PLAYERS EAT - CHOOSE PRES.

Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Bruce William's dramatic's director, held a buffet supper for the Pierette Club. Needless to say, Mrs. William's lived up to her reputation as a superb hostess, aided by a few of the Pierette members.

The new Pierette players graduating from the Freshmen Dramatic's Club were invited. They were: Veda Beverstock, Nancy Rogers, Margaret Kempton, Henrie Harris, Treva Miller, Charlotte Richard, Virginia Foster, Normie Tomlin, V. V. Garth, Grace Frank Kilby, Marion Burvenick, and Harriet Sink.

The election of next year's officers was held. Margie Ray was elected to the office of president unopposed. Frances Yelverton was elected vice-president; Marion Burvenick, secretary; and Lou Moore, treasurer. Publicity manager is Henri Harris.

"What's the matter, they coming apart?"

AIN'T IT BEEN CHARMING?

"Don't think it ain't been charming" — yes, that is the current expression that decorates, at least once, every annual on third floor. Our annual, though marred by just such expressions, has marked the close of "another year" for the sophomores, juniors, and seniors, but to the freshmen this year has meant much more. It has been a year full of fun, heart-aches, problems which we have had to solve by ourselves, and plenty of hard work.

The novelty of college life was frightening at first, and quoting our beloved annual, we were "a straggling, dazed group." But now, we may be classified as the "old" girls and we are ready to sympathize with the "greenies" which next September will bring.

This year has made us love Salem and all that belongs to it. It has been not only the many opportunities of enlightenment, such as: Leland Stowe, John Mason Brown, and various others, but also our opportunities to bring out the best in us: congeniality, talents, and character.

Considering all that this year has offered us I think that it suffices to say — "Don't think it ain't been charming."

Early to rise, the same to bed. Makes a man wealthy, but socially dead.

Sophomore: "Did you take a shower?"
Freshman: "No. Why? Is there one missing?"

Wife: "Before we were married, George, you were always giving me presents. Why don't you give me any now?"

Husband: "My dear, did you ever hear of a fisherman giving bait to a fish he had caught?"

A puncture is a small hole in a tire, usually a long way from a garage.

Jerry Baynes, Salem graduate in 1940 has accepted a position as assistant in the cataloguing Department in the library at William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia. Her work will begin June 1, 1941.

During her four years at Salem, Jerry was an outstanding member of her class. Jerry was treasurer of the Student Government her junior year. She was president of the Athletic Association her senior year. Since her graduation, Jerry has been head of the play ground at Granville School.

Sarah Burrell, Salem '40, is assistant to the secretary of the library also in Williamsburg. Sarah was outstanding as Day Student President, and Latin Club president. She lives in Norfolk now and was formerly working in the Naval base in Norfolk.

ESTHER ALEXANDER WINS CUP AT SEDGEFIELD HORSESHOW

The annual Riding Show was held yesterday afternoon at Sedgefield. The girls, nervous and apprehensive, were braving the summer heat clothed in heavy woolen riding coats. A small, but appreciative, crowd was present to witness their performance.

Dudie Jones won first prize for class A, second and third places were held respectively by Esther Alexander and Ann Ewing. Kelly Ann, on her prancing grey-white steed, nabbed the blue ribbon for class B, with Margaret Kempton and Veda Beverstock winning second and third places. The winner of class C was Rosie Holstead. Mildred Kelly and Katherine McGachy wee second and third.

The real prize of the afternoon, the coveted silver cup, was vied for by only the best riders (now somewhat wilted). Esther Alexander with a hot pleased grin on her face was presented with this trophy by the judge, Mr. Allen. A rousing cheer from everybody, contestants included, acclaimed her as the best of Salem's riders.

"What kind of dog is that?"
"A police dog."
"He doesn't look like it."
"Shhh. He's in the secret service."

Sweet young thing: "Isn't it wonderful how you filling station people know just where to set the pumps to get the gas!"
