

SALEM ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION
CELEBRATING--BANQUET TONIGHT

VICTORIOUS TEAM FETED AS SEASON ENDS

Miss Stockton Does Herself
Proud Again in Exterior
And Interior Decorating

Well, girls! Here we are at the Hockey Banquet. It's a little after 6:15 p. m. and the dining room is all bedecked with tables forming a great hockey stick, and Thanksgiving decorations. In case you were not up near the front the orchestra—yes, a real orchestra—played the Washington and Lee Swing while we entered, led by Doctor and Mrs. Rondthaler. Miss Atkinson and Miss Margaret Ward marched next, and then, in the usual order, Seniors, Juniors, Sophs and Freshes. Those were very attractive place cards by which we found our places. Lois Torrence made them in class colors.

The decorations charmingly forecast Thanksgiving and two teams of turkeys with hockey sticks (I never knew turkeys played hockey) are holding forth in the center of the tables. Autumn leaves screen the orchestra. Miss Margaret Ward has given us all a pleasant greeting and various toasts will follow. The song contest will take place between the classes with Dr. Rondthaler, Mr. Schofield, and Miss Vaughn as the judges. The Hockey Medals will be presented by Miss Minnie Atkinson at the close of the banquet and the Hockey Season will then reach its grand and glorious finish. You know by now which class is victorious. The closing anthem will be a most appropriate one. If it were called "Farewell to Knee-Caps," we might think we were still playing hockey!

SONG CONTEST

Original songs have been composed by each class in honor of the banquet tonight. These songs are to be presented and the best one judged. You will find a copy of the songs on this page with the exception of the Freshman Song, which will be distributed by the Freshman Class. They want it to be a surprise.

DR. AND MRS. ANSCOMBE
CELEBRATE SILVER
WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Many Friends Call to Offer
Congratulations

November 15, Dr. and Mrs. Francis C. Ancombe entertained the faculties of Salem Academy and Salem College and other friends at their home on Park Boulevard in honor of their silver wedding anniversary. Miss Isabel Ferguson greeted the guests at the door and presented them to Dr. and Mrs. Ancombe.

The wedding of Dr. and Mrs. Ancombe was a truly Quaker one, in which the contracting parties married themselves. The marriage certificate was of special interest because of its fine penmanship and beautiful painting on its binding.

In the center of the table in the dining room there was a lovely cake, elaborately iced, and decorated with silver leaves. "Twenty-fifth anniversary" was inscribed on it. Miss Minnie J. Smith poured tea, and Misses Dorothy Knox, Elizabeth Zachary, and Mrs. Robert Walker served the attractive refreshments.

Salem students extend to Dr. and Mrs. Ancombe their best wishes, and hope they will have much happiness in the years to come.

SENIORS DEFEAT
SOPHOMORES

Consolation Hockey Game

Wednesday afternoon, November 21, many onlookers in the grandstand of the Salem College Hockey Field were greatly excited when the Seniors and Sophomores met in a fierce combat. Both forces put up determined fights, and joy of joys! the Sophomores, in the person of Rawlingson, made a goal. The score at the end of the first half was to the Sophs' good, 1-0!

In the second half of the game, the tenseness was increased and suddenly brought to a climax when Tuttle made two goals for the Seniors. Thus when the whistle was blown the score was 2-1, in favor of the Seniors.

STARTS OFF HOCKEY SEASON

The Freshmen made a good showing in their first Hockey game on Friday, November 2, but the Juniors defeated them by a score of 1-0 when Blum made a goal. Both teams emerged from the game much wiser than they had entered it. The Freshmen learned by sad experience about "sticks," "free hits," "roll-ins," and "corners." The Juniors and other upper-classmen learned about "the Freshmen." Miss Anna Preston and Miss Shorty Biles were umpires.

"AND THEY BUNCHED LIKE GRAPES"

On Wednesday, November 7, the second game of the Hockey season was played by the Seniors and Sophomores. Tuttle scored the only goal of the game, giving the final score of 1-0 in favor of the Seniors. The players on the bench did a lot of

HOCKEY SEASON CLOSES IN GLORIOUS BURST OF SPIRIT

SENIORS PLANT MAPLE TREE IN FRONT OF
ALICE CLEWELL BLDG.

Friendship Chain to Be Presented Later

This morning during the Chapel period, the Senior Class held its Tree Planting Ceremony in front of Alice Clewell Building. The tree is a red maple, the kind whose leaves turn such a beautiful fiery color every fall.

After a musical selection by Mr. Schofield in the auditorium, the audience, led by the Senior class marched down the street to the beat of drums. Gathered around the front of Alice Clewell Building, they listened to short speeches by Dr. Rondthaler and Mary Penn.

Mary explained that the Senior Class has ordered a non rusting brass chain to be placed around the base of the tree. On each of the thirty-eight links in this chain will be engraved the name of a Senior. The end of the chain will be joined together in symbol of the everlasting relationship which joins the members of the Class of '35.

Because the chain had to be ordered, it was impossible to use it in the tree planting ceremony, but the Seniors expect it within the next week.

SONGS

SOPHOMORE SONG

Tune—Original, by B. C. Dunford
By thy strength, O Salem
Thy light shall flash across the sky.
We shall march to victory
With thy banner high.

By fair play, clean sportsmanship
What is hard to undertake?
And we shall help you fight,
Nor thy cause ever forsake.

With never-ending loyalty
We strive to lift thy name;
No credit do we wish ourselves,
Thine be the everlasting fame.
—Sara Ingram.

SENIOR SONG

Tune: Or Was It Just a Dream?
Stand up and cheer a name,
Whose fame will never die.
We'll lift and hold it high;
And without shame
We'll shout it to the sky,
IT'S SALEM, FOREVER!!

And it is her dear name,
The same that came to us
From ancient days,
And history glorious,
That is a flame
To burn victorious
FOREVER MORE!!!

JUNIOR CLASS SONG

Tune: "Oh, Davidson"
Come on and fight, fight for Salem,
Down her every foe.
Come on and win, win for Salem,
Show them how to go,
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Yellow and white, we'll fight for victory,
We pledge to you our Salem loyalty.

MISS RIGGAN'S ABSENCE

Miss Riggan has been at home in Southern Pines for the past week because of the illness of her mother. All of us have been a little lost without her, and think about her constantly.

PLAYERS DISPLAY
SKILL, ENTHUSIASM, AND INDIVIDUALITY

Varsity to Be Chosen From Four Class Teams

From sitting on balls to knocking them through goals, the hockey players have made this a spectacular season. To begin from the ground and ascend, the freshmen have made the upper classmen stand back with mouths gaping. Of course Weasle's solidity and rock wall durability have made the freshman backfield pretty secure. Willena Couch does by no means lie down on the job, and Cornelia Wolfe keeps her wits about her even if her hair does fly away. The North has done well by its trio, Lincoln, Knox and King. Lincoln's ancestor, Knox's long legs, and King's rotundity keep the ball from rolling into their opponent's goal. Even if Grace Parker did break a stick it shows how that girl can hit. Perhaps we should attribute the freshmen's unusual record to their "ducky" little white tunics. Do they make you feel like professionals, Freshmen?

The Sophomores! Considering that Freeman is so near-sighted, that Rawlingson takes such short steps, that Council sneekers at every mishit, that Bullock runs so swiftly, that Norman stands and hits, that Ritter cuts up capers when she is excited, that Highsmith substitutes for Fraley, that Hutchison broke her glasses, that Calder is Susan's sister, you played a very respectable series of games. We congratulate you on knowing how and when to sell food at the hockey game.

Juniors? X Marx the spot behind which the ball is not permitted to go. The shackles all fall from the juniors' feet when Fetters is loosed, to say nothing of Blum, Best,

JAZZ NUMBER GETS APPLAUSE AT THE SYMPHONY CONCERT

Dean Vardell Receives Eight Curtain Calls

The largest audience of the season turned out Monday night to hear the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra present a program which included a symphonic jazz number. Lamar Stringfield conducted the orchestra in the Reynolds Auditorium. Dean Charles G. Vardell, Jr., of the Music Department of Salem won an ovation for his outstanding solo work in the piano part of "Rhapsody in Blue," by Gershwin. The entire program was well received by the audience.

The first number was Weber's "Oberon Overture." In this the work of the strings and woodwinds stood out. The overture is very beautiful, especially certain lilting passages of the violins.

Next on the program were the third and fourth movements of the "Scheherazade Suite" by Rimsky-Korsakow, called "The Young Princess" and "Festival at Bagdad." These selections were melodic, oriental, and very well played. The audience was delighted by them.

"Night on Bare Mountain," by Moussorgsky, was the last number before intermission. This weird composition expresses in music "Subterranean sounds of supernatural voices—appearance of the spirits of darkness, followed by that of Satan himself—Glorification of Satan and

HOCKEY SEASON ENDS WITH HARVEST BALL

SILVER SLIPERS REPLACE
SHIN-GUARDS AT GAY AFFAIR

Orchestra Transforms the Hut Into Music Hall

What could be a more appropriate way of ending the hockey season than with a ball, we ask you? (Only here's hoping you didn't have a "sticky" time). (Did you catch the point? You know, hockey, sticks, ball—a pun).

The gym you left this afternoon so cold, so bare, has by this time—(if the crepe-paper got here) been turned into a veritable cornfield, gay with streamers and pumpkins and corn shucks and other things harvesty. And by the time you wend your way down there the orchestra playing so melodiously now will have sneaked out the back way and beat you there.

There will also be food available in case you need nourishment in the midst of the Continental—which we bear is the only dance of the season. Anyway, be sociable. Scoop out a dime, push your way to the hut, dribble your pennies in the goal keeper's palm, and have your shin guards stepped on tonight at the Harvest Ball. (P. S. no cutting in from the left or undercutting allowed).
