COURTESY JOURNAL-SENTINEL Summer sports have been put aside in favor of books, but the change doesn't seem to be bothering these freshmen. Pictured in the browsing room of the library, they are Becky Candler, Birmingham, Ala., standing and Doris Nevel, Jacksonville, Fla.

BEAUX AND ARROWS

SENIORS

Looks like the Seniors are starting out early this year — Glanville couldn't wait 'til Thanksgiving — so he came all the way from Baltimore to see Mary Ven last weekend . . . What was all of the noise bumping down the road in front of Senior building last Sunday? Heard it was the Martinsville tree in "Ella the Ford." Lucky girls Virginia, Ella Walker, and Katherine . . . Lib Norfleet had a man on each arm last Thursday! more power to you, gal . . . We have been in school hardly a week, but Henny has already been home. We hear it was a wedding this time.

JUNIOR

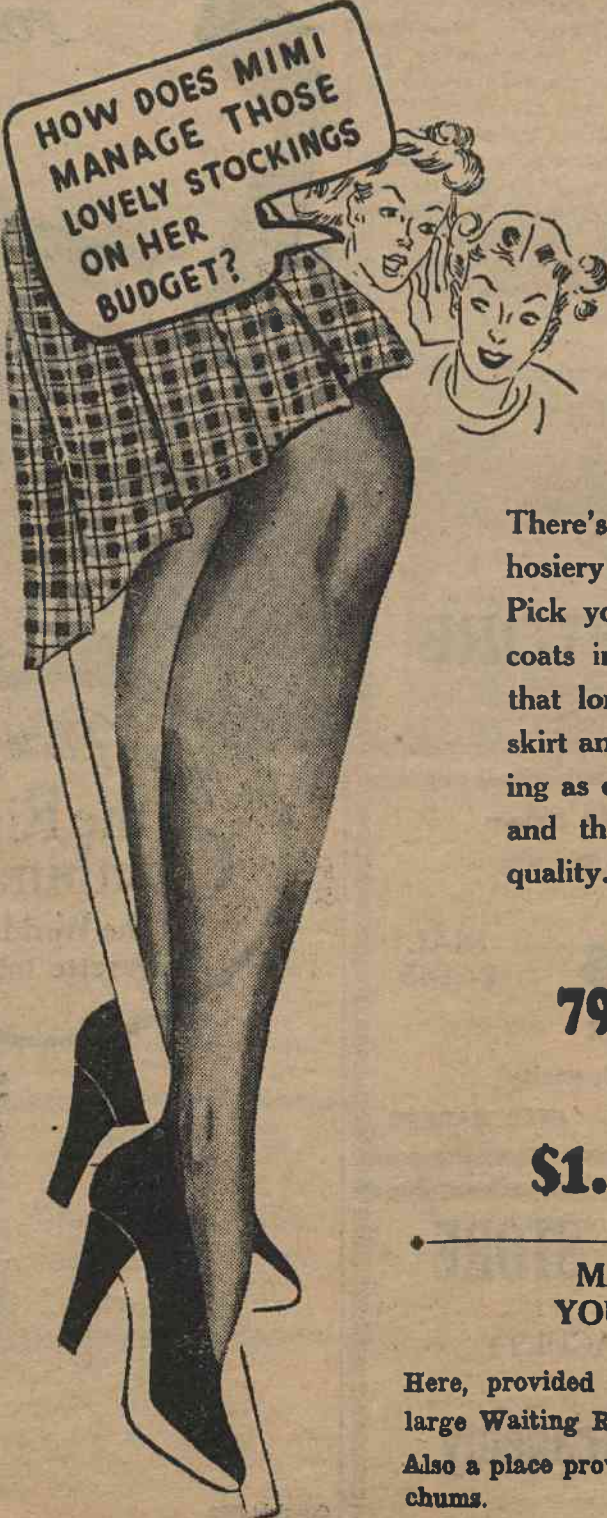

Well, hello Joe! What do you know? Do you know about the smart little Junior girls who did so well by themselves this summer? . . . Yep, Kelly Ann came back with a Pi Kappa Phi pin that she got, we hear, "on the back seat" . . . And did you know that Frankie is pinned up to a Phi Gam; J. B., we presume . . . and how about those Saint Mary's girls? Helen Holt has a Sigma Nu pin and Anna Flowe, a Kappa Sig . . . Just incidentally, we hear that Lyell decided Saturday night to keep on being "the sweetheart of Sigma Chi" . . . Dobbins doesn't just move from man to man. It's from orchestra leader to the king of swing. It's Benny Goodman now! . . . evidently Sassy made a big bow at the debutante ball; that is, if specials and lunch and dinner dates mean anything . . . Well, salutations and felicitations to the Queen of Orange Crush — none other than our own Katharine King, the "Miss Popularity of Leaksville-Spray" . . . but have you seen the six gorgeous red roses in Babbie's room. Six means something to Harry . . . For goodness sake, what did Louise do to Clem Saturday night! . . . Patterson, we heard something about a recent crack-up. It wasn't a plane crash, was it? . . . Look, there's a skeleton in Nell's closet. We just don't understand all we hear about this Willis and his solo night flight at the Durham "airport" — tsk, tsk . . . things just don't add up right. Claude and Esther; Claude and New York and Katharine — ??? . . . and little Emily wants all you girls to know that she's "somebody's sweetheart." Now tell us whose, Miss McCoy . . . Wilson tells us that knees were "cracking like kindling wood" in At's Russian ballet classes this week. We've seen you juniors hobbling around now, too, after an apparently exerciseless summer. of course — you spent all your time fraternity-pin collecting!

SOPHOMORE

Will Rock Lake have its same Life Guard next summer, Button? . . . Ain't it awful when your roommate visits you and vamps your old standby? How do you feel about it, Mickey? . . . Was it because he said a lot or just the big words he used that made Stan's letter lack enough postage, Emily? . . . No matter whether he's at Oak Ridge or Princeton, Salem still attracts Ed. . . . Montreat and Davidson must have been great, Wyatt . . . Why have you been keeping your brother hid, Alice — bring him out some time . . . So, you have a lot behind you, Fitzzy? Well, we understand just what you mean!
