(Continued from page one) give. As a last resort, one might play coy and have her name and address in red neon lights hooked up to a large size men's handkerchief which she drops at frequent intervals as she goes down the street. If none of these work, just remember. (If at first you don't succeed, Remember, man is woman's first need) Brighten your lipstick, curl your hair If you want to get him out of his lair.

Miss Shush

Joyce Privette and Margaret Raynal were the winners in last week's Miss Shush contest.

Helen Spruill, a senior, president of IRS with "dark hair, dark eyes, and skin most fair" was Miss Shush. Seen ya with dark hair Dark eyes and skin most fair If you have ate, plus eleven more Untangle sir, you'll see I'm shore.

The clues contained in the above passage were as follows: Clue One: "Seen ya" spelled Webster's way would be senior. Clue Two: If you have eight (H) plus eleven more (19) which is S in the alphabet, you have her initials. Clue Three: Untangled sir IRS.

Now that you've seen exactly how to figure out a Miss Shush, you won't have any trouble finding out who this week's Miss Shush is. The first person who leaves a correct explanation of the clues in the Salemite Office will win a carton of Chesterfields. The prize will be split in the event of a tie. Here's the verse, where are the clues?

After a honey bee
A road appears before us
If an egg looms up before thee
Why, you've got it, don'tcha fuss.
