DR. GOTTSCHALL — JEWISH-CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

Dr. A. W. Gottschall of Baltimore, director of the Southern area of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, speaking in expanded chapel on Wednesday, urged that all college students acquaint themselves with the facts concerning the religious differences of the Protestants, Jews, and Catholic before submitting to one of the waves of emotionism so frequently caused by prejudiced rumors and misrepresentative facts.

He continued by saying that agreement among these facts was not a purpose, for "America is a country in which you can agree to disagree agreeably." But he urged that members of the various faiths go to each other for explanation of rumors instead of widely repeating them.

"We are not trying to find a common denominator of religious feeling, for differences have their place and must be respected."

Dr. Gottschall closed by saying that the Jews, and Catholics and

"MOTHER STRONG"

It is with a feeling of great pleasure that Salem again welcomes Mrs. Henry Alva Strong to its campus. Hers is no longer merely the name which everyone recognizes as belonging to a good and beloved friend of the college; but it stands for one who is known and loved as a friend of the girls themselves and for one who is no longer a stranger in our midst.

We are proud to have Mrs. Strong with us here and we are glad to hear that her stay will last longer than the few short days that her visits have necessarily been in the past. We Salem girls are glad that she is present with us; we all want to know her better and to be given an opportunity, sometime during the days she is here, to talk with her.

Welcome to Salem, Mrs. Strong! May your visit be a pleasant one and may we do all that is possible to make it so!

—The Salem Girls.

S. A. O. P. M. ORGANIZES

The newly organized S. A. O. P. M. met last Thursday and elected officers for the remaining portion of this school year. Betty Vanderbilt was appointed chairman, and Barbara Whittier and Mary Lu Brown were elected as members of the committee on acceptance for boarding and day students respectively. All requests for art work must naturally be referred to these latter two girls. The S. A. O. P. M. will be glad to make any posters, bookplates signs; work on any minor art projects which students or faculty may wish to have done provided that the girls are approached one week before the time that this work is to be finished. This advanced notice is necessary that the work may be given the time and care it deserves. Though the organization discourages late applications, they will consider work which it to be done in less than seven days time upon payment of ten cents for each day short of the required week period.

They ask also that all art materials be payed for by the applicant (left over supplies will be returned). The committee reserves to the privilege of refusing any work which it considers too intricate and too laborious.

S. A. O. P. M. members urge you to take advantage of this new opportunity. It must be realized that members of this Art Service Club in no way intends to evade requests, or to make money; they have as their aim the betterment of artistic displays on the campus and can only accomplish this aim by well organized, careful work.

SALEM DEANS ATTEND TWO CONFERENCES

Yesterday Miss Sara Turlington left for Asheville to meet with other deans of women in North Carolina. She attended a series of lectures during the morning session, followed by an executive luncheon. The afternoon was filled with discussion groups on the subject of "American Youth and Democracy." Miss Turlington will return to Salem tonight.

Miss Grace Lawrence will attend a meeting of the Executive Committee of North Carolina Colleges on April 17th at Chapel Hill. The conference is headed by Dr. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina. Miss Lawrence is one of seven who are meeting for the purposes of discussing higher education in the light of present day trends in this field.

"LIB" READ WILL FILL CHIEF-MARSHAL POST

BOOK CONTEST CLOSED APRIL 1

Class Gives Book.

The class in Modern Prose—Miss Byrd, instructor—has presented the library with a copy of Short Stories From the New Yorker. This new anthology includes 68 of the best stories published in the "New Yorker" during the past 15 years. All short story fans will surely enjoy this fine book and the library is grateful to Juniors and Seniors for their gift.

Mr. "Bookstore" Snavelly.

Has been revealed as donor of one of the prizes in the Book Contests. Some lucky girl is soon going to be the proud owner of one or more of Mr. Snavelly's choice book items.

Speaking of.

The Book Contest reminds the library committee to tell all entrants that they will be notified when and where to assemble their personal libraries or to hand in their booklists. The final judging will take place after the Easter vacation.

If a few students forgot to get their names in for this year's contests, they should start planning now to enter next year.

SALEMITES TO BE FOUND OUT BY "LIE DETECTOR"

On April 23, at expanded chapel, Mr. James W. Powell of the North Carolina Bureau of Investigation, will demonstrate the "lie detector." Mr. Powell will give the history of this fascinating machine and will also give the principles involved in the working of it.

The demonstration will be under the joint sponsorship of the Science Department and the Psychology Department of Salem. Members of the Detective Division of the Winston-Salem Police Department will be special guests at this chapel.

This program brought by Mr. Powell is one that has been looked forward to by all who knew of it since first information came concerning the possibility of its presentation here. The first expanded chapel after spring holidays, it is one which will interest not only Salem students but town people also.

Y SEWS TODAY FOR DR. THALER

This afternoon and tonight are both being devoted to the making of hospital gowns—this industry being carried out by both domestic and un-domestic-but-willing Salem-ites gathered in the recreation room of Louisa Bitting Building. These gowns will be sent to Dr. Thaler in Nicaragua, who is a missionary sent out by the Home Moravian Church. Last year a similar service was done, sponsored by the "Y" and the work was highly commended by Dr. Thaler and he sent with enthusiasm his grateful thanks to the Salem girls who gave their time to this cause.

Scrap books out of oil cloth and pictures from picture cards are also being made for the children at Bethlehem Home, a day nursery for Negro children in Winston-Salem. The Christmas cards being used are those that Salem girls gave the Y. W. C. A. after Christmas. While working, the girls were refreshed in their labors by popcorn and apples.

According to today's election returns Miss Elizabeth Read of Garden City, Long Island, will be the Chief Marshal for the school year, 1941-42. Lib, as she is better known at Salem College, succeeds Margaret Vardell, of the present Junior class to this office. Her opponent was Doris Nebel.

During the Freshman year Lib won the admiration of her classmates by her efficient handling of the class funds. Her Sophomore year she again held the position of class treasurer. Double majoring in Mathematics and French, Lib has been on the honor roll each semester since she has been at Salem. She is also an active member of the Circle Francoes.

The Chief Marshal and her assistants, who will be elected from the present Sophomore class by the present Junior class in the near future, serve as ushers at all gatherings held in Memorial Hall, such as chapel, recitals, lectures, concerts, graduation, and Senior vespers at Christmas. These girls wear formal white dresses with a yellow shoulder sash carrying out Salem's colors.

GOODBYE

In spite of vague rumors that Easter holidays are just a myth, that glorious week of freedom is almost here. As a matter of fact, spring vacation officially begins at 4:00 p.m., on Wednesday, April 9. Of course, if you're one of those legendary beings who have no afternoon classes, ye olde spring vacation begins even sooner for you—after your last morning class, unless you still have cuts left and decide to take 'em.

Sad, but true—even the merriest of festivities must end and at 9:00 a.m., Thursday, April 9, Easter holidays go the way of all good holidays and become fond memories. But don't let that worry you, 'cause if Easter comes, can June be far behind?
