

Fashion Show

The Salemite

Fashion Show

VOL. XVII.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1936.

Number 3.

MR. CLIFFORD BAIR GIVES VOCAL RECITAL

First Recital of Year Given Monday Evening

Mr. Clifford Bair gave the first recital of the year Monday evening, September 28. His artistry, versatility, and ability to portray the mood of the songs, climaxed by his pleasing voice, gained for him great praise.

His finish, facility, and fine dramatic sense were shown in his first group of songs.

"A Chloris" Hahn
"Che Fiero Costume" Legrenzi
An English Ballad

"Mein Maedel" Brahms
Perfect diction, ease, and authority were particularly noted in the group of German songs.

"Wohin" Schubert
"Minnelied" Brahms
"Verschwiegere Liebe" Hugo Wolfe

"Liebesbriefchen" Norrgold
The aria, "Aubade," from Lala's "Roi d'ys" gave Mr. Bair an opportunity to do some excellent pianissimo work which met with great praise.

The concluding group was English. "Page's Road Song" Novella
"Casual Lovers" Box

"Iris" Daniel Wolf
"Kangaroo and Dingo" German
This group was enthusiastically received by the audience.

In response to the great applause of the large audience. Mr. Bair sang a number of encores among which, were:

"Stout" Carpenter
"Claud" Charles
"Mandoline" DeBussy
"Were You There" Negro Spiritual

Dean Vardell was the capable and perfect accompanist for Mr. Bair.

SOPHOMORE COURT

To the tune of the funeral dirge, twenty black-robed jurors, a long-faced judge, and a stern-voiced clerk filed solemnly on the stage of Memorial Hall. To the tune of the same funeral dirge, seventy-five freshmen hearts skipped a beat and then thumped furiously in union. The much-dreaded, yet greatly anticipated event was about to begin. Judge Martin beat on her desk. Sophomore Court was called to order.

It was great sport to see each freshman, blinded by the spotlight, stumble shakily to the stage, and wait meekly before the judge for her sentence. And what sentences they were! Grapes soaked in horseradish, alias goat's eyes, were passed among one group; flour and water were doused on five painted faces; Nancy Hannah's shirt was calmly removed before the whole audience (you should have heard them cheer); an un-interpretive spring dance was rendered by four damsels and a sheet; bananas were fed by six blindfolded girls to each other; an exciting game of polo was executed by one player, one horse, and one ball; long, juicy worms were fed to six of the victims; and to end this wonderful exhibition, eggs were broken on half a dozen girls' foreheads.

Love played a very important part in the court, owing to the Leap Year influence, Dainty little Betty Sanford asked Mr. Bair to be her husband, and although Frances Klutz looked mighty adoringly into Mr. Holder's eyes and gave several old-fashioned blushes, she did not quite work herself up to the proposal stage.

The warrants served on all freshmen stated that their sentences began at three Wednesday afternoon and continued through the court. They were at the mercy of the sophomores and had to do whatever com-

(Continued On Page Two)

SENIOR CLASS HOLDS ELECTION WEDNESDAY

Mascot and Marshals Chosen

A senior class meeting was held Wednesday evening. Marshals and class mascot were chosen. Only sophomores and juniors were eligible for marshals.

The following six marshals were elected: Margaret Briggs, president of the junior class, chief marshal; Virginia Lee, Meredith Holderby, Mary Coleman Henderson, Mary Louise McClung, Mary McColl, and Marianna Redding.

Little Sara Shore, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shore of Winston-Salem was elected mascot of the class.

FASHION SHOW TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

The I. R. S. Council is sponsoring a fashion show to be held tonight at seven o'clock in the Recreation Room of Louisa Wilson Biting Building. The admission is ten cents.

The following girls will model: Mildred Troxler, Meredith Holderby, Annie Laurie Scott, Ellen Moore, Bill Fulton, Kea Council, Frances Klutz, Ella Ogburn, Mary Lib Wadston, Kathleen Alexander, Frances Alexander, Cordelia Lowry, Ethel Highsmith, Helen Jones, and Evelyn McCarty.

Local Shops who will lend clothes for the revue are: Robin, Craven's, Davis, Ideal, and Sosniks.

EPISCOPAL GIRLS ARE HONORED FRIDAY EVENING

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Episcopal Church entertained Friday evening, honoring the girls of Salem College and academy who are members of the Episcopal Church. They met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Turner. Mr. Turner is rector of St. Paul's Church.

During the evening, monopoly, bingo and other games were played. Delicious refreshments were served. About twenty-five girls and their escorts were honored.

ALPHA IOTA PI ENTERTAINS

New Students Honored At Tea

New Latin students at Salem College were entertained yesterday afternoon by the Alpha Iota Pi, college Latin society. Tea was served from 4 until 5:30 o'clock P. M. in the living room of South Hall, with Dr. Minnie J. Smith, Latin Club adviser, and Miss Eloise Baynes, president, receiving.

Among the fifty guests who called during the afternoon were the new Latin students in whose honor the tea was given. Misses Mary McColl, Meredith Holderby, Margaret Hollowell, Elizabeth Little, Josephine Gibson, Martha Baldwin, Ruth Doerschuk, Sarah Burrell, Mary Venable Rogers and Margaret Vass. Miss Grace Lawrence, Miss Katherine Riggan, Miss Cortlandt Preston and Dr. Howard E. Rondthaler were also present.

Helping Miss Baynes and Dr. Smith to receive were Misses Helen McArthur and Katherine Sissell, officers of the club, and Misses Margaret Crist and Mary Woodruff, Latin Majors who served sandwiches and nuts to the guests.

REV. WALSER ALLEN SPEAKS AT Y. P. M.

Lectures on Recent Visit to Palestine

Rev. Walser Allen, pastor of the Kernersville Moravian Church, was the speaker at Y. P. M., Wednesday morning.

Mr. Allen visited Palestine in June. Before landing news reached him of the dangerous and unsettled conditions there. Traveling independently with a friend, Mr. Allen decided to try to get into Jerusalem. After many exciting adventures he finally reached the Holy City. The bus which carried him in had to be guarded by a British armored truck and an airplane.

In speaking of his entrance he said:

"When I pictured General Allenby walking into Jerusalem with his head bared and no shot fired, I thought that Allenby had entered the city with much less difficulty than Allen."

He went to the American School of Oriental Research, where he stayed during a week of sightseeing in the Holy Land.

Everywhere the atmosphere was tense and everything was upset.

"Palestine," said Mr. Allen, "cannot support any more people than are already crowded in the little country. Jews are pouring in by the thousands, claiming Palestine as their rightful property because of the Balfour treaty. The Jews are doing a marvelous piece of work in Palestine. The Arabs do not want the Jews who are already in Palestine to be sent away. They only pray that no more will be allowed to enter."

HOME CHURCH VESPER SERIES BEGINS SUNDAY

On Sunday, October 4, at 5 p. m., a new series of monthly Sunday afternoon Vesper services is being inaugurated at the Home Moravian Church. As was done in last year's series, both choral and instrumental ship themes. The beauty of the music will be used in building worship and the atmosphere of the old church combine to provide what many feel is an unusual worship experience.

The service to be held Sunday afternoon, will be a particularly interesting and beautiful one. The personality of Jesus as it has been depicted in the ten stained-glass windows of the church will be interpreted through Scripture and music. The program has been carefully worked out by the pastor, Rev. Gordon Spaugh and the director of music, Dean Charles G. Vardell, Jr. A cordial invitation has been issued to Salem College girls to join in this vesper service.

LETTER FROM FORMER SALEM STUDENT

The Salemite recently received a letter from Mary Absher, '34. She is living in Fort Riley, Kansas, and is a music teacher.

In part she said: "I believe this is 'Standing at the Portals' Day and I am thinking of you all, and I certainly would like to be beginning another year at Salem, myself. The songs I learned at Salem are my favorite ones.

I am teaching piano again this year, and have a very interesting class. I even have one three year old! I also have a rhythm orchestra. I am considering taking a few courses at Kansas State College."

We appreciate Mary's interest in Salem, and are always glad to hear from our alumnae.

WINSTON-SALEM ART CENTER OPENS MONDAY

Displays Throughout the Week

The Fall opening of the Winston-Salem Art Center was Monday evening. Victor B. Lonson, president of the Fine Arts Galleries, New York, lectured.

A display of famous paintings will be at the Art Center until next week. It is open until ten o'clock in the evenings and the public is invited.

The exhibit includes the famous self-portrait of Sir Joshua Reynolds, paintings by Sir Henry Raeburn, William Hogarth, Richard Wilson, Thomas Gainsborough, John Hoppner, Richard Casway, and others.

RECENT ADDITIONS TO THE LIBRARY

A number of new books have recently been added to the library. The list includes:

"Social Organization and Disorganization" by Stuart Queen, Walter Bodenhafer, Ernest Harper.

"Why Keep Them Alive" by Paul de Kruif.

"The World Over" by Edith Wharton.

"The Power To See It Through" by Harry Emerson Fosdick.

"Soviet Scene" by Frederick Griffin.

"A History of Russian Literature" by Prince D. S. Mirsky.

"The Story of America" by Hendrik Van Loon.

"Fact and Fiction About Wagner" by Ernest Newman.

"Theory and Technique of Playwriting" by John Howard Lawson.

Also on the bulletin board is attractive display "Discovering Poetry." New books of poetry include:

"Fear is the Thorn" by DuChel Field.

"A Letter From Pontus" by John Masefield.

"Invisible Landscapes" by Eagan Lee Masters.

"Selected Poems" of Conrad Aiken.

"Collected Poems" of T. S. Eliot.

"Burning City" by Stephen Vincent Benet.

There are also selected motion picture reviews.

NEW STUDENTS ARE HONORED BY I. R. S.

Tea Given Tuesday Afternoon

A beautiful tea was given Tuesday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock by the I. R. S. Council, in the Lizora Fortune Hanes Building, honoring the new students. The living room was decorated with lovely pink dahlias, the gift of Miss Katherine Hanes.

Cordelia Lowry, president of I. R. S., received in the living room, assisted by Miss Katherine Riggan and the following members of the Council: Jeanette Sawyer, vice-president; Virginia Lee, secretary and treasurer; Josephine Whitehead, Felicia Martin, Margaret Briggs, Ethel Highsmith, Mary Frances Hayworth, Helen Jones, Virginia Crumpler, Virginia Neely, Frances Alexander, Anna Leak Scott, and Lelia Williams.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Howard Rondthaler and Miss Grace Lawrence. Delicious sandwiches, cakes and mints were served by Ellen Moore, Eleanor Ivy and Felicia Martin.

SALEM GIRLS ATTEND BLUE RIDGE CONFERENCE

Southern Student Conference Held

While you travellers were in Europe this summer, or on the Georgia Caravans, or at the beach, the Salem Y. W. C. A. girls went a-visiting too. Or at least two of them did. Mary Francis Hayworth and Mary Hart went to Blue Ridge, N. C., where the regional Y. W. C. A.'s and Y. M. C. A.'s held their annual Southern Student Conference from from June 11 to June 20.

In addition to our two Salem representatives there were present five hundred and one other students from colleges throughout the Southern states with Jane Cassels of Georgia State College and Ray McClinton of Millsaps College in Mississippi acting as student chairmen.

Mary Frances and Mary Hart have brought back to us word of the distinguished group of conference leaders at Blue Ridge: Miss Winifred Wylgall from the national staff of the Y. W. C. A.; T. Z. Koo, the former secretary of the World Student Christian Federation and prophet of the Christian movement in China, who directed discussions on present day religious problems; Dr. Ralph Harlow, Professor of Religion and Biblical Literature at Smith College, who discussed the current issues of religion; Dr. Edwin McNeil Potent who was not only one of the speakers but also a leader of a Bible Study group each morning. From his years of wide experience and his intelligent concern with the ethical issues of contemporary life, Dr. Potent was able to guide his group in the discovery of new meanings in scriptural readings of Jesus for the student of today.

The seminars, in which campus, social, and religious problems were dealt with, were led by Mr. Claude Nelson, Rev. Don Steward of Chapel

HAVE YOU DISCOVERED SALEM?

Do not be misled -- I am not a sentimentalist. I firmly believe in the practical benefits of "Reading, Writing, and 'Rithmetic (1)," but I also believe that Salem has more to offer than that. I may not remember, this time next year, that the graph of a tangent is somehow connected with infinity, but I shall always remember the chimes at twilight in the weeks preceding Christmas and Easter.

Freshmen, you have come to Salem; have you discovered Salem? The dell is more than a beautiful setting for May Day; it is a grand place to read your favorite poetry while you swing your feet over the bridge. It is high time, too, that you carve that certain someone's initials on the big oak there, along with the hearts that were cut in mellow moods of former

CIVIC MUSIC CONCERTS ANNOUNCED

Announcement has been made of the excellent programs of Civic Music Concerts:

Mischa Levitski, Pianist,
Monday November 2.
Efrem Zimbalist, Violinist,
Monday, December 14.
Elizabeth Rethberg, Soprano,
Tuesday, January 19.
Frudi Schoops, Comic Ballet,
Wednesday, February 17.
Lawrence Tibbett, Baritone,
Wednesday, March 10.
National Symphony Orchestra,
Friday, April 9.