

A. A Welcomes New Athletes

by Clinky Clinkscales

Welcome to Salem! Welcome to this organization, that organization, and most of all to the Athletic Association. For a whole week now you new students have been continually welcomed. There have been pajama parties, community sings, picnics, and teas. But after we settle down to the regular routine of sleeping, eating, playing bridge, and occasionally attending classes, the parties will subside and the various organizations will really get into action.

When it comes to action, your A. A. is not one to be left behind. In case you don't realize it, you have been benefiting from it already. I refer, of course, to the swimming pool. Soon we will be enjoying all the fall sports—tennis, golf, and our major sport hockey. In the winter the basketball season gets underway. And in the Spring our main sport is softball.

For our three major sports—hockey, basketball, and softball—we have tournaments in which each class competes for the championship. These games are very exciting and they really bring out the old class spirit. Before the opening game of every season, we have a pep rally and a huge bonfire. Each class selects cheerleaders to lead them in their favorite yells. No one wants to miss this chance to support her team. Then a cup is given to the class who has the highest attendance record for the year at these games. Besides these class tournaments, and the individual tournaments, such as tennis, badminton, ping-pong and archery, your A. A. also sponsors several dances a year. And at the end of the year there is a banquet for the entire student body.

These are just a few of the highlights of the activities of the A. A. We think it is one of the best organizations on campus, and we sincerely hope you agree with us. Remember, "It's all the way with the A. A."
