Forest Minstrel Will Crown Queen of May

Tomorrow afternoon at approximately six o'clock, Miss Mary Frances McNeely, of Mooresville, will be crowned May Queen in the May Day Dell, which has been transformed into Sherwood Forest by Robin Hood, the bold adventurer of fiction, and his Merrie Men. The story of Robin Hood was chosen and adapted for the pageant by Lucile Newman, Chairman of the May Day Com-

Right merrily Robin and his men dwell within the depths of Sherwood Forest, suffering neither care or want, but passing the time in merry games of archery, dancing, and cudgel play; living upon venison, stolen from the king who lives in nearby Nottingham Town.

The plot begins with the coming of young Allan A Dale to Robin Hood's forest camp. He tells of his thwarted love affair with the fair Ellen. Ellen is in love with Allan, and he with her, but Ellen's father has already promised her to another. The story is a ready challenge to the bold adventurer, beloved by the country people for his kindness, and hunted by the sheriff for his crafty deeds. Robin Hood swears that he will rescue the lovely Ellen from her unhappy marriage, and give her to Allan A Dale.

In the absence of Robin and a few of his band, the scene at the camp is changed. Will Stutely invites someone to fight with him, and Friar Tuck jumps to accept. After the sham battle, when both have fallen into the creek, Allan and the chorus sing a song for the men. Dancing, singing, and general merrie making take place until Robin Hood is seen returning with for the past two years. She is a pupil the lovely Ellen. There is much rejoicing in the camp, and the festivities become even more colorful.

The story has a happy ending when the court descends the hill, followed by Miss Elizabeth Gudger, Maid of Honor. At last Ellen comes down to receive the crown, which is placed on her head by the happy Mary has been active in various

Ideas, Plans, And Hopes Are Stated In Forum

I R.S. Receives ing, May 1st. The Forum is made up New Authority

After the usual student announcements in assembly on Tuesday, May six years. She graduated in piano 1, the Student Body was asked to remain. The incoming I. R. S. President, Mary Lou Stack, then presented a resolution to the Student Body asking for the authority for the I. R. S. to give social call downs or "knocks" next year. There followed a rather spirited discussion for and against the measure. When a vote was taken, the measure carried.

Under the "knock" system, members of the I. R. S. Council will give "knocks" for such things as bad smokehouse etiquette, not being properly clothed at meals and in the smokehouses, etc. The "knocks" will be like call downs in that when a girl has a certain number, her case will be presented to Student Government and she will receive restriction. The number of "knocks" which may be received before restriction is given will be greater than the number of call downs a girl may receive under the Student Government system. Also the restriction when given will be less than the penalty for call downs.

The Athletic Council for 1945 46 was chosen by the old council in a recent meeting. This group will be led by President Polly Starbuck in athletic activities for next year. The new officers are: vice-president, Betsy Casteen; secretary, Louise Efird; and treasurer, Virtie Stroup. Stroup. The managers of sports are: Martha Lou Heitman, hockey; Annabel Allen, basketball; Anne Dysart, softball; Betsy Casteen, riding; Nancy Snyder, tennis; Anne Carothers, swimming; Maria Hicks, badminton; Helen Robbins, golf; Nell Griffin, archery; and

There was a meeting of the Presidents' Forum on Tuesday evenof the heads of all campus organizations, and this meeting included the present and the newly elected officers. Dr. Rondthaler presided over the meeting and explained its purpose: to get a prospective look at all campus activities, to enable each campus leader to be familiar with the goal and purpose of other organizations, and to seek the aid and advice of other leaders in their problems. The Forum should and will serve as a clearing house for all campus activities, and it is hoped that through the work of the Forum the school calendar will be clarified, and there will be less overlapping and conflicting of programs and activities of the different organiza-

At the meeting, the heads of each organization presented a written statement of purpose and aim, and the newly elected leaders presented their plans for next year. Limited space makes it impossible to outline the entire schedule and plan for next year, but here are some of the plans of the different organizations: located on the third floor of the

The I. R. S., as its contribution, hopes to raise the social standing of the college by instituting the new system of social call downs called "knocks." There is to be an I. R. S. room next year, and the I. R. S. is going to keep a calendar of all activities to avoid conflicts of program plans.

The Salemite suggested that each organization elect a reporter so that each organization would be sure to get its share of publicity.
