

Biggest News In 177 Years; Miss Fashion Plate Appears

Just wait 'til you read this!

Maybe some of you Salemites don't know it, but Revlon has come to Salem—and we hope it has come to stay. Other than being here to promote good grooming, good dressing, poise and personality, Revlon is also bringing a wonderful opportunity to some lucky Salemite.

Between now and May 6 the students on campus will elect "Miss Fashion Plate", the personification of good grooming, health, poise, etc. on campus. Every member of the student body will participate in the election of Miss Fashion Plate and it is up to the students to choose the girl who is most ideal for the position.

Ten candidates have been nominated to run for this title by a committee of girls here at Salem. The contestants are: Beth Kitrell, Betty Griffin, Vicki Hamilton, Anne McKenzie, Carolyn Dunn, Louise Stacy, Jane Hart, Betsy Evans, Dot Massey, and Dale Smith. In making the selection the following are factors to be considered.

1. Personal grooming.
2. Individuality of dress (not expensiveness.)
3. Poise, personality, and popularity.
4. General appearance.

At the end of the contest here at Salem, the winner's picture will be sent to New York to compete with the other pictures before a jury of prominent beauty authorities. This final winner will then receive a fabulous one-week vacation trip to New York with fashion, style and make-up training at the House of Revlon.

But that's not all. The winner on campus will receive a full year's supply of Revlon cosmetics.

It is up to the students to watch our candidates carefully and to vote wisely when elections for "Miss Fashion Plate" are held on campus so that the candidate from Salem will win in the final contest which will be held in New York.

Ballot boxes will be in the smoke-houses.

Tootsie Writes A Sweet Pome To Carolyn

Lines Written Behind the Desk April 8, 1949

How often did I vainly open my book
 And hope to see within the mind of One
 To whom his nature meant a dream of bliss
 Shrouded in flowerlets kissing with the wind
 And having lofty intercourse with the dew;
 Flowers, brooks, vales and stretches of plain
 Which elevated his soul to such great heights
 That nothing but the setting sun could check
 The rapture and the rupture of his Essence.
 —And even then, with blackness shrouding vision,
 His inner Eye, tranquilly, to be sure,
 Conjured up a spring day in the night
 When He and His sister, in doubtful companionship
 Gambled together in natural piety,
 Bound to each in biological bliss.
 'Tis only when I think on another One
 Who sits in Editorship of local news
 That I can grasp the meaning on the One above.
 For armed with her copy, shy and meaning glance,
 She is as fair as Bikini after the blast.
 And when we two repair to the sweet May Dell
 Or commune over a coffee at Welfare's,
 'Tis then that I see with Pantheistic joy
 The fragrant flowerlets of her crossed eyes
 And the poppy's red in her pouting, lip-sticked mouth.
 Springs of joy lie within her cheek—
 A hell of a place to lie, but what of that?
 And in her voice, like so many mountain springs,
 One can hear night frogs, calling out
