

Scorpions Sting Ten

Library Adds Data on Clubs

The Order of the Scorpion has presented to the library, as part of their contribution in the 175th Anniversary year, a History of Organizations at Salem College prepared by members.

These histories also include programs which have been successfully carried out. From them one may learn how active or inactive the various organizations at Salem College have been throughout the years, the purpose, goal, and accomplishments of each. They should be very helpful to present groups mapping goals and making plans for the future.

It is the intention of the Scorpions to add to these histories from time to time, and thus keep them up to date. At present they total about 150 pages.

Vardell Cantata To Be Presented

The Salem College Choral Ensemble and Men's Chorus with the Piedmont Festival group will present for its first performance, a cantata, "Song in the Wilderness," over NBC's coast to coast network, on Saturday, May 31, from 5:15-5:45. With words by Paul Green and music by Dr. Charles Vardell, Jr., the cantata was written in celebration of the 175th anniversary of the founding of Salem College.

In this rich and moving composition two brilliant artists have combined their talents in honoring an ageless institution. The original edition, limited to 600 numbered copies, will be handsomely bound in cloth and will bear the autographs of the author and composer. The jacket design will be a reproduction in black and white of the murals done by Miss Allen and Gene Noyen for the foyer of Main Hall, Salem College. Copies are available in the Salem Book Store.

The cantata will also be presented by the Choral Ensemble in their commencement recital on Saturday night, May 31, at 8:30 o'clock in Reynolds' Auditorium.

Mlle Offers Dog-Day Dope Salem Seniors Seek Jobs

After nine months of school, three months of carefree vacation seem your just deserts, but whether June, July and August are months of rest or resourcefulness "It's All Up To You!" Summer working, some are not, but the former can be both fun and experience. Some jobs even mean $$$.

Mademoiselle has compiled all facts and findings on jobs and job-seeking into an attractive and inspiring pamphlet, "Summer Work Out" which has been put into the library for your convenience. This pamphlet gives you all the dope: where to apply, necessary requirements, who is needed and where.

For those with printers ink in their veins a small town newspaper is your best bet. May we add that the compensation is mostly experience. Treading on foreign soil except for volunteer work overseas (requisite: five hundred on hand) is only for permanent employees. The inland water excursion lines, however, have openings for those who are balanced when it comes to carrying soup plates. The waitress' way is also the way to spend a summer at the beach or visit our national parks, especially in the West. If you have a great deal of physical stamina, there are various camp jobs at various levels of remuneration. There are a great many openings for you in hospital, restaurants, institutions should you be home economical - testing kitchens, dietetics, menu-making. Perhaps selling is your line. Department stores want attractive girls, and so we feel Salemites could come through all the keen competition that goes with finding this sort of a job. These are just a few of the many possibilities; you could even think up your own original one-man job.

Already the returns and reports are coming in for jobs and job-hunters. Seeking careers in husbandry are Henrietta Walton, Sally Boswell, Bernice Bunn, Ticksa Senter, Fran Rives, Boots Lambeth, and Mary Frances King.

After graduation Jane Mulhollem is going to tour the Continent - the States, Canada, and Mexico, that is. Jean McNew is no homebody either; she's going to Alaska to do radio work. Gwen Yount is going to Rip to Florida.

Ezio Pinza Will Sing

Ezio Pinza, bass-baritone, will be presented by the Civic Music Association at the Reynolds' Auditorium, Wednesday May 21, at 8:30 p.m.

Pinza was born in Rome, Italy. Shortly after his birth his parents moved back to their native Ravenna and settled there. In the old Byzantine City, Pinza led the normal life of the average Italian boy, with never any thought of a musical career. At eighteen he had to decide what to do to earn his livelihood. His first choice was bicycle racing, but he soon became discouraged and tried singing. Accompanied by his father, Pinza went to Bologna to audition for Vezzani at the Conservatory. The answer was no, but undaunted by this refusal, Pinza went to another teacher, Maestro Ruzza, and the answer this time was yes. Upon Ruzza's death, Vezzani changed his mind and took him into the conservatory.

In 1925, Pinza made his debut with the Metropolitan Opera and his twentieth anniversary there has recently been celebrated. "The greatest bass baritone of his generation," as Time magazine calls him, Ezio Pinza is praised equally for his histrionic abilities as well as his vocal accomplishments.

Some seniors still have unwary brain cells. Sara Haltiwanger is going to the Juilliard School of Music in New York; Virtie Stroup, the Graduate School of Social Work at Carolina; Frances Carr will take dietetic training at the Watt's Hospital in Durham.

If you read the Journal-Sentinel you probably already know that Trixie Zigler has landed her job, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent in Forsyth County. Mary Anne Linn will be in the Winston schools primary department as a teacher.

Bouchie Scott is going to work and wait at home. There's a point in her waiting, a Wes' Point . . .

Varied Activities Hail Graduation

Dorms Elect Presidents For '47-48

Louise Dodson, Frances Gulesian, Louise Stacy, Sara Hamrick, and Joan Roeser were the winning candidates in elections held Wednesday night for house-presidents for 1947-48.

Louise Dodson, a rising junior from Miami, Florida, was elected house-president of Clewell. Since she has been at Salem, she has been a member of the Spanish Club, Modern Dance Club, Freshman Dramatics Club, was president of her class in her freshman year, has been a Salemite reporter for two years, was a member of the legislative board of the Student Government in her sophomore year, and is a marshal for 1947-48. The other candidate in this election was Betty Wolfe.

Frances Gulesian, a rising sophomore from Pleasantville, N. Y., defeated Joan Read for house-president of Society Hall. Since she has been at Salem, Frances has been a member of the Pierrettes and a member of the editorial staff of the Salemite and the Sights and Insights.

Louise Stacy, a rising sophomore from Lumberton, N. C. defeated Mary Hill for house-president of South Hall. At Salem, Louise has been a member of the Salem Players, Latin Club, was secretary of her class in her freshman year, was sub-house president of Strong Dormitory in her freshman year, and is a member of the judicial board of the Student Government for 1947-48.

Sara Hamrick, a rising sophomore from Shelby, N. C. was elected house-president of Sisters House. Since she has been at Salem, Sara has been an especially active member of the Salem Players. The other candidate in the election was Martha LeBey.

Joan Roeser, a rising sophomore from Forest Hills, N. Y. was elected house-president of Lehman Hall. She is a member of the Lablings, and is active in sports.

Mrs. Tillet Says Salem Can Be Part Of UNESCO

"Since wars begin in the minds of men, it is in the minds of men that the defenses of peace should be constructed," said Mrs. Charles W. Tillet, Vice-Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, as we discussed informally with her the purpose of UNESCO. She was quoting from the constitution of UNESCO, which has as its main idea "the meeting of minds across boundary lines the exchange of culture between countries."

Having been a delegate to the United Nations Conference in San Francisco, Mrs. Tillet was able to tell many amusing anecdotes about her adventures there. Explaining the functions of the various departments of the UN, Mrs. Tillet stated that the Social Council might well be called the "planning board" of the UN, because it seeks to prevent war by investigating war's potential causes. The World Trade Organization explains its purpose by its title, the World Food Organization and the World Health Organization approach the problem from a practical, every day viewpoint, while UNESCO appeals to the minds and hearts of men.

* The annual hat-burning to be held this year on Tuesday night, May 13, will mark the beginning of the end for the seniors. On this occasion, the juniors will burn paper hats which represent the frivolity of earlier college days, and they will assume full Senior dignity when they wear the Senior caps for the first time. The seniors will sing the traditional, "Moonlight On The Campus." Jane Mulhollem will sing the solo part.

Senior Dinner

On Thursday night, May 29, the Seniors will have dinner together at the Airport. The plans for the dinner are made by the Seniors and are secret.

Baccalaureate Sermon

Dr. Walter Judd will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon for both the college and the Academy at 11 o'clock Sunday morning in the Home Moravian Church.

Buffet Supper

Buffet supper Sunday night will be served at 5:45 o'clock on the President's lawn for the seniors and their families. After supper Senior Vespers will be held at 7 o'clock in front of the Prattice House. Gwen Yount will sing a solo, and Rosamund Putzel will read the Scripture.

Commencement

On Monday morning at 11 o'clock the Seniors will receive their diplomas in Memorial Hall. John Temple Graves is the commencement Speaker.

Clubs Elect Gillespie, Smith

Toosie Gillespie is president of El Club Espanol for next year. The following officers were also elected at the meeting yesterday: Joyce Burke, vice-president, Peggy Gleason, secretary; Dot Arrington, treasurer; and Marjorie Crickmer, publicity.

Dottie Smith was elected president of the Home Economics Club at their meeting Thursday. Other officers elected were: Sara Burts, vice-president; Dot Covington, secretary; and Betty Pierce, treasurer.

Plans were also made for a dinner at the Reynolds Grill Tuesday night May 20.

Gracious, attractive, Mrs. Tillet has been active for many years in civic, church and club affairs of women in the State and nation. Having recently attended a national conference in Philadelphia, which was sponsored by the State Department for the purpose of "briefing" its delegates on international affairs, Mrs. Tillet is fully qualified to give information.

In reply to the question asked her as to what part Salem could take in UNESCO, Mrs. Tillet reminded us of the plan of exchanging students with various countries. Many of these exchanges are made possible by funds raised in local organizations such as Rotary and Lions Clubs. There are already two thousand American students in Europe and it is hoped that the number may be increased to five thousand. Another thing that Salem could do to help this world-wide organization is to contribute equipment to foreign schools. Emphasizing this need, Mrs. Tillet stated that in some instances one pencil may be used by as many as fifty students.
