CHAPEL REVIEW

On each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 8:15 throughout the year, morning vespers will be held in the Home Moravian church. Attendance is voluntary, and for those who have been present this week, there has come the feeling of a greater satisfaction and strength by beginning the day with the singing of a hymn and communicating with God through prayer.

Dr. Anscombe spoke impressively at the Tuesday formal chapel program, using as his theme: "In the beginning, God . . ."

At the Thursday Chapel, Sarah Linn, graduate in 1941, and now an artist pupil of Ernest Hutchison at the Juilliard Graduate School of Music, presented a short but thrilling program of two piano selections: "Ballade in G Minor" by Chopin and "Symphonic Variations for Piano and Orchestra by Cesar-Franck. In her second number, she was accompanied by Dean Vardell at a second piano.

Freshmen Too Green In Opening Softball Game

Last Friday afternoon at three o'clock, the old students played the new students in the first softball game of the season. Nearly two teams reported, and after rounding up a few more recruits, the big game got under way. For five and a half innings, the two teams fought it out. But the superior strength of the upper-classmen asserted itself, and they won 15-4. The old girls scored three runs in the first inning, eleven in the third, and one in the fourth. And the frosh made one run in the first inning and three in the third.

Everybody seemed to enjoy the game a lot, especially D. Little, who being just a freshman at heart, urged the new students on to all four of their runs, besides holding down first base for them! The umpire was none other than Becky Howell. Others participating in the game were Stovall, Lewis, Seville, Moore, Byrd, Carrig, Schwalbe, Avera, Butner, and Nielson for the upper-classmen; and Coyte, H. Walton, Latham, Worth, Billings, Little, Scott, Henderson, Griffin, and Heitman for the freshmen.
