

Accent On Athletics Juniors Top Frosh

by Gloria Paul

Hurricane? Spring Fever? Whatever the case, basketball-mad individuals are packing the gym full each time that there's a game, and it doesn't make sense. Perhaps some realize that sports does play an important part in fun. Still, you need to be reminded that there will be a double header Tuesday night between the sophomores and juniors and between the freshmen and seniors.

The freshmen-junior game was one for the books and hot conversation. At the end of the first quarter, the juniors led only by two points (4-2), and then gained eight points during the second quarter to lead the freshmen by ten points (12-2). During the third quarter, the juniors gained four points and the freshmen made two (16-4). During the last quarter, the freshmen finally came through with some long shots and boosted their score up to a presentable 11, still trailing. The game ended with a 19-11 score.

The juniors won the game with push up shots and an able defense. Outstanding guard for the juniors was Nancy Wray and outstanding guards for the freshmen were Shirley Baker and Jane Hart.

If you want to know about the office, just don a raincoat (some of the pipes leak) and descend into the catacombs. The room under Main Hall is small with two windows opening onto the green house, and it is haunted by "thangs" (of the type often mentioned in "Seeing Thangs"). The editor encourages interested visitors, but only those of the type who have perfectly balanced "humours".

Mr. Peterson will be the guest speaker for the Professional Teachers Club at Kimberly Park School next Monday afternoon. His subject will be, "The Need for Music in Our Educational Program."

George Hates

jumped the little Czar, bleeding profusely, a hammer in one hand and a sickle in the other. "Now is the time to save the American people!" he screamed, turning a violent charreuse. At that, George beat his axe over the little Czar's head and shouted, "Capitalism forever!!—free trade, a minimum of government control, private enterprise and remember the Alamo!!" and of course, the little Czar was never heard of again.

After the loss of his little friend, George decided to take up life in an Indian reservation. There he picked up several hobbies such as bead-stringing, deer-chasing (he was quite adept at this), minnow-dissecting; he learned how to wig wams and wam wigs, he learned also that if he shot an arrow into the air, it always fell he knew not where. George also mastered several Indian folk songs such as "Givum Muchum Splat" (translated, "Pull in Your Wash, It Looks Like a Squaw"), "Dumbo Gitchee Noway" (What Fool Would Trade Beads For Money?), "Bustum Face Upum" (Go Away, Pocohantas, I'm Busy), "Foo Moo to Goo" (What's Minnie-Ha-Ha Got That I Ain't Got?).

There is no space left to continue this but it seems that George was elected President of some organization or another, but the name escapes me.

WHY I smoke Chesterfield

(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"When I bring my tobacco to market I'm always looking for the Liggett & Myers buyers because I know when I've got real good mild, ripe sweet tobacco they'll pay the top dollar for it."

"I've been smoking Chesterfields for about 25 years. I like their taste and I know the kind of tobacco that's in them."
