

The Salemite

VOL. XVII.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1937.

Number 17.

GOAL SET IN LIBRARY FUND IS PASSED

MISS SIEWERS DESCRIBES NEW LIBRARY

Speaks At Y. P. M.

In expanded chapel Wednesday morning we heard what we have been waiting for, for a long time—Miss Grace Siewers gave us the plans and a detailed description of the new library—a new library that is one of the biggest things that has ever happened to Salem, and coming at a time like this it is more than ever welcomed.

Miss Siewers pictured to us the library in all its splendor and glory, and when she finished, each girl was able to see herself sitting in front of the fire in a comfortable chair in the reading room or lounging around in that most delightful place, the browsing room.

The entrance to the building is directly opposite Alice Clewell. It opens into a vestibule, which faces the delivery desk. Behind this desk are shelves for reserve books, etc. On the right is the west wing, which faces the square. This is the reading room and is two stories high. It will contain the current periodicals, bound periodicals and reference books. At the western end of the room will be a large fireplace with comfortable chairs and sofas grouped around it. On the side of the room is a French door leading onto a terrace equipped with tables and chairs for studying in warm weather. On the left of the entrance is the stock room, which will be open to every one. Across the corridor from it is the librarian's office, the catalogue room, and the work room. All the typewriting, mending, etc will go on here and not interfere with the reading room.

On the second floor over the Catalogue room is a browsing room. This will be furnished just like a personal library in one's own home—a fireplace, sofas, soft chairs, floor lamps, etc. No studying allowed, for there will be only new books, lovely old editions, etc. Across the corridor is another stack room.

On the third floor is another stack room, a treasure room, a room for scrapbooks and all material relating to Salem and rooms for student-faculty discussions.

In the basement is a room for receiving packages, a small kitchen making it possible to have teas, and a room underneath the reading room with a fireplace for discussion groups, etc.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB MEETS

Mrs. Ball Is The Speaker

The Home Ec. Club met Tuesday night in Main Hall. Mrs. Mildred Ball gave a very interesting illustrated lecture on Handcraft. First Mrs. Ball outlined the purposes of handcraft, then she enumerated the results, exhibiting pieces of her own work to illustrate these results.

She explained the different methods of decorating cloth, the interesting things which can be made from wood and the use of plaster of paris in making masks and in supplementing other art problems. Metal and silver work were illustrated by jewelry, etc., made by Mrs. Ball. Pottery and clay-working were mentioned and examples shown.

This type of work is emphasized in the Industrial Arts class of the Home Economics Department here.

PROPOSED PLAN OF THE NEW LIBRARY — Will Your Contribution Help to Make it a Reality?

SCORPIONS TAKE IN COMIC BALLET TO BE NEW MEMBERS HERE NEXT WEEK

Thirteen Stung, Wednesday

The Order of the Scorpion stung thirteen girls on February the third. The following girls were stung: Betty Bahnon, Winston-Salem; Maud Battle, Rocky Mount, N. C.; Peggy Bowen, Winston-Salem; Wilena Couch, Winston-Salem; Virginia Bruce Davis, Danville, Va.; Louise Frazier, Badin, N. C.; Louise Freeman, Windsor, N. C.; Dorothy Huff, Fayetteville, N. C.; Helen McArthur, Winston-Salem; Annette McNeely, Mooresville, N. C.; Felicia Martin, Mayodan, N. C.; Martha O'Keefe, Tazewell, Va.; Sara Sterns, Fayetteville, N. C.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL PARTY BIG SUCCESS

Last Saturday Night at Nine o'Clock

One might observe a long line of young men on their way to the gym, and walking beside them our very own Salemites, all decked out in the latest gowns and coiffures. What a grand party it was and how much fun everyone had! The guests were cordially greeted at the door by a receiving line composed of faculty and trustees, and soon afterwards by the incomparable music of Freddy Johnson and his Carolina orchestra. The party lasted from nine to twelve, with a half-hour respite in which one might drink punch or wander up and down on the terrace outside.

But the crowning glory of the whole was the figure which the athletic council presented, led by Miss Atkinson and Mr. McEwen, closely followed by Sara Sherwood, president of the athletic association, and her date. It was a wonder to behold—intricacy and perfection. Every member of the council wore a white dress, and every date a tuxedo, and no one made a single mistake! It was brought to a triumphant close by the formation of the letter S.

Twelve o'clock came before anyone realized or wished for it, and as the happy crowd climbed the steps to upper campus, everyone agreed that it was the nicest party Salem has ever given.

Civic Music Concert February 12

The Civic Music Association will present on Wednesday night, February 17, in Reynolds Memorial Auditorium, one of the most unusual and interesting performances ever given in Winston-Salem. Trudi Schoop and her comic ballet will present impish, vigorous, and humorous pantomimes. Trudi Schoop in "Want Ads," the first ballet on her program shows the tragic-comedies which result in newspaper advertisements such as "For sale—never worn wedding gown" and "Honest woman in middle fifties seeks acquaintance—object, matrimony."

The second half of the program, "Fridolin on the Road" includes a gay series of adventures about the stupidities of physical culture addicts, fanatical religious cults, mothers-in-law, and bowling tournaments.

The performance, showing the dance, theatre, tragic-comedy, will be given by a company of twenty-two actor-dancers who have won great success in America and in Europe. Trudi Schoop is considered "an actress like Elizabeth Bergner, a comedienne like Charlie Chaplin, and a dancer like Anna Pavlova."

MOZART CLUB PROGRAM PRESENTED

"Epochs of Musical Progress"

The second of the series of studies "Epochs of Musical Progress" followed the business sessions of the Mozart Club at the Robert E. Lee Hotel, Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock. Mrs. Everett Straley was in charge of the program.

Illustrations of the music of the period studied included:

"Droop Not Young Lover" (Handel) and "Lascia Ch'io Piaccia" (Handel), by Miss Jane Rondthaler, contralto.

"Apassionata," cantata, Opus 57 and first movement, "Allegra Assai" (Beethoven) by Miss Hazel McManhan, pianist.

"With Verdure Clad" from Haydn's "Creation" and "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair" (Handel), by Miss Rebecca Hines, soprano.

PROGRAM OF CHORAL ORGAN MUSIC

Home Moravian Choir At Vespers

The choir at Home Moravian Church presented choral and organ music from the work of Bach at Vespers Sunday evening.

The soloists were Miss Mayme Porter, soprano; Miss Jane Rondthaler, contralto; Mr. Clifford Bair, tenor; Mr. Thompson Shouse, baritone, and Mr. Brooks Bynum, bass.

Two choral preludes followed by singing of the chorales on which they were based were played on the organ.

"What God Doth Surely That is Right," Bach's 98th Cantata, written for the twenty-first Sunday after Trinity, was presented at the latter part of the service.

Dean Charles G. Vardell, dean of the Salem College School of Music, organist at Home Moravian Church, directed the vespers musical program.

MRS. CAMPBELL HAS OPEN HOUSE

Tea Room In Former Winkler's Bakery

Mrs. J. P. Campbell had "open house" for the faculty and students of Salem College and Academy, Thursday and Friday of this week at her new tea room, the "Carterette," located in the old Winkler's bakery on Main Street.

The whole building has been remodeled and redecorated and is now a charming setting for a tea room.

Mrs. Campbell derived her color scheme from the Carter coat-of-arms, which contains red and blue. The furniture is coronation blue and the glass is dubonnet red. In the South end of the largest room there is a large open fireplace with an antique mantel. On the mantel there are Blue Willow plates and antique glass. On one side of the fireplace there is an old spinning wheel and chintz chair. There are several old engravings on the panelled walls.

The wine cellar is now the lounge. The alcove where the wine vat used to stand still remains.

Beginning to-day, the tea room will be open to customers.

STUDENTS AND FACULTY SHOW GREAT INTEREST

Expect $2000 Mark To Be Reached

Students and faculty of the college and academy met Dr. Rondthaler's challenge and in 22 hours raised over the goal set at $1,500 towards the new library. At present $1,638.25 has been pledged and it is believed that the fund would reach the $2,000 mark in a few days.

The greater part of the needed money has already been raised, but about $15,000 remained to be subscribed, and the student challenge was the first step towards this.

Now it is hoped that the students will tell their families of the project and ask them to co-operate.

Mr. Agnew Bahnon is Chairman of the Building committee. He has worked untiringly, as have others who were co-operating with him.

Regarding work already done, the Building Committee has issued the following statement:

In the fall of 1935, Northrup & O'Brien, architects, started work on preliminary sketches for Salem College Library. Plans and also a perspective drawing of the building were completed March 11, 1936, and these were submitted for criticism to leading authorities of the United States, including Dr. Louis R. Wilson of Chicago, president of the American Library Association, and Dr. C. C. Williamson, director of the Columbia unit library and dean of Columbia University School of Library Science.

The committee wishes to emphasize two things. First, the building of a library for Salem College is the result of a need that has been recognized for many years and actual plans were made before activity for a new public library started.

(Continued On Page Three)

STATE DIETETICS ASSOCIATION MEETS HERE

Afternoon Meeting, Banquet

North Carolina State Dietetics Association held its semi-annual meeting in Winston-Salem, Saturday, February sixth.

The afternoon meeting was held in the campus living-room of Alice Clewell Building. Dr. E. A. McMillan spoke on the "Effect of Nervous Influence in Digestion," Miss Clara Gray of Catawba College, on "What's New in Nutrition," Dr. Thomas T. Frost on "Sub-Clinical Vitamin Deficiencies," Dr. Eva F. Dodge on "Pre-Natal Diet."

After a tour of the college grounds the Association was entertained at a banquet in the Recreation Room of Louisa Wilson Bitting Building. The color scheme, yellow and green, was carried out in the menus, flowers—jonquils, narcissus and pussy willows—and other decorations. Dr. Rondthaler and Dr. Wingate Johnson, President-Elect of North Carolina State Medical Association spoke. A series of toasts was made. Ann Nesbit, harpist, and Miss Kathryn Swain, a senior in voice entertained.

The members were very enthusiastic about Salem, particularly complimenting the Home Economics Department and its Practice House. They agreed that this was the best meeting they had had since the association in North Carolina was founded and that not even a national meeting had had a finer or more delicious banquet.