

Mademoiselle Wants New Guest Editors

(Special to the Salemite from Mademoiselle, 122 East 42nd Street, N. Y.)

A month in New York as Guest Editor of MADEMOISELLE is the much-coveted journalistic plum toward which career-minded collegians with a flair for writing, reporting, photography, illustration, etc., can direct their efforts now. MADEMOISELLE is again inviting applications for membership on its College Board.

Being a Board member means completing four assignments a year which, in toto, give a rounded portrait of the college—its activities, new courses, new trends, social aspects, EVERYTHING that's NEW. MADEMOISELLE awards a fat WAR BONDS and STAMPS for the brightest reports; pays Board members for material used and, in addition, pays $2.50 each for snapshots that appear in the magazine.

Everything submitted during the year counts toward that final plum, the Guest Editorship. And fourteen girls are chosen each year to enjoy that marvelous month in New York during which, as guests of go everywhere and do everything MADEMOISELLE, visiting Eds with the magazine's own staff, get out its bumper August College issue, pose for pictures, model for the College Clinic, and are paid a fat round sum besides.

On application to MADEMOISELLE, would-be Board members will be invited to send a brief trial report spotlighting anything newsworthy on the campus, a snapshot of themselves, their college address and home address, class year, and an idea of their extracurricular activities and interests. MADEMOISELLE makes a quick decision—and then the fun begins.

Anscombe Speaks On Word of God

Dr. Francis Anscombe of the history department spoke at the first regular chapel program of Salem College held last Tuesday morning in Memorial Hall. The service, with Miss Molly Bosenan presiding, opened with the traditional senior procession and the singing of the hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

Dr. Rondthaler introduced Dr. Anscombe.

As the text for his address, Dr. Anscombe chose the first chapter of John, verse one: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God." He explained that the Word was Christ, the personification of eternal truth; that Christ had spent His life on earth interpreting to man the teachings of God; and that all things which are to be permanent must be based on those teachings.

Dr. Anscombe emphasized the importance of following the guidance of God in all matters, in international affairs as well as in personal concerns. He said that efforts for a permanent peace would be futile until the world could produce a man courageous enough to bring the precepts of Christ and the tenets of the Christian faith to the peace conference.

The assembly ended with a prayer by Dr. Rondthaler and the singing of the recessional hymn, "Fair-est Lord Jesus."

Slants On News

this war and he does not like the idea that all is not well at home.

Ernie Pyle, the little wiry-haired war correspondent, has come home after twenty-nine months overseas living with G.I.'s and writing daily about them. Ernie was the favorite of every G.I. and his informal column is sorely missed. Ernie pyle did not want to come home but he felt that he had "missed too many boats home". No one can deny that Ernie deserves his well-earned rest.

Science News

A new display case has been added on the west porch wall of Park Hall. The case has fluorescent lighting and has been placed so that persons going to any floor of the building will see the display. The exhibits, which will be changed from once to twice a week, will feature the equipment used in all the scientific courses, especially any new equipment.

At present the outstanding articles of the exhibit are two microscopes: one a 1944 model, the other an 1894 model. Glasswear of amber and low active glass is also shown. Other items of interest are dissecting knives with removable blades, poloroid lenses, glass filtering crucibles, and equipment bearing interchangeable glass joints. There is also a gas engine model used for demonstration purposes.

Salemites of '44 Have Varied Work

Members of the class of 1944, running true to form, are keeping very busy. Miss Lelia Graham Marsh, Alumnae Secretary, has had interesting reports of their doings and whereabouts.

Among those who are teaching are Mary Lewis, whose school is in Wilmington, and Katherine McGeachy, who is teaching in her home town, Fayetteville. Catherine and Elizabeth Swinson have opened a music studio in Charlotte.

Hospitals seem to hold a fascination for several of the class of '44. Charlotte Richards and Becky Cozart are doing graduate work in dietetics, Charlotte at Duke and Becky at Charlotte Memorial Hospital. Sarah Sands received her medical technician's degree from Bowman Gray last Monday. V. V. Garth is working at the polio hospital in Hickory. Mildred Avera has entered nursing training at Johns Hopkins.

The number of girls with the "Mrs." degree is gradually growing. The Sept. 2 NEW YORK TIMES carried the picture and announcement Mary Ellen Carrig's (Buffalo, N. Y.) engagement to Capt. James M. French, of Grosse Point Shores, Mich. Captain French, a graduate of Princeton, is now serving overseas. Ella Lou Taylor became the bride of Lt. H. C. Wann on September 17. Mrs. Adair Evans Massey kept house for her husband, Lt. Massey, at Norfolk this summer, and is now in Charlotte. Carolyn Cauble Boyer's husband received his M. D. at Bowman-Gray Monday.

Continuing their studies are Elizabeth Bernhardt, who is attending the Presbyterian Assembly Training School at Richmond, and Katherine Fort, who is studying library science at Columbia University.

Virginia Gibson is working for her father in High Point. Erleen Lawson is an inspector at the local National Carbon Co. plant. Also in Winston-Salem is Mary Louise Rhodes who is with the Chamber of Commerce.

Sebia Midyette is making use of her Spanish as translator for the Pan-American Airways at Miami. Ensign Betty Moore is taking a special course in communication at Northampton, Mass. (accounts of Betty's doings may be found in "Letters From the Service.")

Doris Schaum is working in a tobacco office in Wilson, and Aileen Seville is with the Signal Corps in Washington.

A British bomber returning from a mission in Italy crashes into occupied France. All the members of the crew, with the exception of the pilot, escape through the underground. From there the story is concerned mainly with the wounded pilot who is left behind in the home of French peasants. It is a mature love story and a genuine adventure written in a readable and absorbing style.

Anna and the King of Siam by Margaret Landon.

In the 1860's, just when the Orient was beginning to feel the impact of Western imperialism and knowledge, King Mongkut engaged Anna Leonowens, an English girl, to teach English to his children and favorite concubines. From her the young prince, who later became the progressive king of Siam, learned of Abraham Lincoln and derived inspiration to abolish slavery and promote many other reforms. The story is taken from Siamese records, private diaries, and the actual writings of Anna Leonowens by the author who lived ten years in the Orient conducting this research. It lays bare the inner life of an Oriental court and is filled with mysticism and splendor.

The Red Cock Crows by Frances Gaither.

This novel presents a picture of Mississippi in 1865 as seen through the eyes of a northern school teacher. It is a truthful picture of plantation life, which bring out the unrest of the negroes and the flaming madness behind the insurrection.
