Frosh and Juniors Tie Hockey Game

On Tuesday, November 28, the freshmen and the juniors came out with the sun of the week to play the second game of the hockey tournament which was tied up with the score 3-3.

During the first half, the juniors overcame lack of team practice and carried the ball into the freshman cage three times in succession, Ann Dysart accounting for two; Nell Griffin one. However in the second half, the freshmen took over, and the greenies, led by Mary Holt Hill in outer forward position, tied up the score in quick order. The game ended with the juniors on the frosh goal line, but a hard drive knocked the ball across the play line just outside the cage much to frosh relief.

Lois Wooten and Peg Witherington were the blocking backs for the juniors, while frosh captain Isabelle Leeper with Helen Spruill and Jane Jeter kept the juniors looking for the ball.

This was the second game for the freshmen who were defeated by the mighty sophomores by a score of 2-1. In regard to the juniors, they are right where they started. Since this is the first game for the juniors, it all adds up to this: if the sophs can beat the juniors, they're the champs.

What about the seniors? Well!

"Y" Y.W.C.A. Column

On December 4, Monday, Mr. Mable H. Erdman, Executive secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, will speak in the Day Student Center at 7:00 p. m. Mr. Erdman, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., will speak on Religion in the Students' Life. After her talk a discussion, refreshments will be served.

Since one of our favorite topics is to talk about what college does for our religion, it will be most interesting to hear what Mrs. Erdman has to say. Remember — Monday night, 7:00 p. m., in Day Student Center.

A total of $42.50 was added to the World Student Service Fund from the percentage of Book Store Sales on Tuesday, November 28 which went to the Y. We wish to thank Mr. Snively for making this possible.

Students Hold Music Hour

A well done and interesting Music Hour was presented Thursday at four o'clock by the School of Music.

The program consisted of: Prelude and Fugue in G minor (Bach) — Tim Cahill. Per la Gloria (Bononcini) — Jean Youngblood. Toccato (Paradies) — Evelyn Whitlock.

Charming Marguerite (Old French) — Phillis Johnson. To the Surging Sea (Podeska) — Marie Griffin. Prelude in G major (Bach) — Betty Withers. The Spirit Song (Haydn) — Josephine Holler. Polonaise, Op. 40, No. 1 (Chopin) — Jerry Worsham. Rush Hour in Hong Kong (Chasins) — Jeannene Durhan.

Canst Thou Believe (Chretien) — Catherine Bunn. Fugue in C minor (Bach) — Edna Stafford. Highlight of the hour was Dean Vardell's novel expedition among the organ pipes to subdue a distracting squeak. There's nothing like Bach first-hand!!
