

Accent On Athletics: Sophs Beat Seniors

The first basketball game of the season, seniors versus the sophomores, ended with the score of 28-16 in favor of the sophomores.

The members of both teams showed fine spirit and good teamwork throughout the game. During the first quarter, neither team gained over the other, but in the last three quarters, the sophomores pulled through to win the game.

Gloria Paul was high scorer for the sophomores with 14 points, and Ann Mills was high scorer for the seniors with 10 points. Outstanding guards were Jane White, Ann Roberson and Janie Morris.

Even more important than sports at Salem and sports in our country at this time are the Winter Olympics in St. Moritz, Switzerland. In these contests of skiing, skating, and bob-sledding, the United States took second place under the first place Sweden teams. Francis Tyler of Lake Placid, New York, and three associates, won the four-man bobsled race; and Dick Button of Englewood, New Jersey, won a championship in men's figure skating. Fifteen year old Barbara Ann Scott of Canada, won the championship in women's figure skating.

Another Olympics-in-the-making is scheduled for February 21, here at Salem College. This year's North Carolina State Play Day for basketball is to be on the home court and many of the colleges in the state will attend our Open House. Representing Salem on the courts will be Janis Ballentine, Kakki Pearson, Clinky Clinkscales, Eaton Seville, Beverly Johnson, Gloria Paul, Carolyn Taylor, Ann Roberson, Jane Hart, Nancy Wray, Connie Purvis, and Ann Rixey. The action will be from ten Saturday morning to five Saturday afternoon.

the pages of her History of Civilization book. Joy, in retort, snatched up her Colt .38 from her laundry bag and took a pot shot at June who, by this time, was hanging from the chandelier (theirs was the only room at Salem College with a chandelier). And so they continued, back and forth, with frazzled nerves, until 2 a. m. when the last light blinked for lights out.

The two tired little gnomes slithered into bed and proceeded asking each other questions about Inca Pottery 101. Said June, "How did the Incas make Inca pottery?" Answered Joy, "By moulding clay over the head of the youngest child. Ask me a hard one."

"Who designed the designs for Inca pottery?"

dress created an impression on Earle and the SPE'S at Davidson.

Due to the rain several girls chose to wear old dresses to the dance to save their pretty new ones till later. Pinky Carlton saved her beautiful white net dress and wore instead a gold taffeta just matching the beautiful gold and green orchid which her date sent her. Amy Debusk wore a ballerina black net dress, off the shoulder. Lovely to look at. We hope all the arrows reached their mark last weekend if not girls there's always the Jr.-Sr. and May Day. So if your dress didn't bring that certain gleam in his eye—well, better luck next time!

Club Clippings . . . . .

Two important play selections were made by the Pierrettes: Eugene O'Neill's Where the Cross Is Made will be presented at Chapel Hill in the Spring, and Helen Jerome's adaptation of Jane Eyre will be performed on campus April 8 and 9. This same version starring Katherine Hepburn was recently given by the Theatre Guild.

The Salem Players have scheduled the following plays for March 18: Crotty's Escape by Moonlight, Baker's Lost Victory and O'Keefe's Ring in the Groom.

Because the snow kept many members away, the Latin Club postponed its regular initiation service until next month. The hour was then spent in playing Latin anagrams and eating Valentine cake.

Tootsie Gillespie and Carolyn Taylor entertained the Spanish Club at a recent meeting with a musical program on four major Spanish composers. Carolyn accompanied Tootsie who sang the music of Darius Milhaud, who is not a Spanish composer, but writes awfully good music, according to Tootsie; Manuel DaFalla, who wrote the "Ritual Fire Dance", which they didn't play; Isaac Albeniz, a good old Irishman, who wrote "Sevilla" and "Navarro" which they played with castanets and tambourines.

"Chesterfield is my cigarette—it's Mild and pleasing"

Valli

STARRING IN DAVID O. SELZNICK'S PRODUCTION "THE PARADINE CASE" DIRECTED BY ALFRED HITCHCOCK

WHY I smoke Chesterfield

(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)
"I smoke Chesterfields because I know the kind of tobacco that's in them and I like their flavor and mildness."
"Chesterfield is in the market for the yellow, mellow, ripe tobacco. We farmers here know that. It's good tobacco."
