

Accent On Athletics

by Gloria Paul

The rival teams, the sophomores and the juniors, met Thursday afternoon to battle for the year's hockey championship. The final score of this last game was 4-1, in favor of the sophomores.

Outstanding for the juniors were Sylvia Green and Amy Debusk, scorers, and Peggy Watkins and Jeanne Dungan; for the sophomores, Gloria Paul, Pat Edmondson, Joan Roeser and Mary Persons. Outstanding also were blue jeans, cold legs, Miss Stout and Miss Geith.

Kaffke To Speak At IRC Meet Students Laugh At Faculty

Mr. Frank Kaffke, faculty member of the School of Commerce at the University of North Carolina will speak to the International Relations Club Monday, December 1, at 8 p. m. His topic will be "The Economic Situation in This Country"—a subject vital to everyone.

Lecture Changed

The second lecture of the College Lecture Series has been postponed from December 5 until December 9. Mr. Raymond Swing, who is now scheduled to speak on Dec. 9, will lecture on the topic, "History Is On the March".

Suddenly loud guffaws and giggles burst out midst the library silence. I rushed over to the desk and peering over the mob of shoulders saw in dusty old annuals that:

1. Miss Siewers was advertising editor of her annual.
2. Miss Vest was described as "a peaceful sea" and owned a snappy Chevrolet coupe.
3. Miss Kirkland was "a Camay beauty bath" girl.
4. Mr. Campbell wore horn-rimmed glasses and had even earlier hair in 1923.
5. Mrs. Pyron was once an English instructor here.

6. Mr. Curlee, complete with bow tie, was advisor to Miss Baynes' graduating class.
7. Miss Hedgecock giggled at everything and anything—still does.
8. Miss Baynes was the all round girl of her class and later taught Phys. Ed. here.
9. Miss Vardell was a member of Who's Who and the Order of the Scorpion.
10. Miss Byrd's picture was missing out of all the annuals from 1905 to 1945, so no pertinent facts about her.
