

Basketball Continues

Two more of the class basketball games have been recorded in the book. The sophomore-junior game was held on February 6, and the senior-freshman game on February 13. The first of these games was close all the way through; however, the Sophs held a lead of a few points throughout the whole game. Forwards Ann Sprinkle and Emily Warden with the help of Peggy Bonner and Sarah Clark sank the ball for a 24 to 18 point victory over the juniors. The latter team had a difficult time in breaking up the zone of defense of the sophomores, hence the juniors were forced to try a few of their long shots. In the first half many of them were completed successfully, but during the last of the game, both teams slowed down considerably, and few points were scored by either side.

In contrast to the preceding game the senior-freshman game was a one-sided affair. The freshmen had the seniors (pardon me for saying so, dear "Old Ladies") under control from the very first. The score at the end of the game was 44 to 27. Freshmen, we're impressed!

The freshmen forwards were "on" —all of them. Marian Lewis was high scorer, making 17 points; Joyce Whitehurst, second, making 14; and Carolyn Dobson, Jane Fearing, and Eleanor McGregor making a total of 13 all together. The freshmen guards were likewise doing their job well, keeping down the senior's score. Nevertheless the seniors did put up a struggle.

Check next weeks paper for the result of the game between the two undefeated, untied teams of the sophomores and freshmen.

Exclusive Exclusive!

Wednesday night the freshmen met the sophomores (both teams undefeated) and won the game 52-35.

Sis Reports

For Nell Phillipps, the man of the evening is Sonny Kleme. Nell will look dainty in white organdie sprinkled with red dots. The tight bodice is strapless and there are yards and yards of organdie in the full skirt.

It goes without saying that Sara Hamrick will be dating David Thompson come Saturday. Sara is planning to wear orchid faille trimmed with orchid flowers.

Lucy Harper's pink and blue changeable taffeta dress is full-skirted and bare-shouldered. Lucy will save most of her dances for Soup Porter.

We're sure that Charles Robinson will like the way that Kent Thompson looks in her white net dress. The top is lame-and-strapless.

Emma Sue Larkins has chosen aqua satin with a full skirt and big bows on the side. Her shoes match exactly. She'll enjoy dancing with Dalton Loftin.

Contest

Raynal and Mrs. Moran of Salem Academy, will make their selections on the basis of content and composition without any knowledge of the authors' identity.

Freshmen, who are particularly urged to enter, should have no qualms about competing with the upper classmen. Last year Jane Parker won a first prize for her essay "Frogs I Have Met". In the event, however, that no freshman wins first prize in the three stated groups a special prize will be awarded for the best freshman contribution.

Entries must be given to Lee Rosenbloom or placed in the basket in the Salemite office any time from February 18 'till March 30. The winner will be announced in the May 5 issue.
