishing her, from this year's staff, the best of luck.

Salem Academy Presents Operetta

"Pirates of Penzance" Scheduled for Saturday

Every year Salem Academy has as one of its projects the production of an operetta, usually one by Gilbert and Sullivan. This year, the selection is "The Pirates of Penzance," which is to be presented at the Academy on Saturday night at 8:15 o'clock.

Every year Salem Academy has as one of its projects the production of an operetta, usually one by Gilbert and Sullivan. This year, the selection is "The Pirates of Penzance," which is to be presented at the Academy on Saturday night at 8:15 o'clock.

Every year Salem Academy has as one of its projects the production of an operetta, usually one by Gilbert and Sullivan. This year, the selection is "The Pirates of Penzance," which is to be presented at the Academy on Saturday night at 8:15 o'clock.

Every year Salem Academy has as one of its projects the production of an operetta, usually one by Gilbert and Sullivan. This year, the selection is "The Pirates of Penzance," which is to be presented at the Academy on Saturday night at 8:15 o'clock.

Every year Salem Academy has as one of its projects the production of an operetta, usually one by Gilbert and Sullivan. This year, the selection is "The Pirates of Penzance," which is to be presented at the Academy on Saturday night at 8:15 o'clock.

Every year Salem Academy has as one of its projects the production of an operetta, usually one by Gilbert and Sullivan. This year, the selection is "The Pirates of Penzance," which is to be presented at the Academy on Saturday night at 8:15 o'clock.

Every year Salem Academy has as one of its projects the production of an operetta, usually one by Gilbert and Sullivan. This year, the selection is "The Pirates of Penzance," which is to be presented at the Academy on Saturday night at 8:15 o'clock.

Salem College To Stage Gay May Day Festival

Mrs. Rondthaler Talks At Vespers

Seniors Are In Charge of Service

On Sunday evening the senior class had charge of the vesper service. Miss Alice Stough, the president, presided. After Margaret Johnson had played the prelude Annie Shuford read the scripture and Sarah Horton prayed. Following the devotions, George Dickerson played a very impressive violin solo.

On Sunday evening the senior class had charge of the vesper service. Miss Alice Stough, the president, presided. After Margaret Johnson had played the prelude Annie Shuford read the scripture and Sarah Horton prayed.

On Sunday evening the senior class had charge of the vesper service. Miss Alice Stough, the president, presided. After Margaret Johnson had played the prelude Annie Shuford read the scripture and Sarah Horton prayed.

On Sunday evening the senior class had charge of the vesper service. Miss Alice Stough, the president, presided. After Margaret Johnson had played the prelude Annie Shuford read the scripture and Sarah Horton prayed.

Material Received For Depository Library

Government Publications Available For Public

The announcement made several weeks ago, that Salem College was to have a Depository Library is of peculiar and of great significance to the citizens of Winston-Salem as well as to the college and academy. Already publications have begun to appear, and a wealth of material will soon be available for the public.

The announcement made several weeks ago, that Salem College was to have a Depository Library is of peculiar and of great significance to the citizens of Winston-Salem as well as to the college and academy.

The announcement made several weeks ago, that Salem College was to have a Depository Library is of peculiar and of great significance to the citizens of Winston-Salem as well as to the college and academy.

The announcement made several weeks ago, that Salem College was to have a Depository Library is of peculiar and of great significance to the citizens of Winston-Salem as well as to the college and academy.

The announcement made several weeks ago, that Salem College was to have a Depository Library is of peculiar and of great significance to the citizens of Winston-Salem as well as to the college and academy.

The announcement made several weeks ago, that Salem College was to have a Depository Library is of peculiar and of great significance to the citizens of Winston-Salem as well as to the college and academy.

The announcement made several weeks ago, that Salem College was to have a Depository Library is of peculiar and of great significance to the citizens of Winston-Salem as well as to the college and academy.

The announcement made several weeks ago, that Salem College was to have a Depository Library is of peculiar and of great significance to the citizens of Winston-Salem as well as to the college and academy.

Coronation of May Queen Glamorous Event on Historic Sylvan Campus

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—Every tourist may look at a queen if he is in the vicinity of Salem College on the first Saturday in May. On that day is held the annual May Day festival, when the queen of the college, personification of Southern beauty, charm, brilliance, poise, and culture, ascends her throne.

Mrs. Mebane Speaks In Y. P. M.

On Life in the Legislature

On Wednesday, April 18, Mrs. Lily Morehead Mebane spoke in the Y. P. M. Her subject was "On Life in the Legislature." She spoke for two terms of service in the North Carolina Legislature.

On Wednesday, April 18, Mrs. Lily Morehead Mebane spoke in the Y. P. M. Her subject was "On Life in the Legislature." She spoke for two terms of service in the North Carolina Legislature.

On Wednesday, April 18, Mrs. Lily Morehead Mebane spoke in the Y. P. M. Her subject was "On Life in the Legislature." She spoke for two terms of service in the North Carolina Legislature.

On Wednesday, April 18, Mrs. Lily Morehead Mebane spoke in the Y. P. M. Her subject was "On Life in the Legislature." She spoke for two terms of service in the North Carolina Legislature.

On Wednesday, April 18, Mrs. Lily Morehead Mebane spoke in the Y. P. M. Her subject was "On Life in the Legislature." She spoke for two terms of service in the North Carolina Legislature.

MISS MICKEY'S RECITAL

On next Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock, Miss Mary Louise Mickey will present her graduating recital in piano. The public is invited.