

Ath-a-letic Sal

It seemed like old times to see Lillian Lanning back in the line-up for the Juniors Tuesday night. From the way she was playing you'd never think she had been laid up all these weeks with a cracked arm—And from the resulting score we'd say she really gave her teammates the needed inspiration.

Eleanor Hutchison was heard to say that she "just couldn't sleep the night before or the night after a game." If this has anything to do with the way she plays maybe some of the rest of us should start losing a little sleep. Incidentally, Eleanor, we're sorry about that sprained ankle of yours and hope it will be all right in time for the next game.

The attendance at the games has been exceptionally good, and with the cheering some of you give your teams we hardly see how they could miss winning. It's a nice feeling to know that the class is behind you, no matter what . . .

He: Bet a dime I can kiss you without touching you.
 She: Well—I bet you can't—
 He: Smack!
 She: Hey!
 He: O. K. I owe you a dime!

Not So Bad

Miss Mamie Bowman, to a negro maid: "Mary, just come into my room a moment. Now look at this. Watch me. I can write my name in the dust on the table.

Mary grinned. "It be a grand thing," she said, "t'have a eddication."

The evolution of a college man is shown as follows:

Freshman—Embarrassed silence.
 Sophomore—I don't know.
 Junior—I'm not prepared.

Senior—I don't like to venture an opinion until I know more about the subject.

Teacher: "Johnny, what do you consider the greatest accomplishment of the ancient Romans?"

Johnny: "Speaking Latin."

Lady: "Have you been offered work?"

Itinerant: "Only once, madam. Aside from that, I've had nothing but kindness."

"How big is your home town?"
 "Oh, about the size of New York, but it's not built up yet."

SENIOR-FRESHMAN "B" GAME

mind unless we have an abiding faith in God. Second take care of our health. Third, keep soul and mind clean by acquiring a knowledge of lovely things. Remember "I have my soul to keep." For entertainment Mrs. Patterson recommended politics. She said that the real fight is not between parties but among the party members themselves. She said there are two kinds of politics: politics as science of government and as the madness of many for the benefit of the few. She encouraged us to have a good time and enjoy youth but to remember that life does not end at 25.
