

ACADEMY ENTERTAIN SENIORS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE)

tra and an interpretive dance was given by Mrs. Gloria Cross, of Winston-Salem.

Faculty guests of the occasion were: Dr. and Mrs. Howard S. Rondthaler, Miss Mary Weaver, Miss Charlotta Jackson, Miss Elizabeth Zachary, Miss Lucy Perry, Miss Jess Byrd and Miss Virginia Wilson. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bahmon.

Seniors attending were the Misses Gertrude Bagwell, Louise Franzer, Josephine Gribbin, Kathryn Kligore, Anne Perkins, Margaret Hicks, and Blevins Vogler, of Winston-Salem; and Peggy Braslow, Pasadena, Calif.; Barbara Fulton, Knoxville, Tenn.; Florence Jeffress, Danville, Va.; Mary Margaret Johnson, Old Port; Julia Lawson, Roanoke, Va.; Kathleen Madden, Knoxville, Tenn.; Florence Pearsall, Wilmington; Betty Sanders, Roanoke, Va.; Frances Reid, Charleston, W. Va.; Fannie Stokely, Newport, Tenn.; Laura Holcomb, Greensboro; Martha Birdsey, Macon, Ga.; and Helen Litz, Washington, D. C.

Junior hostesses included: The Misses Betty Bahmon, Sarah Lyell Glenn, Helen McArthur, Ellen Moore, Mary Laura Perryman, Elizabeth Trotman, Kate Pratt, Marguerite Willingham, and Olivia Womble, of Winston-Salem; and Ruth Greene, Asheville; Josephine Litz, Charleston, W. Va.; Jean Gray Scott, Graham; Shirley Tompkins, East Wilinston, N. Y.; Mary Charlotte Yount, Kings Mountain, and Margaret Wood, Canton, Ga.

CONCERT

(Continued from Page One)

soloists as Amor, god of Love. All three of these girls are from Winston-Salem and have studied voice under Mr. Ernest Schofield, head of the voice department of Salem. Miss Kinzel graduated from Salem two years ago, while Miss Mills and Miss Bigby are still pupils at the present. Miss Hazel Horton Reade will be the concert master of the orchestra. Orpheus was first produced in the late 18th century, marking at the time, a change from the artificial stilted operas of the Italian Neapolitan School to a more normal and dramatic form. It has since held an important place in all the opera houses of the world. The story is that of the myth of Orpheus which is concerned with his seeking his dead wife, Eurydice, in the underworld. The spell of his music is so great that the gods permit him to lead Eurydice out of Hades alive, provided he does not look back. But Orpheus does look back over his shoulder and his wife dies once more. The myth ends here, but in the opera Eurydice is restored to life again and all finishes happily.

The concert will be free and open to the public. It is one of the outstanding events of commencement and is certainly worth while hearing.

TEAGUE'S

Women's Smart Apparel
Winston-Salem, N. C.
Summer Cottages for Sports and Dress Wear
319 W. 4th St. Phone 6232

REVIEW 1933-'34

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE THREE)

in their convention work and their charming hostesses that they almost forgot to go home. Delegates were sent by the Student Government to Washington for the N. S. F. A., and to Tennessee for S. I. A. S. G., so the grasshopper will have to do some tall hopping to touch all the Student Government projects.

The big Athletic event of the fall was the Hockey Tournament, won by the Sophomores, and the Hockey Banquet. In the spring came the Basketball tournament, also won by the Sophomores, and the Basketball Banquet. Then there was the introduction this year of archery and ring tennis. The tennis tournament, horse show and swimming meet are among the last stops for the weary grasshopper.

He has two more — Exams and Commencement! Maybe we should have chosen a caterpillar instead of a grasshopper, so he could have gone into a cocoon during the commencement period and then burst forth a butterfly for the final and exciting graduating exercises next weekend.

The REYNOLD'S GRILL

For The Best In Food
We Cater to Banquets and Dinner Parties
Cafeteria on 10th Floor Reasonable Price

Dr. Robert N. Walker
Optometric Eye-Specialist
300-1-2 Reynolds Bldg.

Marinello Scientific Facials and Scalp Treatment
GILDA BEAUTY SALON
824 Nissen Bldg. Tel. 8355

IN THIS LAST ISSUE OF THE SALEMITE FOR THIS SEMESTER

Salem Book Store

Desires to express their appreciation for the loyal patronage of the Salem students and Faculty.

"Sign of Distinction"
JUNIOR LEAGUE BEAUTY SHOP
Robert E. Lee Hotel Bldg.

Sodas MS Sandwiches
MORRIS SERVICE

TO KEEP THAT GIRLISH FIGURE — SEE

NETTIE STEPHENS CORSET SHOP
624 West 4th St. Dial 8031

Many New Cotton Fabrics Now On Display At

THE ANCHOR CO.

ENGRAVING
New, Different and Better
H. T. Hearn Engraving Co.
217 Farmers Bank Bldg.

I THANK YOU—
I thank you ever so much—but I couldn't even think about smoking a cigarette."

"WELL, I UNDERSTAND,
but they are so mild and taste so good that I thought you might not mind trying one while we are riding along out here."