

Salem College May Queen and Members of Her Court

MISS MARY LOUISE
ROUSSEAU
Winston-Salem

MISS MARTHA BOWMAN
Lumberton

MISS MARIAN BOVERNICK
Woodhaven N. Y.

MISS DOROTHY DIXON
Fayetteville

MISS MILDRED LOUISE
KELLY
Fayetteville

MISS CECILIA NUCHOLS
Charlotte

MISS KATHARINE KING
Leaksville

MISS MARGARET PATTERSON
Charlotte

MISS LILLY SUTTON
FERRELL
Winston-Salem

MISS MYRA BLOUNT
Greenville

MISS LYELL GLENN
Winston-Salem

MISS EUSEBIA MIDGETT
Winston-Salem

MISS THORN CLARK
Charlotte

MISS LOUISE PAYNE
Charlotte

A May festival in Brittany will be the theme Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock at Salem College in May Day Dell when Miss Katharine King will be crowned Queen of May by the Princess of Poetic Vagabonds, played by Miss Elizabeth Trotman. Miss King was chosen queen in a popular election held by the students, Miss Margaret Patterson, who received next to the largest number of votes, became maid-of-honor and the others shown above were chosen as members of the court. The celebration this year will attempt to recreate a Brittany May Day in 1452. Considerable research has been done to assure accuracy in details of costumes, scenery and properties. Costumes for the main characters were specially ordered, while those for the dancers and villagers were designed and made by home economics students working with Misses Gladys Blackwood and Melvin Hill. Music of that period has been arranged for orchestra by Misses Marian Johnson and Margaret Leinbach. To take care of expenses involved in the production, students have earned money at the college Tea Room by serving refreshments in the evening, with Miss Lucy Springer in charge. The 15th century French tavern has been designed and built by the art department.—All Pictures courtesy Journal-Sentinel