

HAVE YOU WRITTEN
YOUR SALEM
SLOGAN?

The Salemite

HAVE YOU WRITTEN
YOUR SALEM
SLOGAN?

VOL. XVI.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1935.

Number 7.

BIBLE COLLECTION EXHIBITED IN LIBRARY

German Bible of 1770 On Display

Dr. Rondthaler, Dr. Ancombe, and Miss Marks have contributed to an interesting Bible collection in the library. The Bibles are written in German, Greek, Hebrew, Latin, Pitman's shorthand and English and have a wide range in dates. The largest and oldest Bible on display is a German Bible which is dated 1770. There is also an illustrated German Testament printed in Germany.

In addition to German Bibles there are Greek ones. Johanne Leusden's Bible in Greek with a Latin version was published in 1875 and the Greek Testament was published "with the kind permission of the Wurttemberg Society" by the British and Foreign Bible Society in 1904.

"The Victorian Diamond Jubilee New Testament" is in Pitman's shorthand and was "translated out of the original Greek and with former translations — compared and revised by His Majesty's special command."

Other types of Bibles in the collection are a translation of the four gospels from Aramaic, an interlinear Hebrew — English Testament, a translation in modern English made from the original Greek, James Moffat's translation, an "American Standard Version," a translation according to the Masoretic text, and a translation from the Latin Vulgate.

A group of children's Bibles includes illustrated Bible stories, the Lord's Prayer, and Bibles for old and young children.

Stop to examine this worth-while Bible display.

8:30 CHAPEL

THE REV. C. C. ROBERTS
CHAPEL SPEAKER

At Tuesday morning chapel the guest speaker was the Reverend C. C. Roberts of the Fourth Street Church of Christ. He began his talk by saying that he was going to be different from the usual chapel speaker in his talk for he was going to relate his own problems and his methods of facing them instead of discussing the general problems of today. His subject was the importance of prayer to young people and he pointed out the advantages of prayer and the ways in which to pray. He made his talk very interesting by relating vividly his experiences in South America.

EMILY DICKINSON SUBJECT OF TALK BY MISS LILLY

The Saturday morning chapel was given to Miss Elizabeth Lilly who talked about Emily Dickinson, the New England poetess. Miss Lilly gave the life of Emily Dickinson and read several of her poems which illustrated her outlook on life. Her poems are famous for their conciseness and her presentations of subjects in as few words as possible. The poetess lived very much in seclusion, the cause of which, some biographers say, was an unhappy love affair. The fame of her poems is due to her individual interpretation chapel period was enjoyed very much of life and everyday problems. The by everyone for through it the students were reacquainted with the much loved Emily Dickinson.

(CONTINUED ON PAGE FOUR)

MISS RIGGAN SPEAKS ON MUNITIONS AND PEACE PROBLEM

World Fellowship Committee Sponsors Talk

The second of the series of talks under the auspices of the World Fellowship Committee was given by Miss Riggan Tuesday afternoon. Her topic was "Munition and the Peace Problem."

Gunpowder was imported into Europe in the Middle Ages. At first the newly manufactured guns were used only in besieging and hunting, because they were considered cowardly. However, during the French Revolution guns came more into use, and their manufacture progressed. Here arises a complex problem: how to deal with the large munition making concerns that have been established in our and in every country. Their control is in the hands of a few men. Although in violation of treaties and their expressed condemnation of war, they sell their products to the countries at war.

Alfred Krupp has been an outstanding figure in the armament question in Germany. He has built up a gigantic business, and before the World War was supplying fifty-two nations with arms. Today, in theory, his equipment is used for peaceful industrial needs. In reality he is rearming Germany. Although violating the Treaty of Versailles, he is shipping arms to other countries.

The United States is definitely involved in the question of armament. There is in the United States a large munition manufacturing going on, although the public may not know it. Among the companies are the Du Pont Co., Colt Co., Remington Co., Bethlehem Steel Co.

England is the greatest exporter of armaments in the world. The Vickers-Armstrong Co. sells annually $100,000,000 worth of armaments to other countries. This company has a huge research staff under its president, a staff which is constantly working for improvements. The company's trustees are men of nobility, and are interested in financial organization. These men made great profits from the sale of arms during the war. Another munitions company in England is the Vickers Co. It was begun in 1829, and although it made slow progress at first, is now a great

(CONTINUED ON PAGE FOUR)

VESPER SERVICE AT THE HOME CHURCH

The Rev. Gordon Spough Is Speaker

At five o'clock on Sunday afternoon, a Vesper Service was held in the Home Church, taking the place of the regular Sunday evening service at 7:45.

The theme of the service was the Lord's Prayer and the choir and the congregation sang antiphonally.

Reverend Gordon Spough's address concerned the divisions of the Lord's prayer. He said that it is divided into four parts:

1. Ascription "Our Father Who Art In Heaven"
2. Godward Petitions — Thy "Hallowed be Thy Name" "Thy Kingdom Come" "Thy Will be Done on Earth as it is in Heaven."
3. Manward Petitions — Us "Give Us this day or daily bread" "Forgive Us our trespasses as we forgive them that trespass against Us." "Lead Us not into temptation." "But deliver Us from evil."
4. A Doxology "For Thine is the Power and

(CONTINUED ON PAGE FOUR)

INFLUENCE OF BIBLE ON LITERATURE

SLOGAN CONTEST CLOSSES SATURDAY

Hurry! You still have time to enter the Clark Gable Slogan Contest. The contest is not over until Saturday, November 2, at one o'clock, but all slogans must be put in the Salemite Office by that time.

The contest is open to any member of the regularly enrolled student body, and the prize is five dollars. The rules are few and simple. First, don't forget to take into consideration all Salem organizations, since the slogan will also apply to them as well as to the Salemite. Second, get your slogan to the Salemite office before one o'clock Saturday.

If you haven't already done so, try right now to think of a snappy Salem slogan. Your slogan may be worth five dollars to you.

Judges:

Miss Marjorie Knox
Miss Elizabeth Lily
Mr. Albert Oerter

MUSIC STUDENTS HEARD IN RECITAL MONDAY

First In Series of Student Recitals

The Salem College School of Music presented several students in a vocal and instrumental recital, Monday, October 28, 1935, at Memorial Hall. This was the first of the series of student's recitals which will be given this year.

Monday night's program was as follows:

- A Pastoral Veracini
- Elegie Massenet
- Miss Harriet Taylor
- My Lady Walks in Loveliness Charles
- There is a Ladye Bury
- Mr. Ted Bodenheimer
- Etude in A flat major, Op. 25, No. 1 Chopin
- Miss Hazel McMahan
- Avant de Quitter ces Lieux (Faust) Gounod
- Mr. Brooks Bynum
- Variations de Concert Bonnet
- Miss Anna Withers
- Im Wunderschonen Monat Schumann
- Aus Meinen Thranen Spriessen Schumann
- Allnachtlich in Traume Schumann
- Miss Mary Mills
- Valse in C Sharp Minor Chopin
- Etude in G flat major, Op. 10, No. 5 Chopin
- Miss Jean Robinson
- In Questa Tomba Oscura Beethoven
- Sapphische Ode Brahms
- Der Wanderer Schubert
- Mr. Richard Hine

DR. SMITH AND LATIN CLUB ENTERTAIN AT TEA

On Thursday afternoon, from three-thirty to five-thirty Dr. Minnie J. Smith and the Latin Club, Alpha Iota Pi, entertained the new Latin students at a Hallowe'en tea held in the recreation room of the Louisa Wilson Biting Building. Beautiful chrysanthemums and orange candles were used in the decorations, and each guest received a little black cat favor in honor of the day. Delicious sandwiches, Russian tea and little black cat candies were served.

HEAD OF ENGLISH DEPT. MAKES THIRD TALK ON BIBLE AT Y. P. M.

Illustration of Biblical Influence on British and American Writings Cited

The third talk in the series commemorating the 400th anniversary of the printed English Bible was given at Y. P. M., Wednesday morning. Dr. Pearl V. Willoughby, head of the English department, spoke on "The Influence of the Bible in British and American Literature."

Dr. Willoughby stated that even before the English translation of the Bible, Bible stories were dramatized and mimic plays were given. In some communities there were cycles of these dramas, always with the same theme, that of the forces of good and evil contesting for the soul of man.

The translation of the Bible into English spurred on the Puritan movement. Bible language was used and Biblical names were given to children. During the seventeenth century several literary phenomena appeared, the outstanding one being Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress." The only book that Bunyan ever read was the Bible, and it seems that with his lack of education and low social status it was nearly impossible that he should have produced such a masterpiece.

Milton's "Paradise Lost," an enlargement on the story of the exile from Eden also depicts the struggle of good against evil for the soul of man.

The Bible has been an important factor in the stabilization of the English vocabulary. While the English language contains some 400,000 words, the Bible has only 6,000, but the words in the King James version, are the basic words of the language. In our present day language we see phrases from the Bible, such as "wife of thy bosom," "still small voice" "a drop in the bucket," "salt of the earth," "fat of the land," and many others. Titles of popular books are also taken from the Bible such as Bennett's "Gate

(CONTINUED ON PAGE FOUR)

PENNY FAIR AT HOME CHURCH TONIGHT

Salem College Students To Take Part In Show

For those blythe spirits who missed the County Fair, and for those who went, too, the Home Moravian Church promises amusement in the form of a Penny Fair, to be held in the Rondthaler Memorial Building on Friday evening, November the first.

The program for the evening includes a wide variety of stunts, games, and exhibits, the spirit of Hallowe'en will be carried out in the decorations and stunts. Bobbing for apples and other old time games will be included in the program.

L. B. Hathway, director of recreation will be master of ceremonies for a series of children and adult games. Miss Katherine Riggan and a group of Salem College Students will preside over the hall of horrors. The side shows promise to be full of interesting and amusing demonstrations and there will be fortune tellers to tell anyone interested, all about future husbands and long journeys across water. A magician will be present to bring rabbits out

(CONTINUED ON PAGE THREE)

MRS. FRED SCHWALBE SPEAKS AT VESPERS

Mother of Fritz Pettusko Is Topic

In introduction to her talk Sunday evening, Mrs. Schwalbe told how happy and delighted she was to see her daughter Gertrude again, and how wonderful it was to see Salem's young girls serving Jesus as they are now doing.

From Romans 15 she read the 13th verse, "My hope is built on nothing," and she said that many people's faces spell hopelessness instead of hope, and then she told us how one woman's hopelessness and despair were changed to hopefulness and joy through the love of Jesus.

Fritz Pettuska, partly Russian, the little Eskimo orphan boy who is financed by the Salem girls, is the son of the woman, Mrs. Schwalbe told us about. He has a brother, Robert, and a sister, Margaret. Fritz's mother was left an orphan when and epidemic swept over the Kuokakwin district. She was named Duviok and later christened Elira. Duviok had an awful life, as Eskimo orphans are treated most horribly by the people who take them in. She was finally taken into a kind missionary's home, educated and made happy in the wonderful new atmosphere. She was an apt pupil and she developed into a winsome christian woman later marrying Ivan Pettuska. Their home was one of love and happiness. Ivan was transferred to another station, then Duviok's health failed and she died in 1876. Her life was short but its influence will never die just as what we are doing for little Fritz, her son, will never die.

Y. W. C. A. News

SERVICE AT SALEM HOME

The Community Service Committee sponsored a service of worship and song Sunday afternoon at the Salem Home. The worship service was led by Carolyn Bynum. The music service included two violin solos by Margaret Schwarze. "Randina" by Beethoven and "The Almaid's Sunday" by Ole Bull. Jane Rondthaler sang "Come Ye Blessed" by John Brindle Scott, and "My Task" by E. T. Ashford. Wilda Mae Yingling played two piano solos "Largo" by Handel and "Prelude" by Chopin. The ladies of the Home and the girls from the college seemed to enjoy the program. The Community Service Committee hopes to be able to have more services of this nature in other institutions of the city.

"Y" CABINET MEETS WITH COMMISSION

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Commission met with the Cabinet at the regular Cabinet meeting Wednesday evening. Erika Marx told the girls about the various committees of the "Y" and what each committee is doing. Erika explained that each girl on the commission is to have a part in what her committee is doing.

After the meeting the girls enjoyed a social hour.

VESPER SERVICE

"Prayer in Our Lives" will be the topic of the Vesper Service, Sunday evening. Rev. Walser Allen, of the Kernersville Moravian Church, will be the speaker.

(CONTINUED ON PAGE FOUR)