

New Engine for Fighting Airplane Fires

Here is a photograph of the chemical fire engine that was tested at Le Bourget airdrome, near Paris, recently, to determine its efficacy in fighting fires of gasoline or oil. An old plane was set ablaze with a large reservoir of gasoline and the new device put it out in 30 seconds. The engine consists of a fast car fitted with a specially adapted hose which throws artificial snow and chemical froth on the fire.

STOP! LOOK! AND LISTEN

Thrills and heartthrobs! Davidson, Carolina, Citadel, State, was that a dance! Who was the mysterious, little man in tails that Leila was so proud of? . . . It couldn't have been Johnson. Virginia, all the girls like to "grapevine" with Dave. Ask him again sometime. So Mr. Sprunt came to Salem, we don't blame Frances A. for being "ga ga" about Davidson. Frances C. and Frankie were dancing . . . So what!! You must go to High Point some time.

Peggy Bowen is thinking of joining the Salvation Army to forget it all, but she fears Charlie isn't worth the effort. Do blonds prefer blonds, or does Cornelia just prefer John? Briggs likes home-town talent it seems — more power to her.

Babe O'Keeffe's motto is: "It's not right to like a boy for his money, but it's awfully easy to love a boy with money. McColl, McColl and McColl, Incorporated, are offering to all aspiring Juliets three, free lessons in the art of "Effective Cadet Making." Will Willie, or Shep's rippling rhythm be the attraction in Charleston???

Did you see "Cleo" MacLean at the dance rolling those eyes? No wonder Billy is trucking to Salem instead of Mid-Winters this week-end. . . . It must be love!! Sara if Cecil didn't go for you in that white dress. You might as well fold up the tent. Does Tweak like Buicks and dates, or peppermint cars, uniforms, and Bills?

Our blonde venus from Lehman was right there with "Doo," too! Frances Salley didn't have to watch out for Christian Astair . . . Oh no! he was one of the belles. Who says Mr. McEwen can't cut a good figure? Who wouldn't though with "At" strutting in a sissy, white dress beside him. Did Bill Davis have a date, and if so, who was she? The uncertainty as to just whom Howard Morris will date next is keeping Junior hearts a flutterin'. By the way, Anna Leak, did Howard and Bill ever collide at the dance? Kate tuck off for Carolina this week-end on Dick's bid — well anyway he prefers blondes.

A. J. FORTIER GUEST AT CHAPEL

A. J. Fortier, auditor, demonstrated his skill in adding, multiplying and dividing figures in Chapel, February 5. Given a column of seven or eight figures Mr. Fortier totaled them as soon as he saw them. After repeating this several times with different numbers he multiplied three figures by three figures without writing down any of the numbers. He worked various other problems with accuracy and speed.

Mr. Fortier arrived at the point of arithmetical perfection, he says, by constant working with figures since early childhood. He was the guest of Noble R. McEwen for the morning chapel period.

"Y" Y.W.C.A. NEWS

The Y Cabinet room on the second floor of Alice Clewell is undergoing complete renovation. The pink walls are being turned to a beautiful cream color. The blue furniture is being replaced and repainted brown to harmonize with the walls. New, flowered draperies, new cushions, and new pictures will give the room an entirely new and different appearance. At present the room is in the chaotic state of being painted, and visiting is to be discouraged. However, in a few more days when the room is finished, everybody on the campus is urged to come up and take a peek at it. The Y Cabinet feels quite sure that it will be able to work more successfully in the bright and cheerful new surroundings.

Salem College has a very definite treat in store for itself. Next week Dr. Raymond Haupt from Bethlehem Seminary will give a series of lectures and talks sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet here at the college. Dr. Haupt's first talk will be made in expanded chapel on Wednesday morning.

Dr. Haupt is well-known and well-loved in Winston-Salem by the young people especially, because of his contact with them at the Moravian Young People's Conference which was held at Camp Hanes last summer.

At present Dr. Haupt is administrator and teacher at the Moravian College in Bethlehem, Penn. Several years of his life, however, have been devoted to the study of archaeology in Assyria. Archaeology has been and still is one of the main interests in his life.

Dr. Haupt appeals so wonderfully to young people because of his point of view. He is interested in thoroughly modern and sympathetic all the things which interest young people; and, even better, he knows how to interest young people himself. Salem College is fortunate in having the opportunity to hear so fine a man.

Several thousand persons in the United States wear contact spectacles — thin, invisible lenses that slip beneath the eyelids and over the eyeball.

In Germany it is estimated that insects destroy one out of every five apples, one out of every ten grains of wheat and one of every thirteen potatoes.

Almost any town can develop a trading center if its sellers have the goods for sale at the right price and tell the people about them.

EIKO NAKAJIMA SPEAKS TO P. T. A.

Eiko Nakajima spoke to the South Park P. T. A. meeting on Tuesday on "Schools of Japan."

Schools in Japan are not very different from those of this country. There are primary, elementary, and high school departments! In the high schools the boys and girls are separated, since vocational subjects are taught.

Eiko is planning to return to Japan and teach American history, when she is graduated.

The Trail of Truth

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

Mankind moves onward day by day,
But some men grow impatient. They
Are like the lad who runs ahead
And scorns the path his elders
Tread,
Deserts the trail the woods to try,
Though there's a road to travel by.

Yet he shall presently return,
Young error yet old truth shall Learn.

The marks of other men remain,
Their cairns erected on the plain.
Here high in the shafts of honor lift,
Erected on the rock of thrift.

Impatient hands would change the earth,
When it is men who must have worth;

And you may pass a thousand laws,
Yea, even in a righteous cause,
Yet statutes will not make a state
While men still covet, men still hate.

We need not change the law, we need
Not alter anything, indeed,
Except men's hearts — and even they Need not the dawn of some new day,
Need not new trails that men may miss,
But men who better follow this.

Tired Eyes and Poor Light Are Companions!

No truer statement could be made. Only one thing can result from poor light — eyestrain. Most people do not realize that eyestrain causes a drain of nervous energy which results in headaches, fatigue and other bodily harm. You can prevent this.
