

THE LADY AUTUMN

Look quickly;
Then turn your eyes away—
Look closely;
But look not thus on her again—
Outstretched across the sky.

Her amber hair, her tinted nails,
A fiery banner,
A challenge to the world
And me!

But, oh,
It is
Death
Creeping slowly, softly, sprightly.
We are not sad that she has taken
wings,
We would not have her so again—
Speak not of Autumn's beauty—It is pain—
A pent up joy for sweet forbidden things.

—Oh yes,
The air is brisk,
The weather's fair
Gaze about with sleep-dulled eyes
And casually remark to your neighbor
That it's a gala, gorgeous maple
A lovely day.

But once
Look quickly
Then turn your eyes away.

SENIORS HAVE THE "GOBUGS"

The Seniors must have decided to celebrate or sompin' this week-end.
They certainly took off to other points.

Cokey Preston and Rachel Carroll journeyed to Davidson, whence they reported an excellent time. Dorothy Moore left in the middle of the week for Thomasville. Humm, Dot, have you gone "Curlee?"

Homeward went Julia Lee Little and Sarah Johnston. Bushy McLean spent the week-end with our friend Hadley.

Up from State came a little short boy to see a little short girl. Says Fannie Hill, "I walked into the living room and there was Alan." And From South Carolina came the "Bakey" Man (even though the bank did burn), and Martha Binder was satisfied. Happy landings, Seniors! Make the most of this last year.

"What's the idea of that cross-eyed man for a store detective?"

"Well, look at him. Can you tell who he is watching?"

HOW NOT TO LIGHT A BRIDGE TABLE

Think of trying to play bridge by the light of two candles, stuck in bottle tops. Yet that is the equivalent of the light in many homes — a level of illumination that will make any party drag.

For gayer, livelier parties, use an indirect portable lamp. It provides the ideal light shadowless and glareless — for playing bridge and other games in comfort . . . and an equally efficient light for a quiet evening of reading.

Phone Southern Public Utilities Co. and ask for a free demonstration of the new type direct-indirect lamp in your home.

GET A LIFT
WITH A CAMEL!

POPULAR NEW YORK
DEBUTANTE: "Smoking a Camel is the quickest way to relieve fatigue that I know," says Miss Mimi Richardson. "It always refreshes me. And I love the taste of Camels. They seem to be milder and smoother!"

PHYSICAL INSTRUCTOR.
Charles Adams says:
"When I feel my energy
sagging, I light a Camel
and get a sense of renewed vim. I enjoy this delightful 'lift' often. For I know Camels will never interfere with healthy nerves."

LEAF-TOBACCO
EXPERTS AGREE:
"Camels are made from
finer, More Expensive Tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

DAVID H. JARVIS, '36—STUDENT OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERING. "Poring
over charts and figures for that Mechanical Engineering degree makes a fellow pretty tired at times—but smoking Camels helps a lot," reports David Jarvis. "When I feel my alertness and energy slipping away, I light a Camel. In no time I lose that 'all in' feeling. I like the taste of Camels better, too.
It is a fact that Camels are different—richer, milder. And I can smoke them one after another without ever bothering my nerves."
