

ATH-LETIC SAL

Within the next few days, weather permitting, the semi-finals and finals of both the doubles and singles tennis tournaments will be played. These games should be fairly exciting, if any of you would like to go down and watch them. Find out from the players the date and time for their matches, and maybe your presence there will make the game even more exciting. But why limit yourself to watching? Even if you've been eliminated from the tournament, the courts are still there for you, so why not grab a friend, racket, and some balls and go on down. There's nothing like a game of tennis to warm you up these cool days.

Some dozen girls donned their riding habits Thursday and went over to Sedgfield where, from all accounts, they had a wonderful time. The class will ride there every Thursday afternoon, and there's still time to join them if you're interested. They say Sedgfield is really a fine place too! Have you noticed the groans accompanying each move of some of our girls lately? We have a

CAN YOU

Can you? I mean not just can you?, but can you? Of course, you can't like I can. There are those who can't can and then there are those who can can. And I do mean can. Can you?

Can you? Of course you can! If you can, you can. If you can't, you should read Dale Carnegie's novel telling you how not to or the famous "Live Alone and Like It." Or can't you? I mean "read," of course. But then 50,000,000 guinea pigs can't be wrong — or can they? Can you? Be wrong, I mean, of course. But then — can you be a guinea pig either.

To can or not to can, that is the question. It was first asked by Shakespeare at the age of 6 B. C. It has been the question of prime importance throughout the centuries. It is the question we now ask Hitler, "Can You?" (In trembling tones!) Of course his answer is — "Jawohl, —Elizabeth Read.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Cold weather may be here, but that does not keep Salem girls from playing tennis. The upper classmen doubles tournament is now in the semi-final stage. The two matches to be played in the semi-finals are: Emerson-Schnedl vs. winner Johnson-Bralower and Sams-Paschal; and Barbour-Norris vs. winner Forrest-Harrell and Kirk-Pitzer.

Eight freshmen remain in the third round of the singles tournament. They are: McKay, Stokes, P. Hill, Hepburn, Brown, Henry, Barnum and Rand. One match of the fourth round has been played. This match was won by Sara Barnum.

At a suspicion these groans might be due to the "hip-rolls," "body-stretches," etc., that "At's" been putting us through for the past couple of days. But soreness or not they're really loads of fun and good for what ails us, too.

But there is another index—"The International Index to Periodicals"—on the same plan but covering periodicals of a different type, i. e., the more scholarly journals and many foreign titles. This valuable index is now in the library and will open up for use a great deal of periodical material not formerly available. If you can't find what you want in the "Readers' Guide," try the "International Index."

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 18 — The Hartford College of Insurance, a graduate school established in this city last May by the Hartford College of Law and a group of insurance company executives, opened today for its first academic year, Director Edward G. Baird announced.

About 30 students of an application list of 75 were admitted to the freshman class, he said. Of those enrolled, approximately 83 per cent were graduates of approved college or universities and the other 17 per cent were non-college graduates employed by insurance companies who came to the college highly recommended by the executives of their respective companies.

Director Baird said the Hartford College of Insurance plans to award the degree master of science in insurance and, in conjunction with the Hartford College of Law, the degree bachelor of laws. (Adv.)
