PENNY FAIR AT HOME CHURCH A SUCCESS

The Home Moravian Church Circle number nine, under Mrs. Clarence Lineback, sponsored a Penny Fair last Friday night. The Sunday School rooms were used and they were attractively decorated with the gay colors of the Hallowe'en.

Many booths were placed around in the rooms. There was a $25,000 beauty exhibited, a fortune teller, a booth of Mrs. Schwalbe's relics and curios which were exhibited by her daughter Catherine, and Miss Stockton had a most attractive food booth.

The Hall of Horrors was in the basement of the church. Miss Riggan and several of the college girls nored his responsibility to his fellow man. He had to have hired help in order to have accumulated such wealth and yet he felt that he owed them nothing. Then, he imagined that material things would serve as food for the soul; he said to his Soul "Eat, drink and be merry," whereas, he should have said "Praise, worship and pray." He fed his body, but he starved his soul. Lastly, he forgot that his possessions would not go with him when he died. One of two things happens to man's possessions, either he leaves them or they leave him. But richness of the soul abides forever. It is bad enough to be poor down here but man's earthly existence will end. What is more terrible is to be poor in heaven where man will live eternally. The most valuable "thing" man possesses is his Soul and the most tragic thing he can do is throw it away or starve it.

THE REV. WALSER ALLEN SPEAKS AT VESPERS

Mild and yet they Satisfy —how do you do that?

Well, to start with, we take tobacco from our own Southland — mild ripe tobacco with lots of natural flavor but no harshness or bitterness.

THEN AS A SECOND STEP—

We blend this home-grown tobacco with spicy, aromatic Turkish tobaccos from across the seas. These Turkish tobaccos, you may know, have a flavor and fragrance entirely different from our own.

AS A THIRD STEP—

These tobaccos are cross-blended—welded together—the best way we've found to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette.

THAT'S WHY CHESTERFIELDS ARE MILD AND YET THEY SATISFY

In a single day people from ten different states visited our Chesterfield factories. 8,200 visitors during the past year saw Chesterfields made.
