

Salem Faculty Enjoys Various Activities

The summer found the Salem faculty scattered widely. Dr. Willoughby was in West Barnet, Vermont, for rest and reading . . . Dr. and Mrs. Confer spent a vacation with Mrs. Confer's family at Newtown Square, Pennsylvania . . . Dr. Ancombe, who has been seriously ill, is recuperating at his home . . . Miss Bonney took a course in personnel work at Columbia University . . . Miss Cash visited her sister in Santa Monica, California . . . Mr. Campbell fished for lobster in Maine. Mr. Weinland visited him in June . . . Miss Johnston assisted Miss Byrd in running Pinnacle Inn at Banner Elk, N. C. . . Mrs. Pyron journeyed out to Tucson, Arizona, and the Grand Canyon, where she rode a mule down the trail to the bottom of the Canyon . . . Mrs. Wenhold spent the summer in New York with her daughter . . . Taking vacations at home and at nearby resorts in the mountains and at the beaches were the following: Dr. Jordan, Miss Burrell, Dr. Smith, Miss Covington, Miss Hixson, Miss Kirkland, Miss Marsh, Dr. McEwen, Miss Nifong, Miss Perryman, Miss Read, Dr. and Mrs. Rondthaler, and Miss Vest.

Professor Kenneth Evett

Miss Anna Butner Is Long-Time Resident

Miss Anna Butner, whose official title is Housekeeper Emeritus of Salem College, has been living on the campus for 59 years. The pleasant little white-haired lady says with eyes sparkling, "Salem has sure changed since I first came as a girl of twenty." She remembers well when woodstoves warmed little girls who studied by gaslight. But the many changes, she assures us "are for the better".

Miss Anna, who is 79 years old, treasures the memory of a party given for her in 1936 by students and faculty in appreciation of fifty years service. As "guardian of Salem's flower garden," she is a familiar and beloved figure on the campus. You'll find her living in Sisters' House where she has been since 1925. She's a true Salemite.

October 9th Is Founder's Day

Founders' Day will be observed Tuesday, October 9. Students will have a half-holiday beginning at one o'clock.

A special chapel and alumnae events will commemorate the one hundred and seventy-fourth anniversary of Salem.

a half, are living in Winston-Salem. Russel Crews, head cook at Salem for 26 years, has entered the cafe business for himself in Winston-Salem.

Handsome Yankee Art Professor Likes Southern Fried Chicken and Warm Climate

If you see a tall, handsome, blue-eyed man walking around campus looking rather bewildered, you'll know that it is our new art professor, Kenneth Evett, and not a co-ed as one freshman concluded. His bewilderment is a result of his unsuccessful house-hunting campaign. His family, including a wife, 4 year-old Danny and an 8 months-old daughter, are now in Boston waiting to hear news of their new house in Winston-Salem.

Professor Evett comes to us from Boston where he recently taught art at the Vesper School of Art. This is his first trip to the South, but he seems to have a few Southern characteristics, for he loves good fried chicken and our warm climate—not to mention the Southern hospitality. Like all Northerners, he says that he has never met so many "agreeable people, and it's really overpowering to have folks be so nice to you." He proves to be a very sympathetic listener, and if you don't watch him, he will know much more about you than you know about him.

"Elegant" is the word he uses in describing our beautiful campus. The quaint passage ways which "hook the buildings together" are fascinating to him, although it is reported that a few of them are a bit too low for his statue. This Yankee is very eager to see more of North Carolina. He wants his tour to include Duke University and the Skyland Drive beyond Asheville, so if you happen to be going either way, be sure to let him know! "I have heard no unkind words about your mountains," he says.

As to art, he belongs to the modern realistic school, "which can mean anything". He will quickly straighten you out if you think that all modern art is similar to those crazy pictures in the Life magazines as some do. He plans to bring many interesting exhibits to our campus to acquaint us with some of the modern trends. Like the writer, he believes that all people have "something to say" and he plans to show his pupils how to "say things" in various art mediums, oils preferred.

Besides art he is interested in dramatics, music, modern cartoonists, and tennis. In the dramatic field he hopes to work on stage settings and design, which the Pierrettes are very glad to hear. Evett is enthusiastic about such cartoonists as Thurber and Steinberg who are favorites on campus. He feels that they stand high in the field of art expression because "they put so much in so few lines."

Professor Evett is a graduate of Colorado State College, Colorado University at Colorado Springs, and is a former art student at the Fine Art Center in Colorado and Woodstock, N. Y. (Too many Colorados in that sentence!) He expects to like Salem very much and boy! we sho' hope he does!

Weinland Proudly Tells of Daughter

Papa Weinland reports that our youngest addition to the campus is Katherine Ruth Weinland. She was born at 6:12 A. M. August 15, 1945—one day after Japan surrendered! She weighed 7 lbs. 2 oz., has blue eyes, black hair, and big feet. "Needless to say," reports the proud papa, "she's as cute as a crutch!" She destroys the legend that all babies chew on their feet; she doesn't. They prefer to feed her. She has a tremendous appetite like her father. She doesn't cry at all, but she is "definitely awakened to the universe and is interested in people and stuff." The latest quotation from Katherine is "Oooooo." More will come later.

Faculty Facts

Mrs. Annette McNeely Leight will remain in Mooresville this winter taking care of her red-headed Molly, now seven months old, and, according to reports, a very unusual baby. Her husband Ed is in Greece and hopes his family can get over next year.

Mrs. Schedl, the former Miss Naomi Kark of the Art Department, is living in Easton, Pa. She is expecting her family from South Africa to visit her this year.

Miss Grace Lawrence, former dean, is an assistant to the dean at W. C. U. N. C., Greensboro.

Dr. Vera Lachmann is teaching Greek this year at Bryn Mawr.

Miss Jerry Bayne, former library assistant now in the WACS, is stationed at the Waheman Hospital Center, Camp Atterbury, Indiana.

Mrs. Theodore Rondthaler is working at Black Mountain College where her husband is a member of the faculty.

Mr. Clifford Bair resigned at Salem College to take a full time job as director of music at St. Paul's Church in Winston-Salem, and as director of the Boys' Choir of Winston-Salem.

Lt. John Downs, U. S. N. R., and Mrs. Downs are living in Charleston on the Citadel campus.

Miss Sarah Turlington, stationed in Washington, flew to San Francisco in August on a special assignment for the Navy.

Lt. Larry Kenyon, U. S. N. R., is stationed in Norfolk, Virginia. Mrs. Kenyon and Bruce, now two and

WELCOME Class of '49

WE OFFER FASHIONS OF FLAIR FOR THE SMART GIRLS WHO WEAR THEM!

OSNIK'S

Welcome Salem Students To GOOCH'S

"THE STORE ON THE CORNER"

Come over to see our Menu—

We have everything that's good to eat for that "IN BETWEEN SNACK"

Some of our specials are: Cream Cheese & Olive on Nut Bread, Ham-Bun, Hot Fudge Sundae on toasted Pound-Cake, Walnut Fudge Tarts, Frozen Pineapple Juice.

All Kinds of Salads, Soups, Sandwiches and Fountain Drinks

"Ben" and Kathryn Roberts Proprietors

The Salem Book Store

WELCOME THE STUDENTS AND FACULTY OF SALEM COLLEGE AND ACADEMY

The Place to Supply Your College Needs

E. D. Snavelly Virginia Holton

Carrie Kirkman Marjie Robertson