

CLUB PROGRAM IS ABOUT ARROU

The Spanish Club had its second meeting Monday, November 2, at five o'clock.

Virginia McMurry, president of the club, presided. The meeting opened with the singing of several Spanish songs, accompanied at the piano by Miss Vest.

The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint everyone with the pianist, Claudio Arrou, who appeared as the first guest artist of the Civic Music Association Monday night. Mary Ellen Byrd and Peggy Nimocks gave interesting talks about the life, hobbies, and family of this genius. After the talks the club members had a round-table discussion about him.

Dr. George Mauze, First Presbyterian Church minister, will give a talk Sunday night at Vespers in the Recreation Room of Louisa Wilson Biting. Dr. Mauze will also conduct the early morning chapel programs next week on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Three of the "Y" groups have combined to make scrapbooks for the soldiers and toys for the Salvation Army. These girls meet each Tuesday afternoon to work on their project. Magazines and newspapers are needed for the scrapbooks. If you have any magazines or newspapers which you are not using, please drop them in the boxes which have been placed on each hall.

Be sure to save Sunday afternoon, November 14, open on your calendar, for at that time the "Y" is giving a student-faculty tea for all Salemites and members of the faculty.

Oh it's team! team! team! with a very definite emphasis on team. The hockey season is now beginning to get fully under way, and by Wednesday of next week, class games will begin. It may look plenty exciting to see a football team like Duke's or Carolina's go marching down the field to roll up a score, but it's also exciting to watch a fast end furious game of sticks and balls known as hockey. Here's a note to class managers, too. It's a wise idea to get a team lined up and out for several group practices, 'cause, believe you me, these Frosh are good—but good.

Again let me remind the freshmen that tennis tournament in mid-November tend to be a bit chilly.

HORSE LOVERS

Here is your opportunity to learn more about the care, the types, and the breeding of horses and enjoy yourself at the same time. It is not necessary that you take riding, as anyone interested in horses may become a member of the new riding club.

The first meeting was held last Tuesday night, at seven in the basement of Louisa Wilson Biting. Refreshments were served and officers were elected: Dot Langdon, President; Mary Miller, Secretary-Treasurer, and Publicity Manager. A name for the club has as yet not been decided.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday at 6:45 in the basement of Louisa Wilson Biting. Let us make it a good Riding Club.

of the room and all the girls on the other. George, the camp dog, seemed to be the least embarrassed of any, for he mingled freely with both sides. Salem girls having dealt with the lack of sufficient men before, we eventually started a girl-break, and the ice was soon broken and the dance in full swing, both boys and girls breaking.

Every time the nickelodeon played a fast piece, the floor was cleared for the belle of the ball, Mary Lewis, and her partner from Washington, D. C. She really can "cut a rug." And she always told us she couldn't jitterbug. Shame!

Practically every girl would go out during the evening with a soldier, coming back in a few minutes with her face beaming and a gleam of conquest in her eye. Nope, it's not what you think. She had just been to the P. X. and gotten several of the practically extinct Hershey bars.

From the comments of the boys at the end of the dance and the hubbub in Senior until the wee hours, everyone had fun; and the next time promises to be even better.

—NEW STUDENTS—

At the conclusion of her address, Miss Farmer invited those who understood the honor system and wished to pledge themselves to "abide by it and to uphold the principles and ideals of the Student Government Association," to come forward and sign the pledge. It was emphasized that this pledge constituted a pledge to yourself principally.

The girls, all dressed in white, made a charming picture marching forward to sign the pledge, and returning with lighted candles as symbols of their installation into the Student Government Association.
