SALEM PARTICIPATES IN COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE

Benefits Are For The Undernourished School Children

Students of Salem College have had the privilege and opportunity to participate in Winston-Salem's 1935 campaign for the Community Chest which was launched Thursday morning, March 7. The campaign, in general, is in behalf of local relief and city welfare; the contributions of Salem students, which Dr. Rondthaler reported as being very generous and encouraging, are to be used for the benefit of undernourished school children. Not only students of Salem but faculty, superintendents, and servants, have all participated in the campaign through their voluntary contributions. The response at Salem, was on the whole, very gratifying.

The goal for the drive is $137,500. Mr. Agnew H. Bahson is Chairman of the Community Chest Commission and Mr. Paul A. Bennett is vice-chairman and director of the drive.

COLLEGE ACQUIRES FORTUNE

New Addition To Library

Salem College wishes to thank Mr. M. S. Cohen for the gift to its library of the magazine, "Fortune." We are greatly indebted to Mr. Cohen. The magazine is an extremely interesting one published monthly.

H. N. RONDTHALER IS HOST AT WEINER ROAST

Grandson Following In Footsteps

Clemmons—Howard N. Rondthaler and a group of 17 enthusiastic boys celebrated his seventh birthday in appropriate style on Saturday afternoon with a weiner roast. After a fire was started and sticks cut by the boys, for roasting, "eats" were served by the host. Howard Rondthaler is the grandson of Dr. Howard Rondthaler.

Chapel Hill

In the Daily Tar Heel dated March 10th there is a long interesting column written about Dr. Rondthaler. He has been voted University Alumni Association Head for 1935, as we know, but I really think you should read the article yourself. Salemites so that you can see for yourself what other admirers say about your wonderful president.

HAMPTON QUARTET PRESENTED IN SALEM ACADEMY CHAPEL

Bass A Member of Quartet For 48 Years

The students and faculty of the Salem Academy and friends from the college and the city were much thrilled by the program presented by the Hampton Quartet, Monday morning at 10:30. The four singers had beautiful voices and presented characteristic Southern negro folk songs—among them "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Let My People Go," "A Wheel Within a Wheel," and "Adam Didn't Have No Mammy." The bass singer has been a member of the quartet for 48 years, and received applause for his long membership.

Between selections, the exhibit of negro paintings was explained by the artist, Mr. Cooper, of Charlotte, N. C. Two of these portraits have won the State prize in preceding years. The first depicted a typical bootblack boy, the second, a wash woman, and so on, until the last was a picture of a highly esteemed educator, "one of the most celebrated men of our race," said the artist.

At the close of the concert, the audience was still unsatisfied and clapped loudly for more songs, but as the quartet is on a very complicated and extended tour of colleges, the singers could not re-appear. If anyone has a chance to hear these singers, he should certainly count it a privilege and be sure not to miss them.

NEW SYSTEM IN GERMAN UNIVERSITIES

Nazis Let Traditions Go

Glancing through the March 10th edition of the "Journal and Sentinel," I noticed an article on the German Universities under Nazi rule, and as most of us are interested in universities (or at least in one important element of them), it appeared that it might be interesting to know how the Nazi section of the university world live.

The article stated that "recent Nazi decrees sweeping aside century old traditions of German Academic life, have modified the standing of universities and university teachers beyond recognition."

MOTHER GOOSE THEME CARRIED OUT AT BANQUET FOR PROCTORS

The Student Council entertained all of its proctors, those that have been and those that are, at a delightfully naive dinner at six o'clock Thursday evening. The party was held in the Little Dining Room, which had been converted into a veritable Nursery Land with all of the little pigs, Red Riding Hood, the wolf and other Mother Goose friends decorating the tables.

During the evening the entertainment further carried out the nursery rhyme theme. Bushie McLean read a clever modern version of Little Red Riding Hood and the Big Bad Wolfe, and Rebecca Hines sang fitting songs accompanied by Dorothy Thompson at the piano. Then everyone joined in guessing nursery rhymes and it was decided that Jo Whitehead and Gertie Schwalbe were the least educated children present.

NEWEST FASHIONS SEEN AT ACADEMY FASHION SHOW

Cinderella Story Retold; She Gets Clothes Instead of Prince

The Senior Class of Salem Academy sponsored a fashion show Friday night at the Academy. New spring clothes from Sosniks, D. G. Craven, and the Ideal were shown. As a background for the show, Lady Kate Allen and Lucy Gray Smith gave a little playlet in which a peasant girl was instructed by her fairy godmother as to the different types of clothes she should wear. (We hope the peasant got the dresses after the demonstration). First came school dresses, then church dresses, late afternoon, and evening dresses. As a climax there was a beautiful wedding dress. Lady Kate was the godmother; Lucy Gray played the part of the peasant girl. The godmother was assisted by the following models: Helen Gilmore Dickson, Patsy Hill, Jane Irving, Mary Louise McLendon, Ellen Moore, Jean Gray Scott, Shirley Tompkins, Dorothy Wyatt, Ethel Young. Margaret Hanner Critcher furnished music.

MISS STOCKTON TO PRODUCE INTERESTING SHOW

Campus Talent Shows In Annual Entertainment

Miss "Flo" Ziegfeld Stockton announces an approaching event which will bring much delight to the hearts and applause to the hands of Salem show-goers. On Friday night, March 22nd, Director Stockton and Company will present "Follies Negres," which bids fair to be the most popular production of the campus theatrical season.

With the help of such talented stars as Conrad, Mary, "Hally," Russell and his little girl, and the Laundry women, Miss Stockton promises to put on a performance even greater than last year's show, which met with such tremendous success.

None of us who so enthusiastically encored the attractive songs, dances and comedy numbers of last spring's production, are planning to miss the approaching sequel.

If you want to see, hear, and applaud Salem campus talent which makes even the famous Stepin Fetchit himself look like an amateur, reserve your seat now for the Follies Negres.

ALMA MATER ELECTS SALEM'S PRESIDENT TO HEAD ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Bowman Gray Named On Athletic Council

Salem is proud to hear that its president has recently been honored by the University of North Carolina of which he is an alumnus. Mail ballots were cast by the alumni during the past few weeks, by which Dr. Rondthaler was elected president of the Alumni Association. He was elected over William C. Woodward, of Rocky Mount, the other nominee. Vice-Presidents elected were J. Harper Erwing, Jr. of Durham, and Robert C. deRosset, of Raleigh.

Mr. Bowman Gray, Jr. of Winston-Salem was elected to a three-year term as alumni representative on the University Athletic Council.

FRESHMAN COMMISSION IS ENTERTAINED AT DINNER

On Friday, March 8, the Freshman Commission of the Y. W. C. A. were honor guests at a lovely dinner given by the Cabinet in the little dining room.

The tables were decorated with large bowls of jonquils and tall green candles, and this color scheme of green and yellow was carried out in the individual mint baskets and attractive placecards bearing twigs of pussy willows.

The President, Martha Binder, welcomed the guests, and Mary Louise McClung from the Freshman Commission responded by giving a brief summary of the Commission's work for the year. Then everybody joined in two amusing games, a flower contest and a "famous women" contest, in which Frances Cole, Eloise Sample and Charlotte King were the successful winners.

Mrs. Rondthaler brought a message from the advisory board, and Gertrude Schwalbe told about the child the "Y" is helping support in Alaska.

"VOLK TANZ ABEND" ENJOYED BY GERMAN CLUB

Fraulein Vaughn Teaches Folk Dances

At a most enjoyable meeting last night in the recreation room of Louisa Bitting Building, the German Club members learned the "ins and outs" of German Folk Dancing. After four characteristic dances were executed (not killed), but executed, the young, enthusiastic "deutschlanders" were invited over to the bier-bar for gingerale and pretzels. A little verse was inscribed above the bar which read: Gutes Bier—(good beer) Kalt wie Eis—(Cold as ice) Keines Pfennig—(no penny) Ist das Preis—(Is the price)
