

Golf and Tennis Tournaments Come With Spring

With the advent of spring an interest in tennis and golf has sprung up. Everyday girls may be seen trotting to the tennis courts and golf course. To create added interest in these two sports a tournament will be held. Golf preliminaries will be played on our court and then two girls from each class will be chosen to go to Reynolds Park to played on our course and then two girls from each class will be receive a prize. The fee usually required for playing at the park will be donated to this worthy cause by the manager of the park.

Peggy Nimocks, tennis manager, says that she is planning to have the tennis tournament in the near future. This idea should be received with enthusiasm because of the high interest of Salemites in tennis. Every year the tennis tournaments have been a great success and this one should be even more so because of the failure to have one last fall. Let's see all of you who can play golf or tennis turn out and test your skills.

played the first movement of this difficult symphony which is considered one of the most brilliant of Franck's compositions.

The Skylark by Gretchaninoff, and Snowdrops by Prokofieff were both picturesque and enchanting. Somewhere in This Summer Night by Carew was one of the loveliest numbers in which Jane caught a feeling of the true sense of the text. Just like a flirt—that was Jane in the Goossens number, I'm Owre Young. Come Unto These Yellow Sands by La Forge showed the coloratura quality of her voice beautifully.

Miss Laura Emily Pitts did a beautiful job of accompanying. In all, the evening was a great success and Jane deserves the highest praise for an outstanding performance.

she adores to eat popcorn at hill-billy shows. Photography is her big hobby, and one at which she is unusually adept, and which shows excellent results in the pictures she turns out. Lindy's more pensive moods show a sound judgment and clear thinking, and she has been active on many cabinets and committees during her college years.

A senior in voice, Lindy's recital program on Monday evening is interesting and varied and provides ample opportunities for displaying vocal technique and interpretation.

The first group consists of "Vaghiissima sembianza" by Donaudy; "Nymphs and Shepherds" by Purcell; and the Aria "Stizzoso mio Stizzoso" from "La serva padrona" by Pergolesi. German masterworks will be featured in the second group: "Maria Wiegenlied" by Reger; "enade," by R. Strauss, and "Wie soll ich die Frende, die Wonne denn tragen" by Brahms. Then follows the area from "I Puritani" by Bellini, "Qui la voce sua soave."

Concluding the program are four songs of more recent schools. "Beau Soir" by Debussy. "When Celia Sings" by Moir, "My Lady Lofu" by Warren, and the brilliant "The Maids of Cadiz" by Delibes will bring the program to a close.
