

Honors Given Three Girls

Competitive scholarships have been awarded three resident Freshmen this year for high academic achievement. The three girls who have received this honor are Jacqueline Bachelor, Eleanor McGregor and Gloria Smith.

Each year Salem awards three four hundred dollar scholarships to those three entering freshmen who have the highest records on the College Board Entrance Examinations. Each girl must take the Scholastic Aptitude Test, and two Achievement Tests of her choice.

All three of this year's honor students are honor graduates of their respective high schools. Miss Jacqueline Bachelor, of Ellingwood, Georgia, became interested in Salem through her high school principal who is a Salem Alumna and former student of Dr. Minnie Smith. Jacqueline is interested in art and has done art work on her high school annual.

Miss Eleanor McGregor, of Greenville, South Carolina is the daughter of a Salem Alumna. Eleanor is interested in religious education. Miss Gloria Smith, of Charlotte, N. C., became interested in Salem through Margaret Newlin also a Salem Alumna. A candidate for an A. B. degree, Gloria finds sewing to be her favorite pastime.

did but "happily not before the Americans did."

At Lake Success, Chinese delegate T. F. Tsiang told the U. N. Assembly that they should make moral judgment in the case of the Russians whom he claims is helping the Chinese Communists to conquer all of China. In commenting on this Tsiang pointed out that the Russians have violated their treaty of friendship and alliance with the Kuomintang Government. Whether the matter would be considered by the Assembly was left to the decision of a fourteen nation sub-committee.
