A NEW LEASE ON LIFE WITH A NEW MESS OF HAIR

Do you feel rather frowsy in this weather which is too cool for just wash dresses, and too warm for old winter sweaters, and much too beautiful for classes? If you do, then what you need is to wash your hair—that in itself is a great pepper-upper—and then do something radical to its style.

You can really choose almost any type of coiffure, and still look, like you just had a consultation with Charles of the Ritz, provided that your hair is healthy and well-groomed. Sophisticated salons, we understand, approve of the fresh, brushed up treatment, but all the movie studios still let their sirens run around alluring the men with long soft curls and sweetly simple styles. All of which is splendid. That means that there is an answer for every one. The thing to do is not to get confused.

If you have a fresh, youthful countenance, classical features, or a fascinating profile—why, ups-a-daisy with the locks, and have fun experimenting with them. But if you are a bit irregular as to feature and contour, think some four or three times before you race your hair in a hard line off your exposed and abashed forehead, and you are worried lest you have a too intellectual and slightly forbidding look (people often get that after devoting themselves to their lessons as we all do), there are lots of things you can do. You can pull the waves of the hair softly forward onto the forehead itself, or you might have bangs.

If you are the vivacious type (or hope you are) and have piquant features—brush your hair up, by all means. Go in for that "scrubbed look"—all drippy things like curls high up and out of your way.

If your hair is unusually lovely in color and texture, avoid all elaborate effects which will take attention away from the hair itself.

As a parting word—it is a very good idea to get a mirror and go to work on the back of your hair. People do love to look at your neck line and the back of your head sometimes—especially in chapel!

One day recently a pretty young girl was driving in her new car when something went wrong with the engine. The traffic cop came up.

"What's the matter, Miss?" he inquired. "Ain't we got colors you like?"

LIFE'S LITTLE JESTS

Prof.: "If there are any dumb-bells in the room, please stand up." A long pause, then a lone freshman stood up.

What, do you consider yourself a dumb-bell?

Well, not exactly that, sir, but I hate to see you standing all alone.

Girl: "I maintain that love-making is just the same as it always was."

Boy Friend: "How do you know?"

Girl: "I just read about a Greek maiden who sat and listened to a lyre all evening."

He was hoping to impress her, and had been telling her all about himself—in glowing terms.

"I hope you don't think I'm conceited," he said modestly, after he had finished.

"Oh, no," she replied. "But I'm just wondering how you can keep from giving three hearty cheers whenever you look at yourself in the glass."

A woman got on a trolley car in New York and, finding that she had no change, handed the conductor a $10 bill. "I'm sorry," she said, "but I haven't a nickel."

"Don't worry, lady," said the conductor, "you'll have just 199 of 'em in a minute."

An old Negro was taking a civil service examination for the position of rural mail carrier. One of the questions asked was: "How far is it from the earth to the sun?"

The old darky looked frightened and exclaimed: "If you all is gwiner put me on that route, Ize resignin' before I begins."

Smith: "Is your wife economical?"

Jones: "Sometimes. She used only thirty candles on her fortieth birthday cake."

TAILORED SUIT

The softly tailored black suit is important for spring. This one is of kasha weave woolen with the blouse, jacket lining and revers of black and white silk print. Vertical tucks give a slender hip line to the jacket. The hat is Suzanne Talbot's black milan with a wide band of black belting ribbon pulled through the crown to cover the hair. The gloves are white doeskin, hand-sewn.

After eight years of study, Prof. Paul A Witty of the Northwestern University School of Education, finds that Americans like to do these things best in their spare time: Read newspapers (loud cheers from us!), listen to the radio, watch movies, play bridge, drive autos, and go to parties.

"To what do you attribute your remarkable health?"

"Well," replied the very old gentleman, "I reckon I got a good start on most people by bein' born before germs was discovered, thereby havin' less to worry about."

ACADEMY HONOR GRADUATES

It has been the policy of a Salem Academy for several years not to have an outside speaker on the commencement program, but to give over to the two senior academic honor graduates the major part of this exercise. The two students who obtained this high honor for 1936-'37 are Ann Pritchett of Winston-Salem and Lenore Rice of Lancaster, South Carolina.

Honorable mention is given to Anna Bitting of Winston-Salem, who was a close runner-up to the top places of honor with a splendid record during her years at Salem Academy.

sity came out for the abolition of the typical "hell week" initiation ceremonies a short while ago. Others are modifying somewhat the ancient rigors.

"Kay, what'll we give 'em?"

"Music and Rhythm Hal, everybody loves it!"
