

I. R. S. Council Makes New Regulations

In a recent meeting of the I. R. S. Council, this campus organization drew up social regulations to improve conduct in chapel, dining hall, and other public places.

Beginning February 24, 1947 call downs shall be given for violating the following social regulations:

1. Negligence in dress:
 - a. Wearing blue jeans, slacks, gym suits on the front campus and in the dining hall at any time.
 - b. Failure to dress for Sunday dinner.
 - c. Wearing house-coats and pajamas in smoking rooms during calling hours.
2. Neglecting Dining Hall manners:
 - a. Sitting before the blessing is said.
 - b. Knitting at the table.
 - c. Inexcusable table manners.
 - d. Serving plates before the blessing is said.
 - e. Leaving the table before all members of the table are excused unless absolutely necessary and excused by the hostess.
3. Chapel conduct:
 - a. Knitting.
 - b. Eating.
 - c. Unnecessary talking.
 - d. Taking books into Chapel.
4. For smoking on walks outside of the dining hall at any times. Smoking is allowed outside ONLY after dark on the terraces immediately adjoining the dorms.
5. Yelling for rides to town.

Call downs will be turned in by the I. R. S. members and Senior Hostesses to the Student Government who will issue the call downs. Any person having an accumulation of five call downs whether for violating Student Government or Social regulations shall receive one week's single restriction.

YOU are reminded that at all times you are representing Salem—at concerts, down-town, on dates, at clubs, dances, etc. What you say and how you act reflects credit or discredit, not only upon yourself and your family, but upon SALEM.

The men students have made a revision in their regulations. Article 1. Sections c and d shall be changed to read:

- c. Until 6 p. m. men are not permitted in the other dormitory recreation rooms. There is only one exception: a dormitory which so desires may invite men students to its recreation room between 1:30 p. m. and 2:00 p. m. from Monday through Friday and between 12:30 p. m. and 1:00 p. m. on Saturday. This exception may be discontinued if the indicated time limits are not faithfully observed.
- d. On week days after 6 p. m. and on week ends after Saturday at 1 p. m., a man wishing to date a woman student must go to the Resident Dean's Office in Clewell Dormitory. If the woman has permission to date, he may go with her to the recreation room of her dormitory. In such instances, the same regulations apply to men students at Salem as to men who are not students.

"Y" Launches WSSF Drive

The World Student Service Fund Drive for Salem College was launched Tuesday in assembly. The speech classes, under the direction of Mrs. Berglund, presented a W. S. S. F. chorologue.

Mary Bryant explained the organization and nature of W. S. S. F., and Marty Davis gave some specific needs for this money. The Salem W. S. S. F. Drive for $777.77 plus was announced by Emma Mitchell, chairman of the World Student Service Fund Committee.

MRS. GRACE L. ELLIOTT

DR. HARRISON SMITH

Dr. Harrison Smith and Mrs. Grace L. Elliot are among the speakers to appear at Salem during Symposium Week.

Administration Announces Calendar For Next Year

May Day Group Begins Try-Outs

Final tryouts for the May Day dances will be held on Monday, March 3 at 5:00 p. m. in the gym. Everyone who is interested is invited to tryout whether she has had previous dancing experience or not. About thirty-five people will be needed for this phase of the pageant, therefore many are encouraged to tryout.

This will be the first step in the actual rehearsal of the annual Salem May Day which will be held on May 3. The highlight of the event will be the crowning of Jean Moss of Wilson, N. C. as queen. She will be attended by twelve Salem beauties.

Comp. Class Plans Forum

Mr. Peter Taylor, who holds the chair of creative writing at Woman's College in Greensboro, will be the guest of Miss Byrd's Advanced Composition students on Tuesday, March 1.

The class has been planning its own small writing forum for several months and has asked Mr. Taylor to lead in a critical discussion. The better papers from this year's class assignments have been collected in a mimeographed booklet. Mr. Taylor will choose from the booklet several sketches which he thinks are worthy of critical analysis. After his informal criticisms, Mr. Taylor will lead in an open forum discussion with the girls.

The writing forum will be held during the two periods from 10:20 until 12:10 Tuesday morning in the basement of Biting Dormitory.

Chinese Youth Will Visit Salem

An informal UNNRA Fellowship Program is to be held this Sunday evening at 8:30 in Miss Wilson's apartment. Louis Tsai, formerly of Nanking, China, and at present a student at the University of Pittsburgh, will speak about the condition of Chinese students in his own country. Mr. Tsai who is taking courses on social work at the University of Pittsburgh is spending some time in Winston-Salem to gain experience in a smaller community before he returns to China at the end of March.

John Mason Brown Sips Tea, Talks Informally To Students

By Catherine Gregory

Last Tuesday the Pierrettes and the Drama class entertained at tea for John Mason Brown. Stiff, formal we sat, awaiting the arrival of the fabulous gentleman. He swept in, met people, talked to everyone at once, and generally established himself. He inquired about Dr. Willoughby's Shakespeare class, and informed that it was offered in alternate years, twinkled, "Oh, sort of A. C., instead of D. C." He settled back on the sofa and faced the room, looking exactly like a drama critic in a Men of Distiction ad. And then

Symposium Speakers Will Discuss Education

Symposium Week, March 3 through March 6, will bring to Salem campus four speakers of national importance. The Symposium, being held as a major part of the 175th anniversary celebrations, is on women's education. With one speaker each night, the lectures will take place in Memorial Hall at 8 p. m.

Radio Program Will Feature Salem Speakers

The art, language, and music departments are presenting talks for Salem College's regular radio program tonight from 7:30 to 8 P. M. The program is designed to further the ideas of Brotherhood week.

Mr. Kenneth Evett will represent the art department and discuss American, Negro, and Oriental art. He will show how an understanding of art of other countries helps to understand the countries and also how it helps to develop American art.

Miss Eloise Baynes will speak on the Latin, French, and German languages.

The musical part of the program includes "Solveig's Song" by Greig, a Norwegian folk song which will be sung by Mary Wells Bunting. The Freshman Choristers will make their first appearance singing "Steal Away," a Negro spiritual. Margaret McCall and Majorie Crickmer will play a piano duet, "Maleguena," a Spanish dance.

Group To Give The Gondoliers

Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Gondoliers" is being presented by the Winston-Salem Operetta Association in Reynolds Auditorium, tonight at 8:15 P. M.

The purpose of this organization, which is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, is to promote local talent. Four of the forty members in the operetta are Salem students: Sara Haltiwanger, member of the orchestra; Jim Smith, Betty Jean Bagby, and Becky Brown, members of the chorus; also, Betty Lou Ball is on one of the production committees. The operetta is directed by the former head of the Salem Voice Department, Clifford Bair.

"The Gondoliers" is a story of two handsome gondoliers, who rule a kingdom jointly, each in search of a bride. Doug Kimel of Winston-Salem and Louis Bianco of Mt. Airy are the dashing young gondoliers and Lucille Fowler and Jo Fisher of Winston-Salem their lovely brides.

Tickets for the production are on sale in the Resident Dean's Office and can be obtained from any member of the Operetta Association. They will also be sold at the door of Reynolds' Auditorium.

* Mrs. Grace Loueks Elliott, general secretary of the national Y. W. C. A., Mrs. J. J. Clark, owner-manager of the Security State bank of Pharr, Texas, Dr. Elise Strang L' Esperance, director of the Strang Cancer Prevention Clinics and assistant professor of preventive medicine at Cornell University, and Harrison Smith, president and owner of the Saturday Review of Literature, will participate in the symposium.

All four of the speakers will discuss the opportunities for women in their particular fields. Special emphasis will be placed on discovering how liberal arts college can train women to take their places in the fields of religion, business, medicine, and literature.

Three A.A. Girls Attend Meeting

Carolyn Taylor, Marjorie Crickmer, and Eaton Seville will represent the Athletic Association of Salem College at a meeting of the North Carolina Athletic Federation of College Women to be held at the Women's College in Greensboro on March 1.

The meeting will consist of registration from 10:30-11 o'clock, a preliminary business meeting from 11-12 o'clock, and a business meeting from 2-3:30. Representatives from Meredith College, Duke Women's College, University of North Carolina, WCUNC, and Salem will be present to approve or reject a tentative constitution which was adopted at UNC February 7.

Such an organization as the proposed constitution sets forth can serve a vital purpose in emphasizing and promoting women's athletics in North Carolina. It would work to bring the associations from different schools in closer contact with each other, and mutual benefit could be derived from discussing problems which are common to all of the schools. As an organized group it would sponsor state-wide sports days, seasonal sports days, the publication of a state bulletin, and, in general, bring schools closer together.

Mlle. Alvarez Visits Salem

A dinner will be given honoring Mlle. Annette Alvarez Friday at 6 o'clock. The other guests at the dinner will be the faculty of the Department of Modern Language, the officers of the French Club and the girls whose first major is French. After the dinner Mlle. Alvarez will lead a discussion on "Protestantism in France" in Louisa Wilson Biting.

Mlle. Alvarez has worked for the McCall Protestant Mission in Paris. She is now a Girl Scout executive in Paris. There the Girl Scouts are closely affiliated with the churches, both Protestant and Catholic. Coming here from Springfield and New York, the speaker will spend two weeks in Winston-Salem and then go to Chicago. She will be in the United States for five months.
