

'41-'42 CAMPUS ELECTIONS CONTINUE

WILKINSON--MAY DAY

In the election for chairman of May Day held last Tuesday, Wyatt Wilkinson of Rocky Mount, was chosen to head this organization for 1941-42. The committee has charge of the May Day Pageant presented in the spring and is responsible for the original theme, dances, and presentation.

Wyatt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wilkinson, and in high school held the offices of president of the Hi-Y and Spanish Club and business manager of the annual. In her Junior year she was chosen for the Black Maskers, an honorary Dramatic Club.

Since she has been at Salem, Wyatt has been on the "Y" cabinet, the Student Government Council, Secretary of the Math Club, President of the Pierettes, and Business Manager of the May Day Committee.

Wyatt is taking an A. B. course and is majoring in History and English. She defeated Margaret Vardell and Dorothy Sisk for the position of chairman of the May Day.

CHAPEL NOTICE

Out of courtesy to Dr. Meyers, guest on the campus next week who will speak in chapel Tuesday through Friday, it is requested that there be no announcements made at chapel time. During the week announcements may be made in the dining room or may be posted on the bulletin board, Miss Lawrence announced today.

ART SERVICE IS ORGANIZED

(By An S. A. O. P. M. Member)

To whom it may concern!!! Join the "Salem Art Operations Productions Management," and protect yourself from that group of human vultures who approach you with overnight requests for posters, bookplates and other such Herculean tasks. The S. A. O. P. M. absolutely guarantees to secure you against such impositions. Our union demands that all applications for art work be presented one week in advance; and that all the necessary materials be provided for and delivered with that same lee-way. We require that the subscribers present definite concrete information about their desires. We accept requests for posters, signs, programs, letterheads, bookplates; and will cooperate with the various Departments on minor problems. We also supervise the care and arrangement of Salem Bulletin Boards. We absolutely refuse to produce any dance decorations, stage sets or costume sketches. Each request must gain the approval of the Committee on Acceptance, and work will naturally be acted upon in order of petition.

There are many advantages to be derived from such an organization. We demand no dues. We are merely endeavoring to protect your artistic talent against the encroachments of the laymen. This is no professional organization; we welcome all who resent the aforementioned injustices. All students interested, in joining the union, see Mr. Lawrence Kenyon.

In order that poster-makers may not be imposed upon as in previous days, in order that there may be unity in such activity, the S. O. A. P. M. was formed.

NORRIS TO EDIT ANNUAL

PUBLIC SPEAKING CONTEST MONDAY

Monday night at 7:30 in the Old Chapel the second preliminaries for the Public Speaking Contest will be held. The Freshmen and Sophomore preliminaries already having been judged, only Juniors and Seniors will speak Monday night. Those participating will be Reece Thomas, whose subject is "Sound;" Leila Johnston, "Orphanages;" Wyatt Wilkinson on "Money Talks;" and Barbara Lasley on "Kayawa." Judges for the night, Miss Copenhagen, Miss Coulter, and Miss Smith, all members of Salem Academy faculty, will choose from these contestants two who will speak in finals at expanded chapel the third week in April. Also speaking then will be the winners of the preliminary contest for Freshmen and Sophomore, Henrie Harris, Margaret Leinbach, and Marian Burvenick. The Cohen cups will be presented to the winner of the final contest.

Today the present Junior class elected Marian Norris to be editor-in-chief of the college annual Sights and Insights for 1941-42.

Marion, the daughter of Mrs. C. N. Norris of Durham, has been quite active in Salem activities all three years. Marion was a class representative to the I. R. S. Council during her Freshman year. She was secretary of her class her Sophomore year. She is now serving as class representative to the Student Government, and as a member of the "Y" Cabinet. Marion is a member of the Latin Club; and she has been quite active in class work. The work of the annual is not new to her because she has previously served on the staff. She is also a member of the Salem staff. The new editor, majoring in English, is a candidate for an A. B. degree. In this election she defeated Margaret Vardell of Winston-Salem.

CHORAL GROUP GIVE PROGRAM IN CHAPEL

Salem students, faculty and visitors were highly entertained in expanded chapel on Wednesday by a group of mixed voices from the Winston-Salem Teacher's College. This choir was directed by a member of their college faculty, Professor Rider, who besides being a conductor is a composer of note in the field of choral interpretative songs.

The first group sung by the choir consisted of four religious selections. The second group was made up of three folk songs: "Soldier Boy," "Water Boy," and "Time Ain't Long." The third group was again religious consisting of: "I Heard the Preaching of the Elders," "Listen to the Lamb's," and "My Soul Just Couldn't Be Contented." As an encore the group sang "Deep River."

Mr. Rider said Wednesday, "Salem is one of the places we look forward to—our singing is so warmly received here."

This year marks the third visit of this group to expanded chapel.

ACADEMY NEWS

The Purples were barely victorious over the Golds in the speed-ball game played Wednesday afternoon. The final score of the game was 7-5.

Tonight in the Academy dining room the Seniors are being honored by Dr. and Mrs. Rondthaler at the annual Senior dinner. The original theme of the dinner is "On a Western Ranch."

"Danger—Girls Working" is the title of the play being presented immediately following the banquet in the Mary Patterson Building. The cast is: Arleen Day, salesgirl, by Louise Landstreet; Seleva Barnes, waitress, by Sanford Birdsey; Gracie Johnston, music student, by Lillian Smith; Rosie, maid, by Ann Lee Graham; Hannah, romantic young woman, by Martha Hanes; Phyllis Deering, newspaper woman, by Yvonne Stewart; Claudia Vandermeer, house girl, by Margaret Parsons; Mrs. McCarthy, land lady, by Ruth Watson; Lula Ann Smith, girl from South, by Joy Guilbert; Miss Verne, woman of mystery, by Virginia Foster; and Ray Cartwright, actress, by Julie Harris. The admission of the play is 25c. College students are invited to be present at this performance.

CLEVELAND SYMPHONY WILL CLOSE SERIES

The Civic Music series will close this season with a performance by the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Arthur Rodinski. The orchestra will appear here Friday, March 28.

The orchestra is recognized as one of the greatest symphonic orchestras of this country, and is well known throughout the world. The Cleveland Orchestra enjoys the respect and affection of the people of every city which it includes on its annual tours. In many cities its concert is the outstanding event of the season in music circles.

Mr. Rodinski has the happy faculty of preparing programs of wide appeal because he is always alert to new creative effort, yet always mindful of the great music of the past. His programs are greeted with interest and enthusiasm by capacity audiences.

Today the Cleveland Symphony stands at the height of its fame after 22 years of service to the cause of great music.

Madeline Hayes, Betsy Spach, Louise Bralower, Betsy O'Bryan, and Miss Byrd will be guests of the Civic Music Association at a dinner meeting on the Robert E. Lee Hotel roof Monday night. These students who are interested in journalism, have worked on publicity for the Civic Music Association under Miss Byrd's direction in connection with second year English composition. Madeline Hayes is the chairman of the group and the Civic Music officials say she has done a wonderful job. Next year a ticket to the concert will be presented to the student in the composition class who is appointed chairman.

CHORAL ENSEMBLE TO SING IN HIGH POINT

This Sunday afternoon the Choral Ensemble will go to High Point where they will sing at the regular 7:00 o'clock church service in the Wesley Memorial Methodist Church. A sacred program similar to that performed on the tour will be presented. Eleanor Welch will play the harp; Mary Sue Briggs and Ella Lou Taylor will sing an offertory duet. All three girls are from High Point.

ADVISOR ON SUMMER CAMPS JOBS COMING

On Monday morning, March 24, from 8:30 - 9:30 and from 10:30 - 3:00, Miss Elizabeth Ijames will be on Salem Campus in the office next to Miss Marsh's, outside the registrar's office. Miss Ijames is in contact with all summer camps especially those camps in the Southern region. She will be glad to see and give information to all girls interested in summer camp jobs, during these hours. Advice and recommendations may be obtained from conferences with her.

I. R. S. TEA

Term paper fiends were diverted and the blues of six-week tests were drowned in a timely tea given this afternoon by the I. R. S. Council in the Recreation Room of Louise Biting Building. The I. R. S. Council members were on hand to serve refreshments of sandwiches, nuts, cookies and tea, and with a background of music, students and faculty mingled and enjoyed the time together.

Refreshments were in charge of Sammy Pou, Sara Henry, Reece Thomas and Katherine Cole. The organization of the entertainment was by Kelly Ann Smith, Mary Lou Moore and Craig Carmichael.

SCHOOLMASTERS MEET

On Wednesday night, March 19th, approximately 100 representatives from the Northwest District of the Schoolmasters' Club attended the dinner meeting held in the Old Chapel at 6:30 o'clock. These representatives were teachers, principals, and superintendants of schools in this district.

The program consisted of an address of welcome by Dr. Rondthaler, music by the Salem College Choral Ensemble, and a speech by Dr. Robert S. Rankin, who is a professor at Duke University. The subject of the address was "The Roots of the Tree of Liberty."

Mr. Brant Snavelly served as chairman of the committee to make arrangements for this district meeting.

GERMAN CLUB MEETS

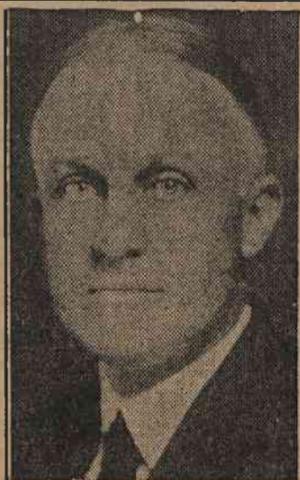

This evening at 7:45 in the living room of South Hall the German Club will have a very interesting meeting. Mr. Theodore Rondthaler of Clemons will be the guest speaker.

After the speaker there will be a short business meeting. All students taking German now and all who have taken German at one time or another are cordially invited to attend this meeting. Refreshments will be served.

DR MEYERS TO SPEND WEEK HERE

Each spring sometime before Easter the Y. W. C. A. sponsors what has come to be known as "Religious Emphasis week." As all will remember, Dr. Hornell Hart from Duke University conducted the various lectures and forums during the week devoted to this phase of campus life last year. That enterprise was a definite success in 1940, and all have every reason to believe it will be just as gainful this year. The coming week, March 24th through 28th, has been dedicated to Religious emphasis this spring, and Salem is very fortunate to have the leadership of Dr. Charles Meyers, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Greensboro.

Dr. Meyers has conducted similar functions at Davidson every year, and is well known for his work with young people in many other colleges throughout the South. He will arrive on the campus Tuesday night and will speak that evening at seven o'clock in the Recreation Room of Louise Biting Building. After having had dinner with the students in the dining room. He will conduct the expanded chapel program at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, and will speak at both Thursday and Friday chapel and on both Wednesday and Thursday nights, he will lecture at 7:00 in the Recreation Room. Because of the Civic Music Concert, his Friday talk will take place at 5:00.

Personal interviews with Dr. Meyers will be granted to all who wish them anytime Friday and possibly Thursday. All students who wish to schedule interviews or private conferences with Dr. Meyers may arrange for them by seeing one of the following girls: Ruth Schnedl, Sara Lindley, Catherine Harrell, or Elizabeth Weldon.
